SERIOUS STATEMENTS MADE BY BROCKVILLE

Claim Bad Treatment in Game at Belleville—No Bouquets for Laflamme.

The Brockville Recorder and Times says:

From the account of Brockville spectators at the game, some thirty-five in number, the management and players of the local team are rightly handed out in arms at the Belleville players, officials and spectators, and it is not unlikely that Brockville is through with the O.H.A. forever.

The Belleville despatch (via Canadian Press) does not add that Guest and Kinghorn, Brockville's wing men are patients in the General Hospital here, the former with three broken ribs and the latter with his left shoulder dislocated as the result of unsportsmanlike attacks in the second period when Brockville was leading by 2 goals to 0. "Bouncer" Holway, defence player, is under a physician's care with a cut under the right eye as well as injuries in the abdomen, received at the end of the first period, which kept him out of the game for the second twenty minutes of play; Higgins has a cut in the jaw, and is badly battered up, and Miller is hardly able to walk with a dislocated knee.

Every Brockville player had it over the Belleville exponents of the game like a tent in the first period, Kinghorn went through alone for the first counter and Guest scored the next on a pass from Kinghorn. To the credit of the Belleville players it must be said that they tried to play hockey in the first period, but when it was seen by players and spectators alike that they were facing defeat they quit playing hockey and started in to cut the Brockville players down. "Bouncer" Holway was the first to fall, being prodded in the stomach by a stick in the hands of Bill Green behind the Belleville nets and after being sandwiched by Green and Pinkie, Holway had to be carried from the ice. He was unable to return during the second period. The loss of Holway necessitated the return of his brother "Toots," to the defence with Bert Kinghorn went to centre to replace "Toots," Holway, Guest to right wing and Higgins to left wing for the start of the second period.

The second period had only been in progress five minutes when Brockville was showing the best form when Green cross-checked Kinghorn dislocating the latter's shoulder and leaving the marks of his stick on the flesh. Dr. Robertson, Belleville, who gave Kinghorn attention there stated to Brockville officials that he never saw such a brutal attack in hockey. Miller went on for Kinghorn and still Belleville could not win, so Dr. "Jerry" Laflamme, Toronto, the referee, took a hand in the game and started to impose penalties on the Brockvilles. With Higgins and Guest off, Belleville scored twice and shot again, the puck striking the goal post. The Toronto official, who according to Herbert Dillon, the Brockville goal judge, had to skate into the corner of the Belleville rink in order to get the puck, declared that a goal had been scored and made the teams face off in centre ice. And by the way the O.H.A. countenances such actions, as spectators at the Belleville-Frontenac game in Kingston a few days ago will bear witness when "Bill" Cummins, another Queen City referee, gave Belleville that game.

"Bouncer" Holway returned to the ice for the last period in which there

HOCKEY DOUBLEHEADER Intermediate O.H.A.

Cornwall at Queen's Brockville at Frontenacs

Jock Hartly Arena Friday, February 1st, at 7.15 p.m.

Give the Boys some encouragement.

was no score made by either teams. The hickory was wielded in great shape by all of the Belleville players, spurred on by the frenzied spectators who feared their hockey team was about to be defeated.

Belleville need never fear defeat so long as the O.H.A. allows such tactics as the Belleville team adopted. Teams can win championships in more ways than by playing clean hockey and the sooner such teams as Cornwall, Queen's, Frontenacs and Brockville, all of whom have suffered bodily injuries while trying to play hockey as it should be played endeavoring to defeat Belleville legitimately, cut away from the O.H.A. the better for hockey in this part of Ontario.

ANOTHER DOUBLEHEADER AT THE ARENA TO-NIGHT

Cornwall vs. Queen's and Brockville vs. Frontenacs.

This evening at the Jock Hartly Arena the third and last intermediate O.H.A. doubleheader of the season will be offered for the entertainment of the fans. Cornwall and Queen's will meet in the first game of the evening and Frontenacs and Brockville in the second.

The local teams and their supporters think it is about time they climbed into the winning column before hanging up their skates and gloves and both the local squads are going out this evening with that end in view.

