Louise Home and School Club held a successful tea and sale Friday, April 11th, from 3 to 6 o'clock. Mrs. Richardson, Miss Lovick and her staff received the many guests and some of Miss Lovick's boys took the small admission fee. The candy, home made, apron and touch and take tables were well supplied, the parents donating most generously. Mrs. Norton, convener of the home made table, with her assistants, Mrs. Guy, Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Coldbach, soon disposed of their cooking. Mrs. Turner, Mrs. Gibbs and Miss Abernethy were in charge of the candy table; Mrs. McGill and Mrs. Holdfer the apron table; Winnifred Kelly, Sybil Hambrook, Edna Gerald and Grace Wright, the touch and take table and Miss H. Lovick and Miss Savage the ice cream cones. The tea room was a very busy place. Mrs. Langdon, Mrs. Peters, Mrs. Wylie and Mrs. Kirkpatrick were in charge there. The tea table looked pretty centred with a silver candelabra. Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Chalmers poured tea. About $60 was netted.

On Thursday evening the members of the Junior Woman's Institute and the Junior Farmers' Association gave a pleasant entertainment in the Kingston Dairy School. The guests were received by Miss Arthurs and Mr. Coulter and an excellent programme was arranged which Included songs by Miss Gates, Miss Ursula Sproule and Mr. E. Hess, a recitation by Miss Arthurs and piano music by Miss Flora Sproule and Miss Bessie Lane. A debate "Resolved that the city is more dependent on the country than the country on the city" was an interesting feature. The affirmative side won. The judges were Mrs. W. S. Gordon, Roy, J. S. LaFlair and Miss Hayward. Refreshments were served and dancing followed.

Mrs. Fred McGill, Alfred street, was the hostess at a kitchen shower held at her home last night for Mrs. A. C. Givens, at which about twenty girls spent a merry time. A host of useful gifts were presented to the guest of honor, taking in every possible thing for the kitchen, one thoughtful young lady even bringing the window curtains. The time passed quickly with music, games and refreshments and it was after midnight before the merry-making ceased. An interesting feature was that every guest was compelled to either play or take instruction in mah jongg.

Mrs. W. E. Kidd, Wellington street, asked a few people to come in after the recital in St. George's cathedral on Thursday evening to meet Mr. Cyril Rice and Mr. Bott, New York. The young singer, who had sung the solos from the great oratorios with such exquisite expression, is a jolly boy who kept his elders in shouts of laughter with stories of his tour and sang a negro lullaby and several other songs delightfully.

Lady Thornton and Miss Ann Thornton expect to attend the June Ball at the Royal Military College. Miss Stuart Jeffrey, Montreal, is leaving on June 1st for Hamilton, where she will be the guest of Miss Mary Gertrude Cahill. Miss Jeffrey is to be one of the bridesmaids at the wedding of Miss Cahill and Mr. Clinton Ernest Wigle, which is taking place on June 8th.

Mrs. George May, Ottawa, entertained informally at the tea hour on Wednesday in honor of her sister, Miss Sidney Bishop, whose marriage takes place this week.

Mrs. R. F. Segsworth, South Drive, Toronto, entertained at bridge and tea for the women of the Mining Association on Thursday.

Lady Hughes and Miss Eileen Hughes, who have been in South America since January, are returning to Toronto next week.

Miss Recca Steacy, Kingston, was a recent visitor of her aunt, Mrs. H. Leacock, Lansdowne.

Col. and Mrs. Hugh Walkem, Montreal, are leaving the middle of June for Lake Massawippi, where they will spend the summer months.

Mrs. George K. McLeod, St. John, N.B., is expected shortly in Montreal to visit her sister, Mrs. H. H. Handard, after which she will come to Kingston to visit her other sister, Mrs. J. B. Carruthers, Annapolis.

Mrs. W. M. Weese, Picton, is renewing acquaintances for a week in Kingston.

Miss Agnes Vangesen has returned to Picton from Syracuse, N. Y. She spent a couple of days en route with Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bird, Kingston.

Miss Marcellus, Russell, Ont., who is in town for the nurses' graduation, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Hilsman, Johnson street.

Miss M. Spangenburg, who has been with her sister, Mrs. F. B. Phillips, Johnson street, left for Denver, Col., on Thursday.

Mrs. George McGowan, Barrie street, is in New York with her daughter, Miss Ethelwyn (Peggy) McGowan.

Miss Mowat, Johnson street, returned from Trenton on Thursday.

Saturday is Orphans' Home Tag Day. Everyone should help.

THINK FIRST OF USE

The first consideration in placing furniture concerns its best position in accordance with the use. For instance, a dresser in a bedroom should be near a window, where as much light as possible is obtained. A desk should never be any other place but near a window.

HELP LADY TO SEAT

In seeing a lady to her carriage or motor, it is quite correct for a gentleman to put his hand under her elbow to assist her; in helping her out he should alight first and offer his hand.

The only way that the desire for affection can really be satisfied is by giving it rather than by receiving it.

