THE HUMANE SOCIETY CRITICAL OF BY-LAW

Will Be Examination of Other Dog By-laws to Secure Improvement Here.

Some warm criticism of the new dog by-law was made at the regular meeting of the Humane Society, Tuesday evening, and the association is preparing to take action regarding it. This may take the form of calling a meeting of dog owners. A study is to be made of other city dog laws to see if the local one cannot be improved upon. It is felt that a dog would not be safe on the streets of Kingston unless accompanied by his owner. It is claimed that in the city of Montreal dogs may be seen running at large about the streets.

The recently organized Kennel Club made a report to the society showing that the recent dog show in the armories had proven very popular among dog fanciers and was very encouraging for future efforts. The annual meeting of the society will be held in June when it is hoped a special speaker from outside will address the association.
