A WOMAN OF PARIS
Edna Purviance

Written and Directed by CHARLES CHAPLIN

"You Wouldn't Understand"
said the erstwhile village girl whom Fate has turned into a woman of Paris when the richest bachelor in the world's gayest city pointed to her glittering gems, asking, "What more do you want? You have everything."

She Had Butterfly Luxury
but all the while her woman's heart craved real love with the man of whom Fate had robbed her, a real home, her man's children. For these she was willing to give all—her gorgeous gowns and gleaming jewels.

An Intense Human Drama

PRICES: Evenings . . . 35c.-25c. Children . . . 15c. Plus tax.
Matinees: Adults 25c. Children 15c. Plus tax.

What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

CHAPLIN'S PICTURE
BLAZES NEW TRAIL
Predictions are being made that the screening of Charles Chaplin's own story in "A Woman of Paris," starring Edna Purviance, will stand forth in motion picture history as an epochal event that will exert a strong influence on the present day photo-drama.

The entire story and production, conceived and produced by this master cinema genius promises to reveal a treatment of a vital problem, presented with extreme simplicity yet with an unbounded psychological force that will blaze a new trail along the highway of motion picture progress.

The theme is a startling one, and made the more so because of the utter simplicity and warmth of feeling that permeates it. It presents a problem dealing with the basic and fundamentals of life, commenting upon it in interesting fashion rather than attempting to solve it.

While the story is of life as studied by Charles Chaplin, it is no wise deals with the life of Chaplin but with the lives of others as seen by him. And as in actual life, there is comedy, tragedy, passion, absurdity, melodrama, farce, emotionalism, cynicism—all these Chaplin has combined as ingredients of life in "A Woman of Paris." At the same time he has woven an exquisite tapestry portraying the sincerity of a woman's soul in all its nakedness though clothed in its individuality.

Dealing with lives and types that he knows, Chaplin brings to the screen his first contribution to the serious drama a story as old as that of Adam and Eve yet presented with such convincing understanding and treatment that it will be a revelation in the art of photo-dramatics.

"A Woman of Paris" will be presented at the Grand Opera House for four days, commencing tomorrow, with a matinee daily, being the first Charles Chaplin production to be released through United Artists Corporation, the combined organization of the foremost stars and producers of the motion picture industry, Mary Pickford, Charles Chaplin, Douglas Fairbanks and D. W. Griffith.

"SCARAMOUCHE" MAKES A BIG IMPRESSION AT THE CAPITOL
"Scaramouche" the long heralded masterpiece of film work, is now at the Capitol Theatre and will remain there until Thursday evening. It is everything that critics have claimed for it—and Ramon Navarro is quite a lot more. In the leading part of Andre-Louis Moreau, Navarro is little short of wonderful and he is prominent in the action from title-piece to fade-out. It is said that Valentino had been first intended for the part. Whoever deemed otherwise is to be congratulated. The "he-vamp" would have spoiled it. He has only one type and is good only when he sticks to it.

In support of Navarro is a strong cast. Alice Terry is the beautiful "Aline." Lewis Stone takes the part of the Marquis de la Tour, the haughty gentleman of France and other notable figures of screen-dom round it out.

It is the old, old story of the French Revolution told in a new and very attractive way. It gives the "aristocrats" a little fairer show and allows that there are some of them all right. It is the most amusing part of all these stories that they select a son of the very highest blood for the hero and the champion of the people, almost invariably. But that does not hurt the story anyway and in "Scaramouche" it helps it.

It certainly is a great picture. All are agreed on that. It plays this evening.

"CHASTITY" AT STRAND
Katherine MacDonald, reigning queen of beauty in screen-dom, opened at the Strand Theatre yesterday to a capacity house in "Chastity," the most noteworthy photograph in which she has ever appeared. A tale of a footlight star, her life and loves behind the scenes, the pathos, humor and tragedy that makes up her life, "Chastity" will provide you with an evening of rare entertainment.

Junior Literary Society.
The regular meeting of the K.C.I. Junior Literary Society was held in the K.C.I. assembly hall on Thursday, March 6th, at three o'clock. The meeting opened with the singing of "O Canada." Following this the president, Frank Dunn, gave a few remarks. The secretary, Miss Helen Mayhew, then read the minutes of the previous meeting.

Following this came the chief number on the programme in the form of a debate by forms 2A and 2D, the subject being "Resolved That More Benefit and Pleasure is Derived From Books Than From Travel." 2D, the affirmative, was supported by Kenneth Pickering and Miss K. Somner. 2A, the negative, was supported by Misses Dorothy Burns and Mildred Caughey. The judges were Miss Violet Anglin and Messrs. John V. Mills and A. E. Johnston, all of fifth form. While the judges were deciding, the Junior Literary Society orchestra gave some very good selections. The judges, who had returned, then gave their decision in favor of the negative, 2A; and of course, the 2A stars gave their well-known yell. E. Vandywalker, one of Kingston's best pianists, gave a few piano selections, which were well applauded.

