RIVER SCHEME NOT FAVORED

Much Opposition Expressed in House of Commons.

POWER IS GREAT NEED

Of Eastern Ontario—Premier King Promises Thorough Investigation.

Ottawa, March 25.—Initiated by Joseph Archambault, Liberal member for Chamby-Vercheres, a discussion on the St. Lawrence waterway route and the establishment of dams on the St. Lawrence took place in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon. Most of the members who took part in the debate expressed their opposition to the proposed scheme, notably E. C. St. Perre, Liberal member for Hochelaga, who stated that he spoke for all public bodies and the people of Montreal. A notable feature of the debate was the opposition expressed by John Millar, Progressive member for Qu'Appelle, who questioned the claim that water-routing to the sea would effect any saving in the carrying costs of western grain. Mr. Millar stated that slowness of travel through canal systems was a factor against their economy, and that insurance rates would be higher on vessels forced to traverse a great length of canal mileage. He urged caution and full investigation. The following Liberal members, J. E. Poyntaine, Hull; Frank Cahill, Pontiac, and E. A. Laperriere, Nipissing, all opposed the St. Lawrence development. They all favored the Georgian Bay canal scheme, while Mr. Cahill feared the final loss of her rights by Canada should she enter into a deal with a larger power, such as the United States. Even territorial rights might be jeopardized, he urged, which had been the history of areas traversed by international canals.

Eastern Ontario Wants Power.

Three Conservative members spoke. Hon. Dr. Manion, Fort William; A. E. Ross, Kingston, and Sir Henry Drayton. Both Dr. Manion and Mr. Ross favored the St. Lawrence development, while Sir Henry Drayton was non-committal. Dr. A. E. Ross (Conservative, Kingston) said the problem of Eastern Ontario was not navigation, but power. Power was urgently needed and the province of Ontario was ready to provide it, without cost to any other government, if given the opportunity. The danger to the lake levels through diversion of water from the Upper Lakes was serious and, if diversion continued, widespread epidemics were probable.

Premier Sums Up.

The prime minister, in summing up the debate, spoke as follows: "I think I can say all that is to be said on behalf of the Government on this motion in a few minutes. The motion is entirely in accord with the Government's own policy of getting as much information before proceeding in any official way with this great project, and also of having the public as fully informed as possible on all the aspects and bearings of the question. Mr. Archambault, who has introduced the resolution, has spoken very emphatically of the many important considerations which this country should take into account before concluding any treaty as far-reaching as a treaty relating to the deepening of the St. Lawrence waterways would be. Mr. Cahill, who has just taken his seat, has made mention of one consideration, namely, the international complications that may arise at any time, which also helps to illustrate how important it is that every aspect and possible bearing on the question should be fully considered before anything in the nature of finality is submitted to Parliament or is accepted by the Government. It has been for that purpose that the Government has decided to appoint a national committee to advise the Government on just such matters as have been referred to by hon. members who have spoken. The Government recognized that this is perhaps as large an undertaking as the country has ever been called upon to consider, and our whole point of view is that there should be an inquiry by a national committee of outstanding citizens of this country, in whom the public at large would have confidence, and to whom the Government may look for careful, thoughtful advice in regard to the different aspects of the question.

Expert Board. "The Government has agreed to refer to an enlarged joint engineering board just such questions as Mr. Archambault has mentioned, namely, the practicability of the scheme, its cost, and particularly the effect upon the river levels. That will be an expert technical board that will report on that particular phase. The Government has also appointed a small inter-departmental committee, composed of officers of the Departments of Railways and Canals, Marine and Fisheries, Public Works, Interior, Trade and Commerce and Finance, to assemble such information as is contained in the departments of the Government, and also to go carefully into this project from the point of view of the knowledge which Government officials have in regard to it. These are all steps in the nature of caution, and if anything more is needed, it will be found in my announcement the other day that the Government would not think for a moment of committing the country to any project as great as this, involving so much for both the present and the future, as this project does, without first submitting the whole matter to Parliament for its consideration."

A number of men proceeding to Canada under a scheme of assured farm work are also aboard.

POSTAL EMPLOYEES REPORTED SATISFIED

Conference With Hon. C. Stewart Had Good Result—No Threat of Strike.

Ottawa, March 25.—The grievance of the postal clerks from the loss of their cost of living bonus which they have been bringing before the prime minister and members of the government for the last week, is now in a fair way of being satisfied as a result of a meeting between their representatives and the acting postmaster-general, Hon. Charles Stewart, yesterday afternoon. At the conclusion of the audience Mr. Stewart stated that the delegation seemed satisfied with what the government is doing. The conclusion he drew from the discussion was that the postal clerks would be content if the salary revision announced by the prime minister were put through without delay. There were two or three minor matters upon which representations were made which remained to be settled. Mr. Stewart said that no threat of a strike of the postal clerks had been made to him, and he was taking no steps in anticipation of such a development.

TWENTY-ONE BILLS PASSED

In the Ontario Legislature at Monday's Session.

NICKEL MINE PROFITS

The Reduction of That Tax Was Opposed By Hon. Manning Doherty.

