A VETERAN FARMER LIVES IN OSO TOWNSHIP

Plowed and Mowed With a Scythe Last Year—Held Various Offices.

One of the oldest pioneers in the person of William Crain, Clarendon station, of the township of OsO, in the county of Frontenac, was ninety-six years of age on the 12th of July, 1923. He was born in Ireland in the county of Sligo, in the province of Connaught. He came to Canada when twenty-three and settled as a farmer in the township of OsO where he still resides on the same old farm. He cooked in the lumber camps for a number of years. He was about the first man to be assessed and collector of the township, also secretary-treasurer of No. 6 school and held that position until a few years ago. He plowed and mowed with the scythe in 1923, is still able to take care of twenty-four head of cattle and split enough wood for the house. He is a Conservative, a member of the English church and an Orangeman for a number of years. He is able to read the smallest print without glasses. He has twenty-five grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Four sons live at Clarendon, James, John, George and Andrew.

TO LOVE IS DIVINE.

A Splendid Sermon from Rev. Trevor Davies, D.D.

About two hundred braved the storm, on Tuesday evening, and attended Sydenham street Methodist church for the purpose of hearing Rev. Dr. Trevor Davies, Toronto, give an address on the subject "The Christian Law of Love." During the three days that Dr. Davies has been in the city he has delivered four addresses which have gripped the hearts of all who have had the privilege of hearing him.

Dr. Davies chose for his text Romans XIII, 8, "Owe no man anything, save to love one another." Dr. Davies stated that we owe justice to one another but love is an altogether different thing, and law and love move in altogether different directions. The speaker reminded his hearers that before they could judge each other they must first love. We have other debts we can pay but there is one you cannot pay and that is to love one another. There were some people we do not like and cannot expect to like but we see in God how to deal with them, as far as the will is concerned.

From mothers' love we find the first reasons why we should love as an obligation, said the speaker. We should look favorably toward man as it was impossible to be just unless we are kind. Dr. Davies said that we can't know each other unless we love each other. Love is always finding new methods and forms of service. Love always makes our burdens light as air in a limited area. The speaker stated that to-day people are living in little circles and cliques and there was a barrier between people; we can never be just unless we have the spirit of love. Love is the most inventive thing in the world; love was always finding a new way of doing good. Love will find new opportunities of expressing itself.

Canon W. F. FitzGerald, St. Paul's Anglican church, assisted in the service. Miss Olive Woodman sang a solo and Mrs. W. M. Campbell presided at the organ.

These services will be held on Wednesday and Thursday evening. Rev. Dr. Malcolm Macgillivray, Chalmers' church, will assist in the service this evening.

SPLENDID PERFORMANCE.

Of "The Message of the Bluebird" Tuesday Evening.

Bigger and better than ever were both the house and the performance of "The Message of the Bluebird" on Tuesday evening at the Grand Opera House. The players had gained in confidence, and found they had the sympathy of the capacity house which gave them hearty rounds of applause. C. B. S. Harvey was simply great in his songs and in the scene where he gives a paternal blessing to his daughter "Marion" and "Marcel" her lover, "Jack" Elder, in highland costume, sang two of his popular Scotch songs between the acts. The soloists and the accompanists received bouquets, showing the appreciation of the audience. The boxes were filled with enthusiastic parties, and the ladies in charge of the candy were sold out long before the evening was over.

ST. JAMES' VESTRY MEETING

The Total Receipts From All Sources Last Year Were $9,583.16.

The annual vestry meeting of St. James' church was held on Tuesday evening. The meeting was presided by a supper served by the members of the Woman's Auxiliary, to which one hundred and forty of the congregation sat down. If the weather conditions had been different the hall would doubtless have been packed to capacity. At 7.15 the meeting was called to order by the rector, who stated that the first item of business was the election of a Synod delegate for the next three years. Francis King was elected. Our three delegates are therefore Francis King, K.C., G. E. Hague and W. H. Dalby.

The members were then asked to follow through the different reports contained in their year books. The rector referred briefly to the different points in connection with the notes. The wardens' financial statement was presented by G. E. Hague, the organ fund by W. H. Dalby, the envelope secretaries' report was presented by W. H. Dalby and R. T. Atkinson.

The reports being duly adopted, the election of officers for the ensuing year was proceeded with. The rector announced that G. E. Hague had agreed to act for another year in the capacity of rector's warden. Prof. L. T. Rutledge was elected people's warden. Four members retiring and Prof. Rutledge becoming warden, the following were elected to the Advisory Board, Fred C. Reid, Mrs. R. E. Genge, A. M. Stroud, W. A. G. Spriggs, S. C. Smith. The Board for the year with therefore consist of those already named, the synod delegates, ex-officio, W. J. Murray, honorary member, and B. J. Gilbert, T. H. Sargent, J. A. Scott, Miss I. G. chairman of sidesmen, with power to add any additional members to the committee.

The matter of planning for the raising of funds to reduce the church indebtedness on the parish hall was referred to the wardens and advisory board for action.

The estimates for the ensuing year as printed in the year book were then presented to the meeting and adopted. It was pointed out that called for an increased revenue in the current account of $500 and $163 in the building and loan fund. The rector urged that definite action should be taken at once to increase the envelope subscriptions sufficiently to meet these amounts. The matter was referred to the board for action.

The reports of the different organizations in the parish as printed in the year book were then presented to the meeting. Hearty votes of appreciation for services rendered were passed by the vestry.

A. J. Shannon, who was responsible for the business end of the year book presented a report concerning it, showing a balance on hand of $11.50. The vestry passed a vote of thanks to him for the service rendered to the congregation in printing the book. It was resolved that the balance should be placed to the credit of the magazine.

The rector asked the meeting to consider the advisability of a church attendance campaign with a view to creating a larger interest in the services during Lent, but no action was taken. He asked also whether it was felt that a larger number would appreciate more frequent lantern services on Sunday evenings. Though no resolution was put, it was evident that the majority of those present preferred to have them.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the ladies who had prepared the supper, to Mr. Lawson who had supplied the flowers with which the tables were decorated, and to Mr. and Mrs. Bateman for decorating the hall.

The total receipts from all sources during the year were $9,583.16. A message of greeting and cheer was sent from the vestry to Miss M. E. Rogers.
