WEST POINT TEAM PLAY R.M.C. HERE

Local Cadets Quickly Round- boys a hand. ing Into Shape-Play Queen's Saturday.

The R.M.C. hockey teams have been getting right down to business lately and are fast rounding into shape for their games against Playing Star Game on Defense Queen's. The Juniors meet Queen's Third on Saturday night after the K.C.I. Regiopolis game. This will open the Junior. Inter-Collegiate series. There will be quite a few new faces on the R.M.C. lineups this season. Gyles, a young Vancouver player, Tremaine, from Ashbury College, Osler, from T.C.S., Pannell, from Calgary, all are promising players on the junior team.

Something new for the hockey ager of the Bank of Toronto here fans will be the game against West Point which has been definitely ener. settled for the 16th of February. Last year the Cadets made the trip to West Point and won their game played for Queen's University here against the United States Military and with the Bank of Toronto team Academy Cadets; this year the In- of Toronto and the old champion ternational game is to take place at Queen's Arena.

Ray Marchand, well-known in Kingston hockey circles, is coaching the West Pointers and writes that he will have an excellent team to put into the game here. It will be well worth watching, for this game will be the first that the U.S.M.A. will have played on Canadian Carr-Harris, B. G., who had to undergo an operation at the beginning of the season, is in shape again.

TO-MORROW

Tomorrow evening at the Jock Harty Arena the third and last of the intermediate O.H.A. doubleheaders will hold the bills and a fine evening's entertainment is prom-The local fans not seen Cornwall and Queen's in action and, as the teams, on the season's showing, are fairly evenly matched, their battle should be a good one. Everything possible will be done by the management of the Arena to make the evening a good one for patrons and the fans should support this bill to the limit.

Frontenacs and Queen's have both been forced to give very heavy guaranteees to the visiting teams and will need a good house to carry them through. An intermediate double header of any sort is an attraction that would pack the house in almos any other city in Ontario.

Both local intermediate teams have tried to give the fans what they wanted this year. A Kingston intermediate team was wanted and the little band of players gave it to them. A certain style of hockey was called for by the fans and the Queen's intermediates gave it to them-and gave them plenty. Now it is up to the fans to see the boys through the season and to give them every encouragement and support.

FROM THE OUTSIDE-LOOKING IN.

Local fans are getting rather impatient to see the fast Circle-Six junior O.H.A. team in action once more and will weicome the next game of the youngsters. They have been practising faithfully and have high hopes of capturing the local group honors.

Canadian hockey fans should not forget-when reading the scores of Olympic hockey matches—that hockey is a comparatively strange game to many of the competing nations and that Canada, were she entered in some of their sports, would probably be as badly outclassed. For instance, how many Canadian javelin throwers have we?

But we are here to say that it will be a grand and glorious feeling if Bill Hewitt's crowd can hand out a stiff licking to the hordes of Haddock, otherwise known as the U.S. Olympic team.

From the look of the weather this winter we think that it might tion of new courses at less cost, as, have been wiser had the curlers this season confined their activities the quoits game which started last fall. It would have saved a lot labor trying to make rinks and would have insured sport every night in

Whereupon we can imagine several gentlemen of Scotch descent and weights to obtain data upon snorting in disgust at such a suggestion—better one game of the "roarin" sport" than a dozen games of quoits.

Many boxing fans would like to see another contest between Gardiner and Tkachyk before either of the boys is sent to represent Queen's in the Intercollegiate assault. The bout of the other evening was hardly decisive enough to be fair to either of them.

When the West Point Cadets play R.M.C. here about February 11th, home games last fall totalled 148,it will be a great time to see what Ray Marchand has done with the Am- 112, as against 160,457 for the five ricans this year. R.M.C. won at West Point last season.

McGRAW BOLSTERING PITCHING STRENGTH

Glants to Add Three Minor Leaguers to Their List of Twirlers.

John McGraw has selected three of the ripest plums in the minor league orchard to bolster up his pitching staff of the 1924 National league campaign.

The signing of Harry Baldwin of Newark, Wayland Dean of Louisville and Joe Bradshaw of Tolèdo, all leading minor league twirlers, is a fulfillment of John McGraw's promise to overhaul the gears in his pitching department following its disastrous collapse in the 1923 world's series.

Spurred on by Cincinnati's activities, in bolstering up its twirling staff. McGraw has combed his sources of supply, supplanting age with youth wherever possible and sacrificing present ability for future promise.

The release of "Long John Scott from Giant pitching circles was one of McGraw's other steps in rejuvenating his stair. There is a strong possibility that two or three of the other Giant veterans may find themselves on waiver list.

It appears certain now that Arthur Nehf, Hugh McQuillan and Jack Bentley will survive the spring pruning and possibly "Rosy" Ryan and Johnny Watston, but the latter two will have to produce, McGraw as-

Clinton Blume, the former Colgate university star, may forsake the diamond for business. This young ster, who keenly attracted McGraw's fancy, is now back at Colgate taking a post-graduate course and is talking of quitting major league baseball for a business career.

WILL GET LESS DISTANCE WITH LATEST GOLF BALL

A new golf ball, weighing approximately 1.55 ounces, avoirdupois, with a diameter of 1.66 inches, which would have shorter carrying capacity than the 1.62-1.62 ball now used, will be recommended to the United States Golf Association by the committee of experts headed by Secretary Lee of the association, which returned from a week of tests at Jekyl Island, Ga.

The lighter and larger ball would obviate extension of old courses to a length of approximately 7,000 yards, which would be necessary to develop the sort of game the ball now used requires, and enable construcobviously, less area would be needed for a shorter course.

Mr. Lee and five others, all handi cap players, were sent to Jekyl Is land by the association to spend a week testing balls of various sizes which the association's executive committee could decide upon proportions to adopt officially.
