What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

TONIGHT AT GRAND.

Return by Request of "London's Great Concert 8," with English musical and comedy players, the Grand Opera House, tonight, and it is good news to all, to know that Tom Copeland, "Scotland's Prime Minister of Mirth," heads the company of distinguished artists which for the first time in Canadian musical circles will give us the opportunity of seeing the best of the world famous English concert companies. Mr. Copeland boasts of a record which is unique to say the least. Appearing before over one million soldiers and who is dearly remembered by the British armies during the war, at Whitley, Folkestone, Bramshott, Epsom and other camps and hospitals, also well known to Canadian soldiers as "Jock," he has, on this first tour of Canada, met with hundreds of his old acquaintances and it is his earnest wish that all with whom he became acquainted from Canada during the war, will call upon him and renew acquaintances.

Miss Suzette Terri, who appeared with Mr. Copeland in the greater number of his entertainments for the soldiers and who is dearly remembered by the British, is appearing with the "London 8," which is also very interesting news.

This tour is under the patronage of Sir Alex MacKenzie, and other distinguished celebrities in the music world.

AT STRAND MONDAY

The greatest drama in years, Eugene O'Neill's stage success, "Anna Christie" will open a three-day run at the Strand on Monday, in pictorial form. The story is well known to all fans, and Blanche Sweet in the role of the girl Anna Christie gives what is unquestionably the greatest performance of her career. A slice of life, in the raw, "Anna Christie" will provide an unforgettable evening's entertainment.

THE BOYS' CHOIR MADE WONDERFUL SHOWING

Hats off to the boys' choir of Victoria school. The lads did not win a prize in the competition at the Ontario Musical Festival in Toronto, but they made a wonderful showing and are to be warmly complimented. Great praise is also due Mr. Harry Hill, instructor of music, who trained the boys for the festival.

The Kingston youngsters were on the programme at the big festival on Friday afternoon, and out of eleven choirs in their class they came in sixth place and when the fact is considered that the local boys were up against some of the best residential schools, their showing was indeed remarkable and the Victoria Home and School Club and the local committee in charge of the arrangements made for the trip to Toronto, have every reason to be proud of the result.

The members of the choir returned home early on Saturday afternoon and were given a warm welcome.

Reports received from Toronto state that the Kingston choir was given a wonderful reception. Their numbers were warmly applauded.

In the finals, in which the local choir was engaged, they went up against some of the strongest choirs that could have been secured. Rose Avenue choir, Toronto and St. Stanislaus choir, Guelph, each scored 88 points; De La Salle School, Toronto, scored 85 points each; St. Patrick's choir, Hamilton, scored 83 points and Kingston came next with 82 points. The lowest choir in the bunch scored 73 points. Thus it can be seen by these figures that Kingston was in the race, although not fortunate enough to land the high honors. The majority of the choirs were composed of forty voices while Kingston had thirty.

The boys had a wonderful time in Toronto and were well looked after by the committee in charge. They made their headquarters at the Central Y.M.C.A. and here the accommodations was all that could be desired. The boys slept at the "Y" and had their meals there, and are proud in their praise of the treatment given them.

The boys left here Thursday afternoon, over the Canadian National Railway, on the International Limited, and had a special car for the trip to and from Toronto. On Thursday night they attended a theatre and on Friday morning they had the time of their lives, taking in all the sights. The store manager provided the party with a guide, and after making a thorough inspection of the store, they were here to the company's factory and anything. Following this the boys were taken to an X-ray studio, where they were given a most interesting and instructive address on the work of the X-ray and it is needless to say that the boys enjoyed this part of the programme.

After taking their part in the programme on Friday afternoon the lads were given all the privileges of a favorite sport. Friday evening they were guests at an entertainment given in the auditorium, in which 1,500 people took part.

Although the trip was a most beneficial one for the boys, of course they would have liked to have carried off the honors, but they have by no means downhearted. They put everything they had into their number and were not only warmly complimented on their singing but also on their appearance.

The training of the choir for this competition will mean a great deal in the way of boosting music in the schools in Kingston, as it has created great interest and is but a start for greater things to come. It is hoped that this is but the beginning of what promises to be a great revival of music and that at the Toronto festival next year "Kingston will have entries in many of the classes.

Mr. Hill, the music master in the schools, worked hard with the boys composing the choir that made the trip to Toronto and he has every reason to be proud of the showing start in what might be termed "the big show."

TO HELP OTHERS

"To Help Others" is the whole basis of Salvation Army activity. All its work is bound up in these three words. If it were not so, it would not be necessary to ask you, once a year, to support the Self-Denial Appeal.

There is hardly a phase of life that the Army does not touch in one way or another. The rich and poor, the sick, the feeble—those who have measured years by their sorrows—all seek the Army's helping hand.

We believe you are eager that we continue our work among the unfortunate ones. Give us your financial and prayerful co-operation and we will keep on "helping others."

The Money You Give will be made to yield full value for you. It will be spent where it will do the greatest good.

Will You Give Something To-day?

Humane Society Activities.

Some ideas may be formed of the work done by the Humane Society from the fact that the inspector was recently called to a case at Deerpark, a distance of upwards of thirty miles from the city. Here a number of cattle and horses were huddled together in filthy quarters. The roof of the stable allowed the snow and rain to leak through, and the poor animals were unprotected from cold winds that penetrated the sieve-like structure.

Needless to say Mr. Ward lost no time in making it plain to the owners that such conduct was not only inhuman, but contrary to law, and that the situation must receive immediate attention.

At Findlay Station.

Mrs. Charles Thompson is laid up with a severe attack of rheumatism. Through a mistake of the writers in the last items it stated that Mr. and Mrs. W. Simpson and little son were visiting at Marble Rock, when it should have been Taylor. Misses Myrtle Sidley, Beatrice Bedore, Kingston, and Leonard Bedore, Syracuse, N. Y., spent Easter at James Mullen's.

THE QUEEN MOTHER IS IN FAIR HEALTH

The Prince of Wales Likes His Small Quarters in St. James' Palace.

London, May 3.—The visit of King George and Queen Mary to the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley yesterday effectively disposed of rumors in circulation recently that Queen Alexandra's health gives cause for disquietude. The queen mother while excessively frail goes out daily and attended church on Sunday.

It is probable, however, that Queen Alexandra will deem it advisable to remain at Sandringham indefinitely. Meanwhile, Marlborough House will remain closed but it is quite likely that before long some other members of the royal family will occupy it. It is natural to assume that the Duke and Duchess of York will probably be tendered the first invitation to accept Marlborough House as their London residence.

It was first acquired for the late King Edward in his most brilliant days as Prince of Wales.

The present Prince of Wales however finds his comparatively small quarters at St. James' Palace more to his liking.

Burns Up $2,000 in Bills, Then Commits Suicide

Altoona, Pa., May 3.—Frank Urban, 65, of Crescon, a suburb of this place, committed suicide yesterday in an unusual manner. Going to the bank at Crescon, he withdrew $1,400 in money, collected $600 more in cash, and changed silver to bills. Putting the money on his kitchen table, he set fire to it, watched it burn slowly, then drank a pint of furniture polish, and ate a can of wall cleaner. He died several hours later. His wife could not ascribe any reason for his act.
