GANANOQUE

April 15.—With several playing over the golf course yesterday afternoon and at least one gay picnic party enjoying a run on the river in a motor launch and afterwards luncheon at one of the summer homes, the immediate advent of summer seemed to be a foregone conclusion. Mrs. W. T. Sampson left Sunday afternoon for Montreal, called there by the illness of her sister, Mrs. S. McKee. Mrs. McKee underwent a serious operation Monday morning, but it is pleasing news to know that same was successful, and that her condition was reported as very favorable.

Leslie Smith and Henry Richardson motored down from Kingston Sunday afternoon and spent the evening here with friends. Considerable interest surrounds the erection of the new Christ church rectory, which it is now thought will be built to face on Princess street since this site appears more desirable than Church street site which was the original consideration.

W. W. Squire, now with the Monarch Battery Company, Kingston, motored down and spent Sunday here at his home. Misses Vera Boyle and Miss Belac of the Kingston Hotel Dieu staff were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Boyle, Sunday.

The yacht club met yesterday afternoon for the purpose of authorizing the sale of the club house to Miss Edwards, and to wind up the company.

Mrs. Albert Saue has left for Buffalo, where she will join Mr. Saue, who has been there for some time, and make her future home. Mrs. Saue will be much missed by a large circle of friends and in St. John's church where she was one of the most active workers.

The Easter ball at the Canoe Club next Monday evening is being eagerly anticipated after the long Lenten season. There will be the usual large number from out of town judging from the replies.

Miss Mary Jeroy of the Hotel Dieu staff spent Sunday here with her parents. The condition of Dr. Leonard, father of Mrs. E. S. Byers, who is ill in the Kingston General Hospital, is reported as very serious.

Clifford Sine's Knights of Honor Class, who assisted in the service at Queen street Methodist church, Kingston, last Sunday evening was very well received there and made a very favorable impression. Not only was the singing enjoyed, but Prof. Harry Thomas' playing, who well sustained the reputation he has gained as an organist. Mayor Wilson, with his characteristic anxiety to extend the helping hand, assisted in the transportation of the members of the class to the Limestone City.

WILLIAM S. DETLOR, NAPANEE, DIED MONDAY

Deceased Was Aged Eighty-Seven—For Over Fifty Years a Druggist.

Napanee, April 15.—An old and respected citizen in the person of William Spencer Detlor, passed over to the majority last night, in his eighty-seventh year. The deceased had been in the enjoyment of fair health until a week ago Sunday when he suffered from a slight form of paralysis, from which he never recovered, but it resulted in his death about 6 o'clock yesterday evening.

Mr. Detlor was twice married, his first wife being Mrs. Sarah Trumppour, Adolphustown, by whom he had one son, who died fifteen years ago and the wife died ten years ago. Nine years ago he married Mrs. Deming, of Napanee, who survives him. William Spencer Detlor was born in the township of Fredericksburg eighty-seven years ago and had been a life-long resident of this county, most of the time being spent in the town of Napanee. For upwards of fifty years he conducted a drug store business here, with success, until he retired in 1902, when the present occupant of the premises, F. L. Hooper, acquired the business.

Since his retirement, Mr. Detlor, who was an ardent horticulturist and horticulturist, had ample time and scope for the indulgence of his passion for the beautiful in nature, in these branches, in the extensive and charming grounds surrounding his home on Bridge street.

He is survived by two brothers, Byard Detlor, who is a farmer living near Preston, and Edmond Detlor, who resides at Grass Lake, Mich. He was predeceased by his sister, Miss Martha, just two weeks ago, and she was buried at Sydenham.

The deceased never took a prominent part in politics, but in the long-ago he was an intimate friend of the late Sir John A. Macdonald. In speaking of one unfortunate episode in the career of that great statesman, he told of the time when Sir John was unseated in this riding and that he (Mr. Detlor) was the only man to walk down street, from the court house with him—all his party friends had forsaken him.

The funeral, which is private, will take place from his late residence, Bridge street, at 2.30 p.m. on Thursday. Religious services will be conducted by Rev. Rural Dean J. H. H. Coleman, M.A.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. H. Travers, of Walkerville, Ont., son-in-law and daughter, are with Mrs. Detlor in her bereavement.

NEW WORD IS WIDELY ADOPTED

Leading Cigarette Manufacturer Coins "Buyword"—Also Conducts Cash Prize Contests.

