CAUSED A SENSATION IN COOKE'S CHURCH

Two Members Protested Against the Pastor Preaching on Church Union.

At the morning service in Cooke's church on Sunday, two of the members took exception to some of the statements which Rev. T. J. S. Ferguson, the pastor, made about church union, and rose in their seats and expressed their views.

Mr. Ferguson had commenced his Easter message, and during the course of his remarks he switched to the question of church union in which he is very interested. He made reference to the fact that the members of the Presbyterian church who are opposed to church union had circulated cards and asked for the signatures of those who were in accord with the wording thereon.

The remarks which Mr. Ferguson made in connection with this question did not appeal to one of the elders of the church and he rose to his feet and stated that the pastor's remarks were not according to facts, and that he did not think Easter morning was the time to discuss church union.

After this elder had spoken, a lady who had been a member of the church for many years, expressed her disapproval of the minister talking in view of the fact that all the members of the congregation were not in accord with the union idea.

She remarked that it might be well if the minister would call a meeting during the week and give "this stuff" to those who wanted to listen to it and so that those who do not want to hear it would not have to listen to it.

Mr. Ferguson, after listening to the protests, replied that if he had said anything that had given offence to anyone he was sorry. He said he could not but speak the truth as the spirit of God prompted him whether it be Sunday or Saturday. "We are in our Father's House," he said. "Let us all gather together about His feet." He then continued his sermon.

Service At Y. M. C. A.

The Sunday morning class service at the Y. M. C. A. took the form of a father and son service and the attendance was large. Rev. Mr. Saunders, pastor of Calvary Congregational church, gave an address and dealt in a most interesting manner, with the duty of the father towards his boy. E. Madrand had charge of the special programme of music. The president of the class, Jack Reid, presided. Fine selections were given by an orchestra composed of H. Ackerly, A. Hendry, L. Davis, A. Cliff, F. Neilson, D. Simpson, a violin duet by Shibley Neilson and D. Simpson, also a solo by Arthur Andrews. There was a very large turnout of the fathers and directors of the "Y."

Cooke's Choir at Rockwood.

On Sunday a number of the members of Cooke's choir visited the Rockwood hospital and conducted the musical part of the service. Rev. Dr. R. H.