Queen's have captured one victory so far and have tied one game. Frontenacs have played two ties but have no wins in the scoring columns and are out to take one at Brockville's expense this evening. They expect to put out a stronger team than at any other time this season and will try hard to win this evening and to eventually better the record of Queen's for the year's work, which means that they must defeat Queen's in the next local fixture.

Queen's should slip one over on Cornwall this evening. Since their last meeting with the Factory Town boys they have run Belleville close and have defeated Brockville and there is no reason why they should not get the jump on the Cornwall six. But they will have to keep hustling to do it.

There is a possibility that a local referee may be agreed on by the teams concerned.

CITY STAFF SATURDAY

The city league supporters scarcely need to be invited to the doubleheader at the Arena to-morrow evening in which St. Mary's meet Live Wires and the R.C.A. play the Circle Six. It is so long since city league fans have had a look at their favorites that they will be keenly interested in to-morrow's games and the popular two-bit admission is also an attraction which brings results.

The city league has been handing out good hockey this year and will continue to do so. To-morrow night's battles are going to be good. Don't miss them.

CONACHER'S SERVICES MAY BE ASKED BY BOSTON

Mayor Curley, of Boston, is after Lionel Conacher to be physical instructor in the Boston public school, according to a special from that city to the Toronto Telegram. "Conny" is now attending Bellefonte Academy, and plays defence on a Pittsburgh hockey team. The mayor also saw him in action when the "big train" played hockey with Aura Lee and visited Boston. The special quoted the mayor as saying: "Boston is seeking an all round director for the public schools. Why look further or in other words, what's the matter with Conacher?" The mayor then points to Conacher's many accomplishments in athletics—rugby, baseball, lacrosse, boxing and wrestling. The name "big train" seems to have applied quite as much to Conny at Bellefonte as when he played with Argonauts. He is so good in baseball, the mayor declared, that the manager of the Boston Red Sox had made overtures to him. He has also recently won victories in 100 and 200 yard dashes. He weighs 194 pounds, and is six feet 1 1/2 inches.

BORG, SWEDISH SWIMMER, BREAKS ONE-MILE RECORD

At Sydney, N.S.W., Arne Borg of Sweden broke the world's record for one mile Wednesday, swimming the distance in 22 minutes 34 seconds. The previous world's records for the one mile swim have been, for open water, 23 minutes 30 4-5 seconds, held by Frank Beaurepaire of Australia, and for the tank, 22 minutes 39 1-5 seconds, held by Norval Ross of Chicago.

Next Boy Wonder. Who will be the next boy wonder in tennis? Vincent Richards, though still youthful, has passed on beyond the boy-wonder stage and the setting is all arranged for the appearance of another phenom.

FROM THE OUTSIDE—LOOKING IN.

The suggestion from Brockville of an Eastern Ontario Hockey Association, to break away from the O.H.A., sounds fairly good. The game needs rejuvenation in this section of the province and under the present jurisdiction there seems to be little headway made. The suggested new body could affiliate with the C.A.H.A. and run its own show.

Broken ribs, black eyes and other things are claimed by the Brockville authorities as the result of the last game with Brockville intermediates. If memory serve right, though, Brockville used to be quite a formidable place for a visiting team, also.

The Olympic games as we understand it, are designed primarily to promote better feeling between the nations of the world and to bring them together through the bond of competition in sport. Yet we find that when a Finn skier almost killed himself and comrades of his team went to his aid, other nations protested at the action. We also find the Americans protesting on the Canadian hockey rules and Canadians being barred from practice. So far the British and Canadian teams are the only ones who have not protested. We join with the Ottawa man who hopes that the Canadians will trounce President Haddock's U.S. team to a frazzle if they meet in the playoff games. We go even further and hope that the British team eliminates the crowd that learned its hockey from Canada and is now trying to run the show.

There are two double-headers on the books for hockey fans this weekend. An intermediate O.H.A. double-header is offered this evening and a city league double-header to-morrow evening. Give them the ice and the encouragement and they'll supply the hockey.

FIVE CLEVELANDERS WITH BOSTON CLUB

Quinn Seems to Be Leading Trader of Major Leagues.

