The essence of true nobility is neglect of self. Let the thought of self pass in, and the beauty of a great action is gone, like the bloom from a soiled flower.

Feathers in the Ascendancy
By ELEANOR GUNN

Having about given up hope of getting ostrich used to any extent in its accustomed place, which is, of course, on a hat, a new sphere has been found for it. Those who are interested in its future are rejoicing over the fact that it is the trimming de luxe for dresses. An evening gown with a border of fluffy ostrich around its hem or showering from one side of the girde, is an evening gown thoroughly approved by the initiated.

Here are four typical Dominion Linoleum Rug patterns. To really judge the extent of their charm and beauty, you should see them in actual colors at your dealer's.

Added Comfort for Your Home

Dominion Linoleum Rugs offer boundless possibilities for home comfort and economy. They put an end to laborious beating and sweeping, because their firm, smooth surface is non-absorbent and offers no hiding place for dust or germs. An occasional mopping is all the attention they require. Their beauty, too, adds a delightful touch of brightness.

lie flat and smooth without tacking. The wide range of sizes, designs and colorings permits you to choose a suitable rug for any room. A Dominion Linoleum Rug will give you years and years of satisfactory service. And low price is a happy feature of every purchase.

Dominion Linoleum by the Yard is ideal when the whole floor is to be covered. It comes in widths sufficient to take care of any ordinary room, without crack or seam. Like Dominion Linoleum Rugs, it offers a pleasing range of patterns and store now and see for yourself the degree of added comfort and economy home. they are uncured. Time was when to have one's ostrich feathers out of curl was something in the nature of a tragedy. A trip to the curler's was as necessary then as a wave is to the bobbed haired girl. Nowadays, the curling process is confined to hair instead of feathers. We wear our ostrich straight, even glycerining it to make it slinky, in some instances.

In a Paris dress collection which has recently arrived, ostrich borders are an oft-repeated trimming feature, and marabou to a lesser degree. One lovely gown in one of the light fuchsia shades, almost a deep pink-orchid, was bordered with six rows of marabou in three shades, the deepest on the edge, then a lighter and still a lighter shade, after which the darker was repeated, the rows above paling toward the knee.

Ostrich in various boa formations is being shown, but for the exception as a collar for evening wraps, has not been adopted to any extent. If designers succeed in limiting the use of feathers so that they are soft and fluffy, rather than thick looking, they appear to be successful, but women are apparently not in the mood as yet for the thick ostrich boa, any more than they are in the mood for plumes of the amazon type.

Tulle or chiffon scarfs made of the same material as an evening gown may have their ends finished with ostrich fringes. Lace fans may have a waving fringe of feathers either at their edge or outlining their frames. All manner of triffes may have a few fringes of ostrich added. Ostrich borders have brought silk fringe in their wake. Callot and several important French dressmakers are using silk fringe again, not only on the skirt, but for sleeve borders as well, the fringe being embroidered into the material instead of being sewed on.

Corn Flake Brown Betty.
Line a buttered pudding dish with Corn Flakes. Then put in a layer of stewed rhubarb; dot with butter.

continue using alternate layers of Corn Flakes and rhubarb until the dish is full, ending with Corn Flakes on top. Bake in a moderate oven.