It is stated on the very best of authority that the latest edition of the Standard Dictionary will contain many new and strange words, associated with both fact and theory.

Strangest of all words, however, is one which has been coined and made familiar to the Canadian reading public by the manufacturer of Strollers cigarettes.

By means of wide-spread newspaper publicity of the phrase "Just Say Gimme," this progressive Canadian industry has popularized a selling slogan which probably carries a good-will valuation running into millions of dollars.

"Just Say Gimme," the Strollers "buyword," is probably the most spoken phrase in Canada to-day. Constant repetition in the leading newspapers from coast to coast has made it one of the famous advertising slogans of Canada.

During the recent Strollers contest, which comes to a close with the appearance of the large contest sheet advertisement in this paper, the words "Just Say Gimme" have been spoken tens of thousands of times alone.

Hundreds and hundreds of people have been saving pictures of movie stars which are inserted in packages of Strollers and with the climax of days, the mails will be loaded with sheets bearing "the answer to the clues" directed to the office of the Tobacco Products Corporation of Canada Limited, at Hamilton, Ontario.

The judging of the sheets in this cash prize contest will take place immediately, at the Head Office of "Strollers" and announcement of the winners will be made in this paper at an early date.

LEASES HIS WIFE.

To Her Lover for Five Years at $20 a Year.

Vienna, April 14.—(By Mail)—A man who leased his wife to her lover narrowly escaped lynching at the hands of the women of Kischeneff, Roumania.

George Glouceac, to show his contempt for his unfaithful wife, drew up an agreement by which he leased her to Victor Eheluta for five years at an annual rent of $20 with an option of renewal. When the lease expired she was to be returned if not wanted.

Witnesses who signed this deed revealed the terms, and Glouceac's house was surrounded by crowds of angry women. He fled from the town.

Belleville Church Anniversary.

Belleville, April 15.—The congregation of the Bridge street Methodist church on Sunday commemorated the 106th anniversary of its establishment in this city. Rev. H. S. Osborne, B.A., B.D., pastor of the Central Methodist church, Toronto, was the preacher of the day. He was pastor of the church from 1912 to 1916.

Many a man's head is full of emptiness.

MAXSON FOXHALL JUDILL

Our inquisitive reporter yesterday asked this question of five people chosen at random:

"What invention, according to your view, would contribute a maximum of happiness to the well-known human race?"

H. B. Warbruck, Mailman: "A gag for people who go around asking fool questions."

Mrs. Charles Brown, housewife: "A fire-less cook."

Marian Francis, dressmaker: "Well, hardly, but I understand skirts will be much shorter this spring."

Louise Elliott, milliner: "Now don't you get sarcastic, young man."

A. W. O. L. "Who belongs to de army of de Lawd?" shouted the colored preacher.

A man in the back seat jumped up and said: "I does."

"To what branch ob de army do you belong?"

"To de Baptist."

"Get out, yo' don't belong to de army, yo' belong to de-navy."

—Buster Keaton.

Justice. He stole a glance, a glove, a kiss, her heart;

Was caught and sentenced: "Thill death do you part."

—Horace Liveright.

Taken In. I begged she open up her heart,

And take in love and me;

For she was sweet, divine, petite,

And gowned so charmingly.

But now, alas, in later years!

I find to my chagrin,

That love and I have cause to sigh—

We both were taken in.

—Clare M. Carberry.

He had just kissed her. No wonder she felt a little down on the mouth.

Quality.

(By Mary Cullen.)

Dorothy Stuyvesant Letterbury, blushing delicately, in filmy wedding gown, came daintily down the aisle, her gossamer veil floating like mist about her head.

At the altar she stubbed her toe on a potted lily.

Said she to the minister: "That's a deuce of a place for a lily!"

Passing Fair. A man met a fair maiden,

A beautiful miss was she.

He said: To kiss this maiden

Would be pure joy to me.

He did.

He grew to know this maiden.

In fact, he fell in love,

He said: To wed this maiden

Is what I'm thinking of.

He did.

Once married to this maiden

She nagged his very breath.

He said: I think this maiden

Will worry me to death.

She did.

—C. M. Long.

His Concern. He: "I hope, darling, that your father isn't anxious about your future?"

She: "Oh, no! It's about yours."

—Doris Bary.