Cleveland, Feb. 1.—The trading of one unassisted triple play hero for another and the passing of Catcher Steve O'Neill, the last surviving member of the Cleveland Indians of 1911, were features of the seven-player trade made by the Cleveland and Boston American League clubs. It was the largest baseball deal in which Cleveland has figured since Tris Speaker came to the Indians in 1916, and strangely enough that trade was made between the same two clubs.

The trading of Willis Wambagans, second baseman, who has the distinction of making the only unassisted triple play in a world's series game, for George Burns, first baseman, who pulled the same stunt in a game against Cleveland last season came as no surprise. This deal has been "in the air" since early in the fall.

Incidentally, Wambagans almost figured in the deal which brought Tris Speaker to Cleveland. At that time Boston was to have the pick of an infielder, and Lee Fohl, then manager of the Indians but now holding a similar position with the Red Sox, kept him on the bench and used Fred Thomas during the training season. Boston is thought to have fallen for the fat and selected Thomas, who failed to last, while "Wamby" remained the star of the Indians.

Besides strengthening the Indians at their weakest position, first base, the deal will give Cleveland the greatest wrecking crew it ever had, with six sluggers who last season batted better than .300 leading off. These are: Charlie Jameson, lf, .345; Homer Summa, rf, .328; Speaker, cf, .380; Joe Sewell, ss, .353; Riggs Stephenson, 2b, .319; and Burns, 1b, .328.

The trading of O'Neill created a sensation among the local fans, with whom he was a favorite. He had given Cleveland some of the best catching it has ever had. His passing, it is believed, will put the burden of receiving in 1924 on Luke Sewell and Glenn Myatt, with chances favoring the former.

The conqueror wins because he fights on after all seems lost.

YOUNG LADY BETTER SHOT THAN THE MEN STUDENTS

The best rifle shot on the boys' team of West Virginia University is a girl!

And her name is Dorothy Snyder, age 19, a junior in the college of arts and science.

In a recent elimination test Miss Snyder not only qualified for the boys' varsity squad but led the whole competing field with a perfect score.

She is the only girl on the squad and the first girl ever to qualify for a position on a masculine team in the history of the university.

West Virginia will meet the leading universities of the country at the traps this year and Miss Snyder is expected to hold her own with the best of them.