Toronto, March 24.—Twenty-one bills were given third reading in the legislature yesterday, and are ready for the statute books. These included bills to establish a separate ministry of health; to appoint a legislative secretary for Northern Ontario; to license saw, pulp, and paper mills; to prevent bonusing of industries by municipalities; and to amend the mining tax act. The others were private bills and minor amendments to statutes. The mining tax bill was the only one bringing forth discussion. This bill, which reduces the tax on nickel mine profits to the same basis as that of other mines, was opposed by Hon. Manning Doherty, who stated that as there were no profits from nickel mines to tax now he thought the bill could wait. He could see no need for a change when nothing was to be gained. Hon. Charles McCrea, minister of mines, explained that the war had provided the great markets for nickel. Now the nickel miners were trying to find markets in the industrial world, and the reduction of the tax would assist in securing a greater interest. The bill was passed. Second reading was given a bill allowing cities to lower business taxes—on downtown lots used as parking spaces. A bill providing that counties shall take over cemeteries where the owners are unknown also passed second reading. The act amending the pharmacy act making matriculation standing necessary for entrance to the school of pharmacy, and giving the pharmacy council greater power in dealing with those of their profession infringing the narcotic drug and Ontario Temperance Act, also passed second reading.

SPRING HAS ARRIVED IN WESTERN CANADA

Manitoba Farmers Putting in Wheat and Golfers Going to Links. Winnipeg, March 25.—Seeding and golf have opened their 1924 seasons in Manitoba. Abram Buhler, a farmer near Plum Coulee, has made a start at putting in his wheat. Scores of Winnipeg golfers made their way to the Links Sunday, and for the most part found the courses in fair condition. Practically all the snow has gone. March has upheld the reputation of the entire winter for mildness and dryness. The average temperature in Winnipeg for the month to this date is 24 degrees, which is 7.1 higher than the average of March for sixteen years, and not once has the thermometer descended to zero. This condition is representative of Western Canada generally. The total precipitation of rain and snow as registered in Winnipeg from November 1st, 1923, to March 23rd, is only 2.05 inches, as compared with an average of 4.95 over a period of 47 years. The inches represent moisture, ten inches of snow counting as one inch of rain. Meantime there is a reported budding, the birds are coming back, only shore ice is left in the Assiniboine, the Winnipeg police have discarded their fur and thousands of motor cars are being taken from their winter storage.

London, March 25.—"So far as my long parliamentary experience goes, there is very little evidence of any general public desire to abolish the death sentence," declared Home Secretary Henderson to a deputation, to-day, urging the abolition of capital punishment. Mr. Henderson's dictum was a surprise to the deputation which had felt encouraged in its appeal by the fact that in his short term of office he had exercised his prerogative of clemency in more than one case. Fresh outbreak of foot and mouth disease in United States.

HOME BANK DAY IS SET

House of Commons to Discuss Resolutions Thursday.

INDUSTRIAL PROBLEMS

Twenty-Six Separate Bills For Branch Lines Programme of the C.N.R.

Ottawa, March 25.—By designation of the prime minister Thursday of this week is set apart as a sort of "Home Bank field day" for parliament. In the Commons yesterday afternoon Mr. King stated that on that day he would give right of way to the resolution of William Irvine (Labor, Calgary), which provides: "That, in the opinion of this house, a parliamentary committee should be appointed immediately to investigate the Home Bank failure, with a view to preventing any weaknesses in the Bank Act which may be amended to prevent a similar occurrence; to devise some means of protecting depositors generally, and to make recommendations as to the possibility of saving the Home Bank depositors from loss."

Industrial Problems.

The emergence of the world over industrial problems as peculiarly acute in national and international importance has not left Canada unaffected, and her parliament shortly may be obliged to recognize the fact. That much was admitted in the Commons last night when the prime minister, accepting a resolution by J. S. Woodsworth (Labor, Winnipeg, Centre) which called for the appointment of a parliamentary committee on industrial matters, suggested that there might be called into activity a new committee, to be known as that on "Industrial and International Problems."

C.N.R. Branch Line Bills.

Hon. G. P. Graham, minister of railways, intends to bring down twenty-six separate bills for the branch lines programme of the Canadian National Railways. Last year they were all covered in one bill, which was rejected by the senate. By bringing down a separate bill for each line, there will be an opportunity for parliament to discriminate between the different branch lines, if so desired. In all bills, it is intimated, the three-year provision of last year will be included.

EX-CONVICT WILL FIGHT

Against Extradition—Russell Graves Makes This Decision. CLAIMS HE HAD RIGHT TO LEAVE THE UNITED STATES WHEN PAROLED AS HE IS A CANADIAN CITIZEN.

Russell Graves, alias Russell Moulten, who was re-arrested after being released from the Portsmouth penitentiary, and who is wanted in the State of Michigan, will fight extradition. He made this known on Tuesday morning when he met the marshal sent here from Detroit, Mich., to take him back across the border and asked for a lawyer to take up his case. An interesting point has been raised in connection with the case and it is now a question as to whether the accused will go back to the States. It appears that the prisoner was arrested in Michigan and given a sentence of from one to five years and that after serving a year he was allowed out on parole. Some time later he came to Canada, got into some trouble and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. He is a Canadian and a native of Toronto. Graves claims he finished his term across the border and as a Canadian he holds that he had a right to come over to his own country. He is not at all willing to go back to the States, where he is charged with violating his parole. The marshal, who was sent here from Michigan, was at the police station on Tuesday morning, with United States Consul F. S. S. Johnson and had a consultation with the accused.
