A SHORTAGE OF POWER TO STOP EXTENSIONS

Utilities Commission Unable to Meet Request Outside City Limits for Lighting.

In view of the shortage of power, the members of the Civic Utilities Commission, at their meeting Monday afternoon, took no action on the request of Thomas Joyce and seven others, for an extension of the electrical line on Division street, outside the city limits. The commission would like very much to meet the wishes of the petitioners so that they could secure lighting for their homes, but as there is such a shortage of power, with no prospects of more power, the members could not see their way clear to make the extension asked for, which would cover the area from St. Mary's cemetery to the railway crossing.

H. C. Nickle drew the attention of the commission to the great lack of power and stated that if the city was to undertake supplying people outside of the city, that some agreement would have to be entered into. He moved that no action be taken on the request and his motion was carried.

Manager C. C. Folger drew the attention of the commission to the fact that something would have to be done to reinforce the street railway equipment at the power plant. H. C. Nickle withdrew from the meeting while the matter was under discussion, owing to his connection with the street railway.

It was pointed out that owing to a shortage of power, the street railway had been forced to curtail its service. Mr. Folger said that just recently the sum of $750 had to be expended in making repairs to the motor generating set. Tenders have been asked for a new motor generating set and these tenders will be opened and classified by the manager and presented to the commission at its next meeting.

The question of group insurance for employees of the commission was brought up but no action was taken. The commission will meet the expenses incurred by Mr. Cobb, Charles street, whose wife and children suffered recently as a result of gas escaping in their home.

The commission will speed up the work on the new offices. Mr. Nickle brought up the matter and stated that there was no need for the commission to be paying fifteen per cent on what he termed "tail-end jobs." The contractors will be given until Saturday and then what work covered by the contracts is not completed will be done by the commission and deducted from the contracts.

The manager was given power to purchase a carload of poles. He has received a good offer.

The recent purchase of lamps for the new offices was confirmed.

In connection with the installation of a brass plate in the new offices.

Len Power, who directs animal comedies in the movies, regarded as the cleverest in their field, has just called his company of "actors" together to go over the working script for a thrilling scene ices, the thanks of the commission will be extended to Anthony Rankin, M.P.P., and Mr. Townsend, who were instrumental in having the plate installed. Mr. Townsend is manager of the Frontenac Floor and Wall Tile Company the product of this company manufactured from Feldspar secured in Frontenac county being used in the building.

No action was taken on the letter from the Trades and Labor Council, complaining about the Collingwood Shipbuilding company having valve and service boxes manufactured in Belleville. The Trades Council asked that this work be done in Kingston, but it was pointed out that no person in Kingston desired to turn out this work and that there was no alternative but to go outside to have the work done.

Tenders were awarded for a supply of wire and cable to the Eugene Phillips Company, Brockville, lead to McKelvey & Birch and pipe to Elliott Bros., the tenders in each case being the lowest.

The chairman, R. N. F. McFarlane presided at the meeting and the other members present were Mayor Angrove, H. C. Nickle, H. W. Newman and James Harris.

Following the meeting the members of the commission made an inspection of the new offices.

1905. The Garratt family is noted for their longevity, due, probably to their temperate habits. Deceased was a life long member of the Society of Friends. He was unable to attend Friends' meeting during the past five years, nevertheless, his mind was active, and his mental faculties were good to the end. Unable to read in recent months, he enjoyed having his daughter Anna read the news of the day. He appreciated the visits of his friends and neighbors, and now that he has passed on, many in the neighborhood will miss him. Three sons and two daughters survive. Willett is in Washington State, Lewis at Moose Jaw, William at Tulsa, Okla. His daughter Anna was his constant companion and his daughter Helen has been at home in recent months. His brother William Henry, who also lives in Washington, is the last of that family of nine. Hugh Garratt, great-grandfather of John Garratt, originally came from Belfast, Ireland, and settled in Duchesne county, New York. His sons, Isaac and Benjamin, came to Canada and located here. William Garratt, father of John Garratt, was a son of Isaac Garratt.

AN INTERESTING PROBLEM

Is Raised in Connection With Tenders for Utilities Commission.

If the Civic Utilities Commission should call for tenders for a certain kind of pipe required and a tender received from an old country firm would save the city upwards of $1,000, should the old country firm be given the preference over Canadian-made goods?

This is a problem the Civic Utilities Commission here will have to face, for at the meeting of the commission on Monday afternoon, Manager Folger stated that he had been given figures by an old country firm and they showed that the commission could make a saving of $10 per ton.

The chairman, R.N.F. McFarlane, pointed out that the commission was operating the plant for the citizens and if there could be a saving made, as has been pointed out, it was a question that would have to be decided.

Mayor Angrove and H. C. Nickle made it quite plain that they would be in favor of giving the contract to a Canadian firm, in order to keep the money in Canada and to give employment to the people in this country.

Mr. Nickle stated that in dealing with such tenders the policy of the commission should be "Lowest tender not necessarily accepted."

However, the matter raised a very interesting point and one which will have to be decided upon.

It's astonishing how much time can be wasted in nonsensical wishing.

Most of us can remember how easy it is to part with good resolutions.

THE LATE JOHN GARRETT.
Was the Oldest Inhabitant of Village of Wellington.

John Garratt, the oldest inhabitant in Wellington, died at his residence on Main street on Sunday night, March 2nd. He was just two weeks short of being 96 years of age. Deceased was a son of William Garratt and Patience Bull and a grandson of Isaac Garratt, one of the original pioneers in this locality about the year 1795. John Garratt was born on the farm just east of the village, on March 16th, 1828, and lived all his life there, until he retired and moved into the village about 20 years ago. He married Martha Jane Dorland in 1865, and she died in
