THE Y.M.C.A. SECURES $1,601.50 IN A DAY

The Campaign for $7,000 Opens Auspiciously—Hopeful of Getting Objective.

The first day's canvassing in connection with the campaign of the local Y.M.C.A. netted very satisfactory results, and those canvassers who reported at the supper rally Tuesday evening stated that without exception they had been afforded splendid reception from everyone whom they had canvassed. T. D. Patton, Y.M.C.A. National Council secretary for Ontario and Quebec, who is in the city this week to assist the canvassers, reports that wherever Y.M.C.A. campaigns are being conducted a splendid reception is being afforded this year. He further points out that there is no royal road to securing subscriptions for the "Y," the people as a rule are ready and willing to give, but expect some one to call upon them. "The only way to get money," he states, "is just to go out and ask for it." A very gratifying number of the canvassers have already made a start, and the total in cash and pledges reported last night was $1,601.50 made up as follows:

- $200—E. Chown & Son; James A. Richardson.
- $100—D. G. Laidlaw.
- $75—Dr. C. C. Nash.

SAID ON THE SIDE

"Bobbed" hair was supposed to be going out of style but the women will not stand for it.

Ottawa sheriff showed consideration for a prisoner by relieving him of his handcuffs, and the prisoner tried to escape. That's gratitude.

Following the cold wave, the local lawn bowlers will hold forth on the greens.

A friend of our stated that it would be May 24th, before the weather got warm. Perhaps he will have to choose a later date.

Even fire horses get their reward. Chief Armstrong has sent one of his steeds to the country for the summer months.

This cold weather is a great drawback to the sale of summer goods.

Rotary Club Activities.

Rev. G. A. Slaco, Catarqui, will address the Kingston Rotary Club at Friday's luncheon.

Rotarian Leman A. Guild has received a letter from Rotarian "Sid" McMichael, chairman of the host committee at Toronto for the International convention next month. The Toronto club is making great preparations for this event. At Friday's luncheon the president will receive nominations for delegates to attend the convention.

Rev. Mr. Slaco will speak on the subject, "An Empire Day."

OBITUARY

Late Kenneth Sterling.

There passed away at Eganville, Renfrew county, Kenneth Sterling, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling, Eganville. The funeral in charge of S. S. Corbett, took place Wednesday from the parlors of that firm to Catarqui cemetery.

MOTHER BURNED TO DEATH.

Fire Destroyed The Home of John Chalk, Wagarville.

McLean, May 19.—Mrs. E. Edgar got a message from Wagarville that her brother, John Chalk, had lost his house by fire and that her mother Mrs. Chalk, was burned to death in the house, on Saturday. Much sympathy is felt by all, for the sorrowing relatives in their time of trouble. The funeral will be held on Sunday, but on account of the rain it was postponed. A kitchen shower is to be held for Mr. and Mrs. Wellia Smith, on next Tuesday, 27th at William Cousins'.

Melleville Wagar has a new car. Mrs. William Wagar, Melleville, and Arthur and Gladys, and Miss McDonald spent Sunday in Kingston. Mr. and Mrs. Wellia Smith and Ervon Keller, spent Sunday at John Keller's, Bethany; Edward Ball spent the week-end at W. Cousins'; Darl Brown at E. Brown's for a few days.

TO LUNCH AT R. M. C.

The Kiwanis Club To Hear An Address There.

The Kingston Kiwanis Club will shortly have a unique luncheon which has been offered by the officials of R. M. C., through Sir Archibald Macdonell and Prof. Frank Day, R. M. C. Kiwanians. The club will be invited to luncheon at the college, at which an R. M. C. speaker will deliver the address and music will be furnished by an orchestra of cadets. There are many points from which such an event presents unusual attractions. The date has not yet been set definitely.

There is also another idea offered. Kiwanian "Al" Fair has made the suggestion that the club visit Hemlock Park Stock Farm for one of the regular luncheons. The idea has been greeted enthusiastically by the members.

The steamer Maplehill cleared west for Port Colborne.

The steamer Mapleboro left Toronto last night and was expected here around noon today on her way to Montreal.

The steamer Jeska is unloading coal at Sowards.

The steamer Brockville arrived this morning with package freight from Bay of Quinte points. The Brockville has been chartered for an excursion on Monday next to Pictou for the convenience of Napanee residents desirous of attending the celebration in the Prince Edward town.

The sloop Granger arrived at the Municipal wharf with a load of baled hay.

The steamer Glenfarn, owned by the Glen Transportation Company, Midland, upbound, carried away two head gates of lock 11 of the Welland Canal on Tuesday, holding up traffic for several hours. The steamer was not materially damaged.

Auto Driver Gets Damages.

This is the day of the automobile. In the Eugene Smith vs. Dr. J. F. Gibson damage action at the Division Court on Tuesday, the plaintiff was awarded damages to his car caused by hitting two of the defendant's calves which were on the highway and which died from the collision. The amount involved was $63.20.

No Change in Suburban Service—Company Appreciates the Kingston Business.

Major F. L. C. Bond, general superintendent of the Canadian National Railways, who recently succeeded W. R. Davidson, who has been transferred to Chicago, in company with J. D. McMillan, division superintendent, visited the city to-day and in company with J. P. Hanley and S. C. Wright made an inspection of the company's properties in Kingston and vicinity.

Major Bond is on a tour of inspection covering his district, which included the territory east of Toronto and extending to the Atlantic coast. This is Major Bond's first official visit to Kingston and he was much impressed with the situation and the business possibilities of the city.

Certain rumors have recently been circulated in regard to the sub-ban service between the city and the Junction and Major Bond stated that while the company were making every effort to encourage and cut down expenses in every way, at the same time the first object of the company was to give service and that he appreciated the large volume of business which Kingston gave to the Canadian National Railways. The people of Kingston could rest assured that no changes of any kind would be made without ample notice and full consultation with all interested parties.

Major Bond spent the greater part of the day in the city and went west on Tuesday evening to inspect the balance of his district. Sir Henry Thornton is evidently following up the well-known policy of the Pennsylvania System, probably one of the best managed roads in the United States, in appointing engineers as operating superintendents. This has been a policy of the Pennsylvania for a number of years past and has been very successful. Major Bond stated that he would visit Kingston again in the near future and that as far as he was concerned the interests of Kingston would be carefully looked after.
