THE TOWNSHIP AUDIT NOT YET COMPLETED

Reeve Graham Does Not Know When Cataragui Meeting Will Be Held.

It is expected that when A. H. Muir, auditor makes his report on the condition in which he found the finances of the township of Kingston he will have considerable to say about the year 1920.

William Cordukes, deputy reeve of the township, who with another country resident audited the books for 1920, informed the Whig on Friday morning that when the report was submitted to the township council there had been a written statement given with the report of the audit to the effect that it was impossible to give a correct audit in view of the fact that the collector's roll for 1920, which was being used by H. S. McIver, the tax collector for that year, had not been turned over. The collector's roll which Mr. Cordukes refers to was only recently turned over to Mr. Muir.

On Friday afternoon, C. J. Graham, reeve of Kingston township, when asked if the public meeting for the hearing of the auditor's report would be held next Thursday, stated that he did not know as he was not sure when the auditor would be ready.

Reeve Graham said that the regular meeting of the council would be held on Monday morning next, but nothing would be said at this meeting as the auditor was not ready to report.

On Thursday afternoon Reeve Graham and William Cordukes were with the auditor for a considerable time.

The tax payers of the township are well pleased over the fact that the Whig was given all the details available regarding the reported shortage in the funds of the township.

PRESENTS TWO PLAYS

The St. James Dramatic Club Scores a Success on Friday Evening.

A large and enthusiastic audience filled St. James' hall on Thursday when the very excellent Dramatic Club of the parish presented two short plays with a finish which places the actors far above the rank of beginners. The costumes and staging were also good and the whole performance enjoyable. The farce, "Snooks versus Fozzie," was most amusing and the sad case of Mr. Snooks, who falls to find a wife to suit him among the ladies procured for him by Mr. Fozzie, the manager of a matrimonial bureau, and sues him for the $5 he paid down, was admirably presented by the lady lawyers. Those filling the various parts were Miss Bureau, Mrs. F. Partridge, Mrs. T. W. Savary, Miss I. McCormack, Mr. W. J. Keeley and Mr. H. Parker, Mr. Sidney Smith, Mr. Albert Stroud, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dalby, Mrs. L. A. Foster, Mrs. H. Horton, Miss May Sharpe, Miss Marjorie Holland, Mrs. H. Parker, Miss Gladys Arniel, Miss Alma Graham, Miss Edna Dawson, Mrs. J. Sharpe, Miss Mackenzie and the widow's children, Misses Edith Andrews, Marjorie Ferris, Violet Horton, Edith Sharpe, Betty Stroud and Max Stroud, Donald McCaig, Kenneth Foster, Sol Bernstein and Graham Horton.

The second play was "The Heiress of Glendon Hall," with Mrs. T. W. Savary in the leading role of "Vivien," and splendidly she took her part. Mrs. Foster was "Granny" and Miss Bureau "Miss Prim," the schoolmistress tormented by a merry lot of school girls, every one of whom took their part splendidly, were all excellent. Miss Doris Smith as "Kit," Miss Marjorie Holland as "Charlie," Mrs. N. Robinson in the part of "Sylvia," who turns out to be the lost heiress, and Miss Gladys Arniel as "Flora" were all good and made lots of fun. The witch who foretold evil days and yet brought everything out right in the end, was Mrs. F. Partridge. Miss Edna Dawson was the aunt and Miss Irene McCormack "Mrs. Wentworth." Mrs. Horton as "Phoebe," and Mrs. J. Sharpe as the Irish maid, took their parts well. Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Horton sang between the acts and Miss Arniel played the piano accompaniments. Master Storms played his violin very well.

The proceeds were for the organ fund. In the absence from the city of Rev. T. W. Savary, Prof. Routledge acted as chairman.

Driver Receives $25 From Justice Department

William Porter, driver for Burns' the baker, was presented with a cheque for $25 by the department of justice for his act in notifying the officials at the Portsmouth penitentiary that he saw a convict at large. About one month ago when Mr. Porter was on the road between Kingston and Cataragui, he noticed a convict escaping from the prison gang which was working on the farm. He notified the prison officials and the convict was later located at Cataragui and returned to the institution.

PATRONIZE MERCHANTS OF YOUR HOME TOWN

Stacey's Limited is Putting on A Mail Order Comparison Sale.

Why buy out of town when the same, and in many cases better, values are to be had right in good old Kingston? The hundreds of thousands of dollars which leave this city every year are one of the biggest knocks and one of the biggest drawbacks known of. It is all very well to read the pretty catalogues, admire the picture galleries and take in all that is said about quality and cheapness, etc. But how many will admit that when they received the ordered article it was according to the representation in the catalogue? Many of these same people are receiving the means of their sustenance either directly or indirectly through the local merchants. Are these merchants not entitled to their support?

It might be well to bear in mind also that money once spent outside the city rarely comes back to it. These mail-order houses contribute nothing towards the upkeep of our educational institutions, nor is the city benefited in any way by the huge expenditure by its citizens in outside mail order houses.

To prove conclusively that they carry the best and most up-to-date drygoods in all lines, the well-known Stacey firm, Princess street, is putting on a mail order comparison sale, which will begin on Saturday, May 3rd, and continue through the whole of next week. The upper floor of the Stacey store has as complete a line of ready-to-wear and millinery as can be found anywhere, while the general drygoods and dress accessories on the main floor leave no room for complaint. The basement contains everything necessary in housefurnishings, such as rugs, linoleums, floor oils, etc. All these goods are to be marked down to a bargain sale basis, and attractively displayed on the counters throughout the Stacey store. Those who come in from the country for the sale will have their fare remitted to them. Just drop into this splendid store and compare the values openly displayed with those of the haunting mail-order house catalogue.

Every Kingston business firm is deserving of the citizens' heartfelt support.

OBITUARY

Late Mrs. William Cannem.

Mrs. William Cannem, one of Kingston's oldest and most respected residents, passed away Friday morning, at her son's residence, 69 Bagot street. Deceased, who was eighty-six years of age, had been ill for the past year. She was widow of the late William Cannem who died six years ago. Those who mourn are two sons and two daughters, Mrs. A. G. Turner, Ottawa; Mrs. Fred Hardwick, Albert Cannem, Guelph; and Walter Cannem, Kingston. The funeral, which is in charge of the James Reid firm, will take place on Monday afternoon, at Cataragui cemetery, Rev. F. Sanders, of Calvary Congregational church, officiating.

FOOTBALL STATUSES.

Presented to Queen's Champions For Their Good Work.

Some time ago the Athletic Board of Queen's, the Alma Mater Society and Queen's University boards jointly contributed towards presenting the players of the victorious Queen's rugby team, with a remembrance for their good work. This took the form of a little bronze statue mounted on a wooden stand about thirteen inches high. On a small plate on the stand of the statue is engraved the name of each player with the number of games played. The work was done through the Smith brothers, Jewelers, King street, by Miss Merrill, Toronto.

The statue represents a football player in the action of kicking the ball for a goal. These appropriate gifts were presented recently to the rugby players.
