THE BATTLE AGAINST TUBERCULOSIS.

From All Parts of Ontario Unlimited Support is Coming—Every Medical Man is Helping.

Why should Quebec be in a position to purchase a sanatorium for the neglected tuberculous and Ontario? Are we going to allow other provinces to do more than Ontario for the relief of the sufferers from the White Plague? The people of Ontario demand that they should not be behind Quebec in any respect. Why talk of the dangers of tuberculosis and yet remain quiescent as to the deplorable results to your home and family. The public are asking what we want them to do. Come to our annual meeting and you will be told. The death of a citizen this week, who had had sanatorium treatment when necessary, would now be on the road to health, emphasizes the argument in favor of free sanatorium treatment. Picture a young man of twenty-eight years being allowed to rot of tuberculosis in our midst for want of proper sanatorium treatment. Read the following article by a specialist with regard to preventing the spread of the disease and the curing of early cases.

CHURCH UNION CASE CLOSES

Before the Private Bills Committee of the Commons. ANTIS WILL BE HEARD

When Committee Resumes on Tuesday—Rev. Dr. Pringle Says There is No Compulsion.

Case of the Antis. Ottawa, May 3.—After nearly three days of argument and questioning in the case of those supporting the bill to unite the Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational churches, the argument of those opposed to the measure was begun late yesterday afternoon before the private bills committee of the House of Commons by F. H. Chrysler, K.C., one of the leading counsel for that side. It was announced by the chairman of the committee, H. B. McEwen, K.C., that a temporary list of speakers for those opposed included the following, in addition to Mr. Chrysler, Rev. Dr. Ephraim Scott, Montreal, Thomas McMillan and J. S. Short.

At 6 o'clock the committee adjourned until next Tuesday morning, when the case of those opposed will be presented in full force. Four main propositions laid down by Mr. Chrysler were "No bill containing such powers (as the union bill) has ever been passed by the Parliament of Canada, nor, as we believe, by any British parliament. "It invades and is intended to affect the religious freedom of tens of thousands of people of Canada, and to put out of existence the church to which they owe allegiance. "No provision was made in either the Presbyterian or Methodist union acts for terminating the existence of the constituting churches and such churches were not in the act extinguished by legislation. "Neither of these bills (just mentioned) contained any provision for merging the negotiating churches and their congregations and associated corporations in a United Church."

High-Handed Action. "If you were an Ontario man I might be out of order if I asked that question. Do you think it would be advisable to take a vote on the Ontario Temperance Act on the electoral lists of 1915?" asked Mr. Wilson. "No, I do not think it would." "Yet it is all right to take a vote as regards church matters on a voters' lists of 1915 and abide on it in years after?"

The General Assembly has spoken and its decision is final. "The Legislature of Ontario did not need to submit that to a vote. They could have repealed the Ontario Temperance Act without a vote of the people!"

No Compulsion. "You say we should have a right-side Canada in religious affairs?" "I said 'united and righteous.'" "And nothing about justice and righteousness?"

These are the same. "There is quite a difference in this bill between the two." Dr. Pringle—"That's a matter of opinion. There is no compulsion on the Antis. As loyal Presbyterians they should accept the mandate of their Supreme Court or withdraw."

Mr. Wilson—"We heard certain principals of colleges here deny the doctrines of the Presbyterian Church. Should they not have resigned?" "If they denied the doctrines, they should, but I don't agree that they did."

"Is there any possibility of a spirit of compromise?" "Yes."

Is it not a fact that the British flag flies to-day because of compromise?"

Conference Refused. "Not on principle. The general assembly at the last meeting asked the so-called minority to 'come with us' (laughter). The people who laugh misunderstand me. I was going to say come with us and have a conference. They have refused that except at the sacrifice of the principle for which we stand."

Mr. Wilson quoted from the report of a meeting held in Ottawa this week, at which it was said that if the legislature refused to support the bill it would be made an issue in the next election. He asked if Dr. Pringle agreed with that, and the doctor replied that he did not, adding that he was not there on trial nor was he a witness.

The chairman pointed out that the committee reserved the right to ask questions of any one who gave evidence before the committee. Dr. Pringle was politely asked by Mr. Duff what position he would take if the legislation was refused, or the union was not consummated. "The Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational Churches in Canada are going to unite. If the Presbyterian Church does not go in, I would leave my church as soon as I could."

FUNERAL AT NAPANEE OF LATE DR LEONARD

The Cortage a Large One—Church Was Filled to Overflowing.

Napanee, May 3.—There was a very large attendance at the funeral of the late Dr. R. A. Leonard, at the Church of St. Mary Magdalene, yesterday afternoon. The church was filled to overflowing with those who wished to pay their last tribute of respect and affection.

The officiating clergy were: Rural Dean J. H. Coleman, M.A., vicar of the parish, Rev. W. E. Kidd, M.C., Kingston, and Rev. A. W. Spencer, Camden East. The choir and organist rendered the musical portion of the service admirably. The altar hangings were white and flowers on the reareds were pink carnations. The handsome coffin was covered with lovely floral gifts from friends and admirers.

The local courts of the Canadian Order of Foresters, of which the deceased was a member, sent a large delegation to represent them at the funeral.