Education begins the gentleman, but reading, good company and reflection must finish him.

FOR WOMEN VOTERS

Contributed by Women's Federated Clubs.

It was his duty to have remained at the factory till the night-watchman came on.

"What's the good," he said, "I've been here a year and nothing has happened." So he slipped away on hour earlier.

The watchman found the place enveloped in flames.

Whose fault was it? The fire-bugs? Or the unfaithful caretaker's?

If prohibition is ever overthrown in Ontario, whose fault will it be? The Moderation League's?

No. The blame will lie at the door of self-centred, indifferent voters. There are loads of them. Some of places in this province suffered for years, before prohibition, under the licensed bar, because of them.

"O, Mrs. Thornton, why didn't you come out to vote? Do you know five more ballots would have carried Local Option? And there were trouble that number right in our own Church, that were not polled.

"Well, really, I couldn't. We were washing that day, and had unexpected company. I was sure the by-law would carry, anyway. So sorry."

The Editor Hears

That the Orphans' Home on Union street for which some unselfish women will tag the citizens on Saturday, is a well-run institution. The ladies who form the committee are unpaid servants of the people, and deserve every support.

That the gardeners are kept back by the rain and some of the seed sown has been washed out of the ground. But a few days of warm sunshine will make us all forget our troubles.

That a New York observer remarks that if fancy shoes, as the tanners say, are ruining the American woman's feet, they have got nothing on the American man's eyes—tortured continually by strapped red sandals, No. 7.

That a warning to housewives not to be too strenuous over house-cleaning is given by the sudden death from syncope of Mrs. Eliza Chartrand, aged forty. After an all-day house-cleaning Mrs. Chartrand took a bath, and when she did not answer her husband's knock he became anxious over her silence. He broke open the door and found her unconscious. It was then too late to save her.

That much interest is being taken in the unveiling of the cenotaph erected at Macdonald park by the I.O.D.E., which takes place on Saturday morning with military honors. Mrs. J. B. Carruthers, honorary regent, will unveil the handsome monument.

Ten Don'ts to Guide Women Speakers

Here they are as prepared by a feminine organization across the line:

1—Don't use the meeting as a place to show off your best clothes. 2—Don't look like a bareback rider or a tinselled circus performer.

3—Don't wear pearls or any other dangly things about your neck that you can twist and tie as you speak. Your audience will be so interested watching you tie the bowknots in your pearls that they won't listen to your speech.

4—Don't wear a hat unless you have to, and if you have to, don't have any feathers or flopping things on it.

5—Don't show your feet and ankles. Hide behind a row of ferns so all the women in the audience won't be criticizing the length of your skirt and the size of your feet.

6—Don't yell at your audience as though you were calling Johnny to lunch.

7—Don't talk to the front row. Always keep your eye on the people in the back seats. If the people there are interested, you are all right.

8—Don't learn your speech by heart; neither should you read it from a written copy. If you know your subject in your heart you won't need mechanical aids.

9—Don't refer to your lack of time. That wastes it.

10—Don't knock the other organization. Tell the good points about your own organization.

Cut Number of Presentations.

London, May 14.—Because of the unusual number of visitors from the British Dominions to the British Empire exhibition who desire the honor of being presented at the court, the Lord Chamberlain has had to inform the foreign embassies that their annual quotas have been considerably lessened even though Their Majesties have ordered four courts to be held instead of the usual two.

There will be many pangs of disappointment in the hearts of expectant debutantes from the United States and some of the older members of their sex, as the United States embassy will only be allowed to make 40 presentations instead of the 50 usually allowed. The United States Ambassador Kellogg, has been flooded with requests for court appearances.

GALLAGHER'S TAXI SERVICE 960 DAY AND NIGHT

Kellogg's Bran did more in two weeks than medicine taken in 20 years

Out of regard for your own health, read this letter:

Dear Sir: Your "Krumbled Bran," used by me as a cereal, has done more for me in two weeks than the hundreds of dollars' worth of medicine I have taken in last twenty years for constipation. It is wonderful, and it is so simple.

Yours truly, Arlington H. Carman. (Address on Request.)

Mr. Carman's experience has been duplicated in thousands of homes. Why does Kellogg's Bran succeed when drugs and pills fail? The answer is simple. Drugs have an unnatural effect upon the bowels. They irritate the intestines. The more they are used, the more one has to use. Finally, they have no effect at all. Kellogg's Bran STIMULATES the intestines. It cleans, sweeps and purifies them. It acts exactly as nature acts. And it is never necessary to increase the amount eaten. If eaten regularly, Kellogg's Bran is guaranteed to bring permanent relief to the most chronic cases of constipation, or your grocer returns your money. For Kellogg's Bran is ALL bran. Nothing but ALL bran can be so effective. That is why doctors recommend Kellogg's.

The wonderful, nut-like flavor of Kellogg's Bran is exclusive. It is delicious—totally unlike ordinary bran. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Eat it with milk or cream and in the recipe on every package. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is made in Toronto, Canada. Sold by all grocers.