Only Twelve

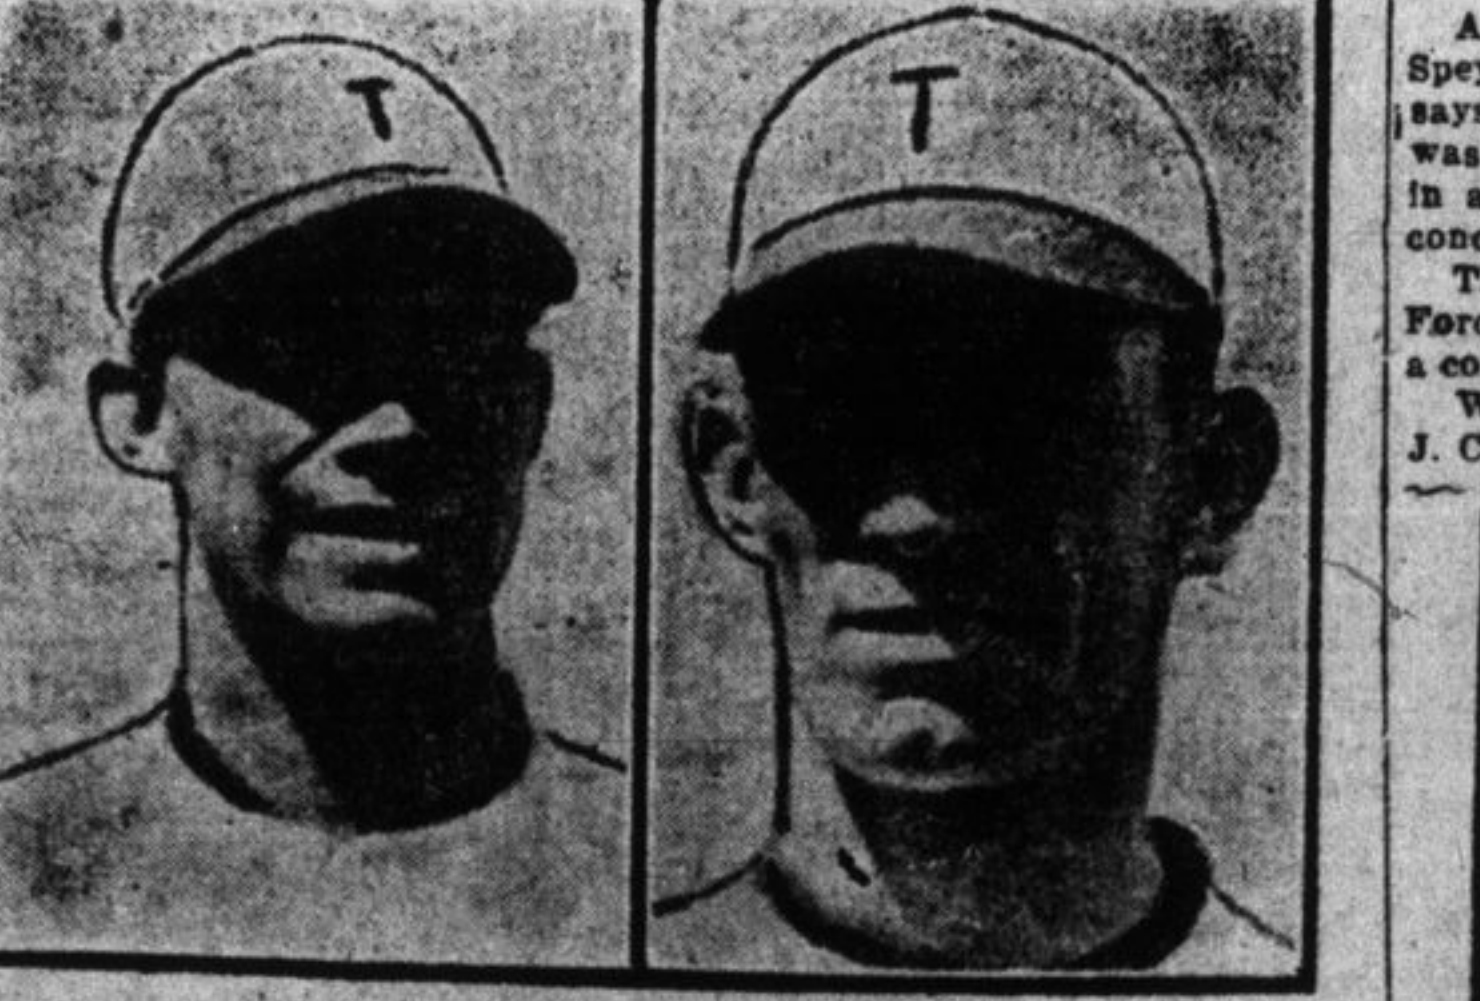

According to the London Advertiser, Babe Dye gets $4,000 from St. Pats for playing hockey this season and will receive $3,000 for playing baseball with Buffalo next summer. And no person wishes more than the Babe that the figures were correct. Dye's salary with St. Pats is not more than half of the figure quoted, and there is some doubt as to its reaching that much. With Buffalo, he will get close to $3,000 for the season. It is true, which means that with his combined baseball and hockey salaries, professional sport is proving profitable for the Toronto lad. George Vesina, the goal-keeper for Canadians, is rated higher in Braintreets than any other professional athlete in Canada. The Chicago athletic cucumber is credited with being worth $200,000. He owns the biggest part of the main street in Chicoutimi and owns a timber limit three miles square. But he needs to be wealthy, for he is the father of 12 children, despite the fact that he is but 35 years of age. Vesina does not have to depend on hockey for a living, but he loves the game and Monsieur Dandurand will find it hard to fill his place if the capitalist decided to retire.—Hamilton Spectator.