Hon. George P. Graham, minister of railways, is acting prime minister.

'DUMBELLS' AT GRAND
Second Edition of "Cheerio" Scores Big Success—Final Presentation To-night.

Shows may come and shows may go, but the "Dumbells," with Capt. Plunkett, Al Plunkett, Ross Hamilton, Jack Grace, Ben Allen, Jack Hagan "Teddy" Treener (our own Kingston boy) and the rest of the cast will, like Tennyson's "Brook" on forever, provided the company continues to give to the public an entertainment of the type provided in the Second Edition of "Cheerio," as presented at the Grand on Monday night.

The overseas boys were given another grand reception and the programme well deserved the warm applause bestowed on the various artists. From start to finish there is not one dull moment. As with all other shows put on by the "Dumbells," this production goes over with a swing and dash that is most pleasing. It is something well worth while. It is a show that sends an audience home feeling happy and satisfied and this is what counts.

There are more than a score of new musical numbers in this Second Edition of "Cheerio," and about as many new acts and for one to stay away simply because they attended "Cheerio" last season, would be folly. True, a few of the old hits, "The Disorderly Room" and Al Plunkett's song-scene, "Shuffling" have been retained, but by special request, and one cannot get too much of a good thing. The orchestra has a number of new novelties, "Comin' Through the Rye" is given a most amusing version.

Ross Hamilton has lost none of his charm and it is safe to say that his gowns made the ladies "sit up and take notice." His two outstanding numbers are "Flirting" and "Life of A Rose."

Al Plunkett is strong on girl songs and in this new production makes a big hit. Al puts the very best into his songs and carries his audience through every line. Special mention should be made of two of his songs, "She Must Be A Wonderful Girl" and "Everybody Slips A Little."

Round after round of applause greeted Pat Rafferty. He is a good comedian and kept his audience in roars of laughter in "Then You'll Remember" and "Tony, the Swiss Mountaineer."

Maek Sennett has nothing on the "Dumbells" bathing beauties. They come on in a lively song by Morley Plunkett and put it over in fine style. Bert Wilkinson's work as a female impersonator is good. One of the best features of the entire show is "Think O' That," in which seven "cops" of the comic opera type, give a "sing-song" regarding their achievements. Jack Lougheed's whistling solos and Gordon Calder's Scotch songs are gems of the programme. Jack Hagan shows himself to be a finished comedian and his bit went over big. His war song, "Wait For Me," was most pleasing. Stan Bennett is another good comedian who captivated his audience. He got off a good line, while his song, "But Yet, I Don't Know" is clever.

"Teddy" Treener was given a great ovation. He played a saxophone in the orchestra and was at the piano for the Ross Hamilton's song, "Flirting" for which he composed the music.

Jack Grace, Ben Allen and Jim Foley are as good as ever and put over some good patter. They appeared in "A Chinese Seance" and made good. Everyone is still laughing over Ben Allen's song, "A Sole Mio."

The programme is brimful of good things—a programme that rounds out a most enjoyable entertainment. The big show will be given its final presentation to-night and no doubt the Grand will be filled to capacity.

OBITUARY

The Late R. A. Morrison.
The funeral of the late Robert A. Morrison, a former resident of Cataract, who died at Lakeland, Florida, on Monday, March 3rd, took place at Cataract cemetery on Monday afternoon. Rev. G. Sisco, pastor of the Cataract Methodist church, conducted the service. The pall bearers were: N. Caverly, W. P. Peters, Austin Peters, John Gilbert, John B. Bunt, John Simpson and R. H. Curran.

The deceased, who was sixty-eight years of age, had lived in Cataract for nineteen years, having moved to Florida four years ago. The late Mr. Morrison was one of the best known bee men in the province, and he was also greatly interested in the growing of apples. During the time that he spent at Cataract he grew some wonderful apples. While living in Florida, Mr. Morrison was interested in fruit growing.

The deceased is survived by his wife, three sons, G. E. Morrison, photographer, Kingston; L. C. Morrison, Lakeland, Florida; and W. A. Morrison, New York City; and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Gibson, Kingston, and Mrs. Thomas Gibson, Portage la Prairie.

Late Mrs. Matilda Bennett.
The funeral of the late Mrs. Matilda Bennett took place from the residence of her son, Alexander Bennett, Pine street, on Monday afternoon at Cataract cemetery, in charge of John Cornelius. The pallbearers were, John McCabe, Clarence Young, Richard Grimshaw, Henry Bearance, Thomas Allison, and Andrew Bennett. The last services were conducted by the Rev. J. de Pencier Wright.