After the church services the remains were conveyed to the Napanee cemetery. On the route taken by the cortege all places of business had the blinds lowered as a mark of respect.

The pall-bearers were: W. A. Daly, William C. Smith, E. H. Baines, W. S. Herrington, K. C. F. S. Richardson, F. F. Miller, C.E.

PEPALL IN CUSTODY ON SMITH CHARGES

Manager of Aemilium Jarvis Bond Firm to Appear in Police Court.

Toronto, May 3.—Hon. W. F. Nickle, K.C., attorney-general, stated yesterday that Harry Pepall, manager of the Aemilium Jarvis bond firm had been taken into custody as a material witness in the charges against Hon. Peter Smith. Mr. Pepall, he said, had been admitted to bail of $9,000. He will appear in police court on Wednesday next when the Crown will proceed with the preliminary hearing of its case against Hon. Mr. Smith.

No criminal charge is laid against Mr. Pepall but his arrest is the most drastic of several activities of the crown centring about the Jarvis firm. Recently the government auditors were sent into the Jarvis office to probe for details of the firm's transactions with the government. Certain books which have been looked upon as important for evidence in the Smith charges have since been transferred to the custody of the provincial police at Queen's Park.

Two American Priests Robbed by Chinese Thugs. Hong Kong, May 3.—Two American priests, Fathers Ford and Gleason, accompanied by a party of several Catholics, while crossing the frontier of the French concession of Kwangchow Wan, on route to the interior, were attacked by bandits who seized the money and belongings of the entire party and detained the travellers. The French authorities later obtained the release of the captives and the return of some of their belongings.

Former U. S. Attorney-General Daugherty has filed an injunction suit to prevent the investigating committee from obtaining possession of telegrams he sent and received in Washington.

BRITISH POSSESSIONS NOT FOR SALE

WRITTEN FOR THE WHIG BY ARTHUR HUNT CHUTE.

The United States has often gazed with longing eyes toward that archipelago, known as the British West Indies. Any nation might well gaze upon these islands with desire, for "They are good to look upon."

The United States has always had her imperial dreamers. With so much of the blood of England in her veins she couldn't help it. Here has indeed been an amazing expansion. By the progress of her pioneers against the wilderness, by aggressive warfare against Mexico and Spain, by peaceful purchases from France and Russia, she has added to her original thirteen colonies, thus becoming the great United States of to-day.

On the Pacific and on the Caribbean, the American sphere of influence have extended, until she has become a world power of the first magnitude.

There was a time when American imperialists regarded Canada as a part of "manifest destiny." But even the most fatuous have finally thrown over the hope of American expansion northward, acquiescing to Our Lady of the Snows when she declares, "My way are not your ways."

With the triumphal march of manifest destiny halted at the forty-ninth parallel, American imperialists turn southward to the Caribbean. As an earnest of their hopes in this direction we have the present proposals to buy from France and Britain that part of the West Indian Archipelago over which flies the tri-color and the Union Jack.

To bear out their claims, certain bargain seekers state that these possessions should be traded in as payment for those war-debts, by which America was made secure.

President Coolidge came out on Friday for Japanese exclusion but hopes to have a bill enacted that will not offend the Japs.

U.S. Congress passed the soldier bonus bill, which now goes to the president.

$2,500 REWARD IS PAID OVER

For the Capture of "Red" Ryan, the Bank Bandit.

$2,000 GOES TO DUNCAN

And $500 to Deputy Warden Tucker, of the Portsmouth Penitentiary.

A reward of $2,500 has been paid by the Canadian Bankers' Association for the capture of Norlan ("Red") Ryan, bank bandit. Ryan is now serving a life term in Portsmouth penitentiary for robbery of the Bank of Nova Scotia, St. Clair and Oakwood avenues.

Who are the recipients of the reward is not officially announced by the Bankers' Association, but it is learned from authoritative sources that Inspector Walter Duncan, special investigator of the department of finance, Ottawa, received $2,000 for his work in locating Ryan, and Deputy Warden R. L. Tucker, of the penitentiary, received $500 for his part in the tracing of Ryan.

Sir John Aldr, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and president of the Bankers' Association, stated that the association had granted a reward in the neighborhood of $2,500, but when asked who received it replied: "That is confidential and I cannot divulge it. Some of it, I believe, was paid in the States."

This may have been the $500 which was paid to the four Minneapolis detectives, who effected Ryan's arrest. This reward was paid by the department of finance, on the recommendation of Inspector Duncan.

Inspector Duncan, who is in Toronto on a short visit, declined to state who had received the reward. "That is a matter to be divulged by the minister of finance," said the inspector.

Solves a Point. If Mr. Duncan received $2,000, it solves a point in regard to Ryan's capture that has been debated in police circles since the bank bandit was captured. Who got the information that Ryan and his gang were in Minneapolis? City police officials take credit for having located the bandits in that city, through the excellent work of Detective Sergeants Willbur Dawn and Robert Greenlee, who worked incessantly on the trail.

At the same time, it was said that Deputy Warden Tucker had received information as to Ryan's whereabouts through penitentiary sources. The reward was paid under the standing offer by the Bankers' Association of $5,000 for information leading to the apprehension of any bank robber.

A verdict of suicide was announced by the coroner.
