

ORANGE ORDER IN CANADA

Enters Ninety-seventh Year—Met in Brockville on Jan. 1st, 1830.

The Orange Sentinel reviews as follows the events leading to the organization of the Grand Orange Lodge of British America at Brockville on January 1st, 1830:

The origin of the order in Canada is deeply veiled. It seems certain to have originated in the early days of the 19th century, as processions were contemplated in 1826, and from the fact that, according to the report of the first meeting of the Grand Orange Lodge of British America, held in Brockville on Jan. 1st, 1830, there were 13 county lodges, 25 district lodges, 103 primary lodges, and 11,242 members enrolled in the Order.

In November, 1829, there arrived in Montreal an Irishman named Ogle R. Gowan, native of County Wexford, who had, while a very young man, played a conspicuous part in the Grand Orange Lodge of Ireland and in the Benevolent and Loyal Orange Institution, the latter of which had been in existence from 1825 and 1828, during which time the Grand Orange Lodge of Ireland had gone out of existence, through the passage of what was known as the Algerine Act.

About the year 1825, an intelligent young man by the name of Arthur McClean, from Belturbet, County of Cavan, Ireland, settled in Brockville, then called Elizabethtown. He was a staunch Orangeman, and besides building up a large mercantile business he edited and printed a paper called "The Sentinel."

When Ogle R. Gowan set about to unite the Orange forces in Canada he had some difficulties, but in a few months he succeeded in organizing the Grand Lodge of British America, which held its first session in the town of Brockville on Jan. 1st, 1830.

The following was the number of Orangemen in the various counties in 1830: Dundas, 103; Grenville, 993; Leeds, 2,047; Carleton, 1,011; Lanark, 1,200; Frontenac, 801; Lennox and Addington, 84; Prince Edward, 111; Northumberland, 627; Durham, 1,950; York, 1,000; Simcoe, 801; and Halton, 1,117.

Under Lieut.-Col. Ogle R. Gowan, M.P., the order grew rapidly and lodges were formed all over Ontario.

The first warrants issued by the Grand Lodge of British America were for the organization of two primary lodges in Brockville. Old No. One which was formed about the same time as the Grand Lodge, and is still doing business, started with Bro. Arthur McClean as W. Master and twenty-two members.

The Ontario government by order in council on Monday appointed Thora T. Barnes, of Sault Ste. Marie, and Thomas T. Beattie, of Ottawa, member of the board of examiners in optometry.

A $26,000,000 Investment in Canadian Prosperity

With the dawn of the New Year, another momentous chapter in the annals of Canadian industry starts its unfolding as the Ford Motor Company of Canada Limited, takes over possession of the new $12,000,000 plant at Ford, Ontario.

Only a few thousand people will witness the first turning of the wheels and see the awakening of this great industrial giant; but the influence of that awakening will be felt in every city, town and village in Canada and in the far corners of the earth, for the Ford industry is wide as the British Empire.

In Canada, the Ford industry is a very intimate part of the national life. It provides a livelihood for some 30,000, Ford workers and their dependents. It gives total or partial employment to an equal number of workers in Canadian factories supplying it with goods.

The total Canadian Ford investment is now over $26,000,000—a huge investment based on an abiding faith in Canada's loyalty to Canadian industry—

Built to serve the transportation needs of Canada and the British possessions overseas.