The deceased lady was born in Ireland, in the county Mayo, in 1846, and came to this country when but four years old, arriving at Kingston and living here all her lifetime. She had been ill for some time. Mrs. Bennett was an Anglican and attended St. Luke's Church. Two sons survive, Alexander, of Kingston, and Robert, of Toronto, and two daughters, Matilda, at home and Mrs. George Sheriff, Bay City, Mich.

Late George Fremantle.
George Edwin Fremantle passed away yesterday at his residence, 89 Abbott street, Brockville, at the age of forty-three years. He was widely known throughout the district and originally came from near Odessa. The funeral will take place from the C.N.R. outer station on Wednesday on the arrival of the 1:47 train, to Cataract cemetery, in charge of John Cornelius.

Late B. J. R. Norris.
Word was received in the city on Tuesday morning of the death in Toronto of B. J. R. Norris, a former Kingstonian, who died on Monday. The deceased had lived in Toronto for the past twenty years. W. H. Norris, a brother, and Miss Ida Garbutt, a niece of the deceased, left on Tuesday noon for Toronto to attend the funeral. The late Mr. Norris was well known in Kingston and had been a commercial traveller all his life.

Y. M. C. A. SUPPER SESSION.

Rev. J. S. LaFlair Gives An Address on Monday Evening.
The supper session at the Y. M. C. A. Monday evening was presided over by Dr. A. E. Knapp, and the men present were privileged to listen to an excellent address by Rev. J. S. LaFlair, of First Baptist Church. The speaker dwelt in a helpful and refreshing way with "The Common Place Things of Life" and also referred to the importance of the ordinary man, and what his faithfulness in his little sphere of life meant to the whole of society. The speaker referred to "The House by the Side of the Road," and the answer to that poem which pleaded for a chance to walk in the road with the race of men sharing their burdens and their joys, and giving a boost whenever opportunity afforded. "We might not be brilliant lights ourselves but we can at least be tapers that may light a flame in some other life that may shine with a brilliance far surpassing anything we may dream of in the realm of service."

Solos were sung by Master George Ashby.

The chairman announced a foreign work meeting to be held around the supper table next Thursday night when a visit will be made by Frank Brockman, national secretary of the "Y" in Korea for the past fourteen years. Accompanying him will be T. E. Patton of the "Y" National Council, and J. A. Machado, president of the Canadian Bank Note Company, Ottawa, who has visited the foreign fields. The foreign work party will also attend the meeting of the Student Volunteer Band at Queen's University, where Mr. Brockman will also speak.

Call for "Dumbells" Tickets.
Those who have ordered tickets for the "Dumbells" performance at the Grand for to-night should call for them by 6 p.m. or they may be placed on sale.

DEED.

SPORT

K. C. I. Accepts Challenge.
The Ottawa Collegiate Institute girls' basketball team has challenged the Kingston Collegiate Institute team for a game in Ottawa on Saturday next. When it was learned that the Ottawa girls would like a game, the K.C.I. girls notified them that they would accept the challenge providing home-and-home games were played. This arrangement was satisfactory, and the first game will be played on Saturday next. The K.C.I. girls will go to Ottawa, minus the services of one of their best defence players, but hope to make a very creditable showing.

Just recently K.C.I. girls defeated Queen's and McGill Intercollegiate teams at Queen's gymnasium, but when they challenged "Varsity" girls, who won the Intercollegiate honors, for a contest the Toronto students graciously refused to play.

INDOOR BASEBALL FINAL
ALL READY FOR TO-NIGHT
This evening the Armouries will be the scene of the final game of the Garrison Indoor Baseball League, when Frontenac Regiment and No. 3 Battery, R.C.A., will meet. In the final series of games each team has won two and every battle has been closely fought.

The performance this evening starts at eight o'clock and it is expected that General Elmaley, G.O.C., M.D. No. 3, will be present to hand over the trophy to the winners. It will be a great battle throughout and the outcome is a toss-up. No admission fee has been charged for the games this season, but a silver collection will be taken up to-night to aid the expenses of the league.

About Same Size.
Those hockey fans who have been in the Holt rink, R.M.C., and who did not get to the Trenton game when Circle Six and Peterboro played off, may get an idea of the Trenton arena from the cadets' ice surface. The rinks are the same size and of the same construction, having been built from aeroplane hangars.

Hockey Results:
Intermediate O.H.A. Final—Peterboro beat Niagara Falls 5-4, but lost out on the round 7-6.
Senior O.H.A. final—Hamilton defeated Stratford 3-1 and won the championship 4-2.
Junior O.H.A. semi-final—Kitchen-ber beat Hamilton 5-4 and will meet Owen Sound in the final.

A Good Shot.
Jack McKay, son of George B. McKay, formerly manager of the local branch of the Bank of Toronto, is playing for the Kitchener Junior O.H.A. team; which will meet Owen Sound in the final. Goalkeeper Smith of the Greys, will find young McKay's shots plenty hard enough to handle.