McTIGUE MUST FIGHT FOR JACOBS, FORMER MANAGER

Mike McTigue, world light heavyweight champion, who believed he was free of all contract obligations after purchasing his release recently from Joe Jacobs, his former manager, now finds that he is still obliged to fulfill conditions imposed under that agreement, including matches with Gene Tunney, Tom Gibbons and Ad Stone.

Jacobs had signed with Tex Rickard for fights with Gibbons and Tunney and for a match with Stone, the "fighting marine," at Philadelphia. McTigue, it was said, would carry his latest fiscal dilemma to the state athletic commission for an interpretation.

THE GONZALEZ BROTHERS, Ramon, left, and Eusebio, right, alias Pat and Mike, will probably be playing each other in the International League this season. Pat is with the Toronto Leafs; Mike, last year with Waterbury, in the Eastern League, is likely to play for Rochester.

CHICAGO COACH SAYS HE HAS LADY CHAMP "The champion all-round girl athlete of the world," declares Tom Eck, famous track coach of the University of Chicago. And he is talking about a little, smiling, black-eyed high school girl who is not yet 16 years old. She is Helen Filkey, daughter of a Chicago building contractor. Four world's records and three American records make up her imposing achievement to date. She was born March 18th, 1908. "She is the only person, girl or boy, who ever made a world's record or won an athletic championship at her age," says Eck, who is her trainer. "This coming season, outdoor and indoor, ought to bring some great performances from her. She expects to break every record she now holds and to add a few more to her list." Helen's greatest single day was on Labor Day last fall at the A. A. U. national outdoor meet in Chicago, when she broke two records. She made 16 feet 6 3/8 inches in the broad jump, a world's record for girls, and made the 100-yard dash in 11.9 seconds, a new American record for girls. Then, with only a 12-minute rest between events, she entered the 75-yard high hurdles and finished second in 11 3/5 seconds. In the running high jump she finished fourth, going 4 feet 8 inches. "To show she was a better hurdler than the girl who defeated her," says Eck, "Helen ran a trial against time at another meet last fall. She went 75 yards over six hurdles in 10.6 seconds, breaking the record by one second. "In an exhibition at Washington Park here she threw a two-pound discus 76 feet 3 inches and threw the girl's javelin 87 feet 9 inches, the latter being the best American throw, although it does not stand as a record. She also made 8 feet 1 1/2 inches in the standing broad jump without dumbbells. "At an earlier meet here, staged by the Illinois Athletic Club, she won the 50-yard dash, and in winning the 60-yard high hurdle race set a pace of 8 4/5 seconds, equalling the world's record. The same day she broke the world's 60-yard low hurdle record in 8 2/5 seconds." Helen Filkey was a delicate child until she was about 11 years old. Her mother took her to California for a year then, and she began her remarkable physical development by playing on the beach and taking athletic training. At 16 she looms up as the world's greatest athlete.

COOMBS, COSTLY INFIELDER, TO BE SCOTT'S UNDERSTUDY New York, Feb. 1.—Earle Coombs, recently obtained by the New York Yankees from the Louisville Colonels for $50,000 will be used by Miller Huggins as an understudy for Everett Scott, according to a communication received from Huggins by Secretary Ed. Barrow. Huggins, who now is wintering at St. Petersburg, Fla., believes he has a real find in Coombs and intends to give him every chance to break into major league company this year.

No Person Trimmed. Ever hear of a baseball midget involved in a big deal falling to admit to the world that he got the best of the transaction. Bob Quinn, president of the Boston Red Sox denies that he got the better of E. S. Barnard, president of the Cleveland Indians, in the recent player exchange between these two clubs. "I wasn't out to swindle Barnard and he wasn't out to swindle me," Quinn stated, "and as a result we put over a deal that was mutually advantageous to us both."

Boston traded George Burns, Chick Fewster and Al Walters for Bill Wambagans, Steve O'Neill, Dan Boone and Joe Connolly.

The federal by-election in Richelieu county, Quebec, made necessary by the appointment of the present member, Hon. P. J. A. Cardin to a cabinet post, will take place on March 12th next. Nominations will close on February 27th.
