OBITUARY

Late John McCallum.
A life-long resident of the district passed away on Wednesday in the person of John McCallum, who died at his brother's residence at Sunbury at the age of eighty-four years. Mr. McCallum was the second last survivor of a family of ten, only his brother, Thomas McCallum, remaining. He had lived at Sunbury all his life as was widely known. The funeral will take place from his brother's residence on Friday to Sand Hill cemetery.

Late Isabella Counter.
Isabella Counter, daughter of the late George Counter, passed away in the General Hospital on Wednesday at the age of eighty years. The deceased lady was well known to many of the older generation of the city and her passing will be regretted. The funeral took place Thursday afternoon at four o'clock from R. J. Reid's undertaking parlors to Cataraqui cemetery. Rev. T. W. Savary conducted the last services.

AMERICANS PURCHASE LAND AT DEVIL LAKE

And Will Erect Summer Cottages—The District Is a Fishing Paradise.

An evidence that many American citizens intend to spend their summer vacations in the vicinity of the lakes in the county of Frontenac is shown in the number of real estate deals which have taken place recently. On Thursday morning it was learned that considerable land in the vicinity of Devil Lake had been bought and it was the intention of the Americans who have purchased the property to erect cottages to be used this coming summer.

Some of those who have purchased property have fished on the lakes in the county and have been so taken up with the good angling that they have got others interested, with the result that real estate deals have been closed.

Devil Lake is located in the township of Bedford and is either reached by road or by the Canadian National Railway. It is about seven miles from Perth Road and runs from Tett's Mills, which are close to the village of Newboro. Devil Lake is noted for salmon and bass fishing.

For years a number of Americans have been spending their summer months in that vicinity. A number of log houses have been turned into summer homes, and there are homes on some of the islands.

Buck Lake is about two miles closer to Perth Road than Devil Lake, and is looked upon as being one of the best fishing locations in the county. On several occasions the Loughboro township council has received requests from Americans who were anxious to get locations in Buck Lake, but land cannot be purchased so readily.

Kingston Petition in Behalf Of Murderer Sidney Murrell

An Ottawa despatch late Wednesday afternoon said: "A petition, largely signed by residents of Kingston and district, asking for a reprieve of the death sentence on Sidney E. Murrell, whose execution is set for tomorrow at London, Ont., was to-day forwarded to the minister of justice. The petition was circulated by W. H. Compton, of Kingston, a former magistrate, who for years has been opposed to capital punishment and the inflicting of the death sentence."

Attended Toronto Banquet.
While in Toronto on Monday evening, L. E. Palmer, local manager of A. Martin Ltd., attended a banquet at the King Edward hotel in honor of J. A. Nelson, president of the retail stores of the company. Mr. Nelson was presented with a beautiful gold watch by A. McAnslan on behalf of the managers, of whom about seventy-five were present.

PROF. SANDWELL SPEAKS.

Before the Royal Arch Masons' Chapter at Belleville, Belleville, Ontario.

One of the most remarkable addresses ever delivered in Belleville was that given on Tuesday night by Prof. F. K. Sandwell, head of the department of English literature at Queen's University, at the annual "English" night of Quinte Friendship Chapter, Royal Arch Masons. Prof. Sandwell is easily one of the most gifted "after-dinner" speakers in Ontario. His irresistible humor, his pungent wit and his mildly satirical sallies at the expense of his fellow-countrymen brought forth volleys of laughter and applause from the thoroughly amused and delighted audience.

The address was one of those extraordinary efforts that must be heard to be appreciated and any reproduction in cold type would give it only a sadly distorted impression.

He divided the English, from the physical characteristics, into two classes, the big, blonde type and the smaller sized, dark type. The former class made up the lauded gentry, the aristocracy—in brief, the men who had ruled and dominated England—until within the last few years. The small, dark class had now come to rule England and was composed of the industrialists and workers.

The four outstanding characteristics of the Englishman, according to Prof. Sandwell, were his passion for privacy, his respect for property, his external modesty combined with internal pride and his extreme sensitiveness. The development of his theme along these lines gave the speaker rare opportunity for the expression of his genius for humor, wit, and satire.

A tremendous outburst of cheering and applause marked the conclusion of the address.

Vessels Will Not Leave For Another Week Yet

It is not expected that any of the lake steamers will be ready to leave their winter quarters for about a week or ten days. For the past few weeks the engine crews of most of the steamers have been working on the machinery, but in most cases the forward crews have not arrived and are not expected until the first of next week at the earliest. Local mechanics are working overtime so as to have the steamers ready to leave for the upper lakes as soon as the Welland canal is open.

Tickets for "Messiah," Tickets for the "Messiah," Grant Hall, are now on sale at Best's Drug Store. The store is open during the evening and the plan of seats may be seen at any time.
