 What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

"AFTER SIX DAYS"
A WONDERFUL WORK

Beautiful Picturization of the Old Testament Coming to the Grand.

The management of the Grand theatre has always shown a disposition to give its patrons the best that is obtainable in the motion picture market, and that is has succeeded there is not the slightest doubt. As a further evidence of getting only the best for the picture-going public of this city we cite the fact that beginning Thursday, May 22nd for three days they will show the most unusual and at the same time the greatest production that has yet reached the silver sheet, namely "After Six Days," featuring Moses and the Ten Commandments, in 10 reels. In speaking of this subject it brings to mind a news item we read recently, that there were more copies of the Bible sold each year in this country than all the ten "best sellers" put together, which proves conclusively that the inhabitants of this country are not as bad as a lot of foreign lecturers would picture us. We have always felt that picture-goers are more partial to stories that have historical value, we felt too that they were more interested in the clean, honest, wholesome kind of pictures; being of this belief we felt that the big producers of motion pictures would soon realize this and would bring to the screen some portion of the Bible at some near date. We never imagined, however, that one producer would burden himself with the task of transplanting the Old Testament into one evening's screen entertainment; nevertheless this has been accomplished in such a manner that it has met with wonderful commendation wherever it has been shown. It is said that it took over five years to make this picture and we believe it; it said too that it required a cast of over ten thousand people, and further it is said that the production cost over $3,000,000.00. In this connection, not knowing real picture values in dollars and cents due to the inflated price of our well known producers have, when mentioning their pictures, we will merely take their word for it. But with a cast as suggested above and the time it required to make we can say without any fear of contradiction that it cost as much as any picture ever made. We wish to congratulate the management of the Grand theatre for their foresight in booking "After Six Days" for we feel sure that it will prove most interesting and at the same time highly entertaining.

DREDGING PLANNED IN KINGSTON HARBOR
 Around the Locomotive Works and in Channel Near Wolfe Island.

The Dominion Government is calling for tenders for extensive dredging work to be done in Kingston harbor during the summer months. The work to be done is close to the wharf at the plant of the Canadian Locomotive works and the channel at Wolfe Island.

For years considerable difficulty has been experienced by the captains of steamers landing at the locomotive works wharf as there is only twelve feet of water, and steamers drawing more have found it impossible to land. It is the intention to increase the depth to fifteen or sixteen feet. It will be a very difficult task as there is a sill of rock which will have to be blown away. The rock will have to be drilled and then blasted out.

The steamer Wolfe Island has had considerable trouble for some years on account of the shallowness of water from the Wolfe Island wharf out to the main channel. The government intends to dredge a channel eight feet deep at low water and two hundred and fifty feet wide from the island out to the main channel. It will take at least a month to do the work.

SPLENDID VOCAL TEACHER.

Mr. Harry Hill's Pupils Have Excellent Success.
 The recent success of Mr. Harold Singleton at the Ontario Musical Festival, has disclosed the fact that this is not the first of Mr. Harry Hill's pupils to be successful in open competition. In 1919, Mr. Arthur Plumstead, of Paris, won the $150.00 scholarship at the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, this being the year contests were inaugurated at the exhibition and was open to the Dominion. Mr. Plumstead is now baritone soloist at the Metropolitan church, Toronto. In 1920, Miss Grace McAllister, contralto, won a silver medal in the Toronto Conservatory June examinations.

Among former pupils, Mr. Hill can name several holding professional positions, two of the most prominent being Miss M. Stiekland, contralto of Brantford, and Miss E. Wentworth, contralto of Hamilton.

Mr. Hill had notable success as a voice teacher, both in the developing and bringing to light new vocal talent, and restoring voices injured through improper methods.
