HOTEL DIEU NURSES' GRADUATION NIGHT

Addresses Given by Dr Edward Ryan and Major-Gen. Sir A. C. Macdonell.

St. Joseph's Hall at the Hotel Dieu, beautifully adorned with flowers and streamers, could not accommodate the hundreds of citizens who attended the commencement exercises of the Hotel Dieu hospital's training school for nurses held Friday night when thirteen nurses received their diplomas.

When the graduating class had entered and taken seats on the platform, the march being played by Miss Marie McDonald and Miss Helen Lovett, words of congratulation were spoken by Dr. W. Gibson, the capable chairman of the evening and the Florence Nightingale pledge was taken, the graduates being led by the superintendent of nurses. The diplomas were then presented by Rev. Dr. D. A. Casey, followed by the presentation of hospital emblem pins by Mrs. W. B. Dungan, vice-president of the Ladies' Auxiliary, and by Miss Kathleen McGarry, vice-president of the Nurses' Alumnae. The address to the graduating class was then given by Dr. Edward Ryan.

Dr. Ryan praised the ancient and honorable profession upon which the young ladies had entered. It was a work of mercy which would give them happiness all their lives. The speaker gave an interesting outline of the history of hospitals from the earliest times, describing particularly the Hotel Dieu founded on the Isle of St. Louis in the River Seine. The ladies to whom he spoke might consider themselves graduates of this old nursing school which had contributed so much to the world.

Major-Gen. Sir A. C. Macdonell was given a very warm welcome by his audience. With illustrations from war days, he praised the efficiency and kindness of the nursing sisters overseas declaring that he had never received a complaint regarding one of them. He congratulated the young ladies on their choice of profession and left with them the wise advice to maintain their relations with their Alma Mater. It would be a tower of strength to them in the trials which were before them.

The presentations of prizes during the evening were as follows:

Gold medal, donated by His Grace, Most Rev. M. J. Spratt, for the highest standing, awarded to Miss Evelyn Finn, presented by Rev. Father Hyland.

Silver medal donated by Mrs. M. K. Warnock, for second highest standing, won by Miss Ethel O'Hearn, Gananoque, presented by Rev. Father Nicholson, M.C.

Prize for general Proficiency, given and presented by Rev. Dr. D. A. Casey, awarded to Miss Ann Beseau, Howe Island.

Prize in Senior Medicine, given and presented by Dr. W. Gibson, awarded to Miss Evelyn Finn, Enterprise.

Prize in Surgical Technique, given and presented by Dr. I. G. Bogart, won by Sister St. Patrick.

Prize for highest marks attained in eye, ear, nose and throat, given by Dr. C. E. O'Connor, awarded to Miss Violet Amo, Gananoque, presented by Mayor Wilson, of Gananoque.

Prize for highest marks attained in Infant Feeding given and presented by Dr. H. E. Day, won by Sister McCarten.

Prize in surgery, given and presented by Dr. L. J. Austin, won by Miss Evelyn Finn, Enterprise.

Intermediate class prize, in Obstetrics, given and presented by Dr. F. J. O'Connor, awarded to Miss Mary McLellan, Mille Rocks.

Junior class prize in anaesthetics, given by Dr. S. J. Keyes, awarded to Miss Alice Hilton, Kingston, presented by W. M. Nickle.

Prize for fire prevention, presented by Fire Chief Armstrong, awarded to Miss Loyola McCullough, Owen Sound.

The graduates included the following: Sister St. Gabriel; Sister McCarten; Hilda Dwyer, Cornwall; Veronica Boyle, Gananoque; Agnes Dungan, Kingston; Ann Beseau, Howe Island; Violet Amo, Gananoque; Lorraine Ahearn, Kingston; Kathleen Donoghue, Kingston; Monica Murray, Kingston; Ethel O'Hearn, Gananoque; Evelyn Finn, Enterprise; Eleanor Manderville, Wellington.

The artists of the evening contributed a great deal towards the enjoyment of the programme and were asked for many encores. Vocal solos were given by Mrs. J. L. Walsh, Miss Anna Corrigan, N. E. O'Connor, J. F. Elder and Master Albert Gratton, a violin solo by Miss Olive Simpson and a piano solo by Miss Lots Baker.

SPECIAL SERVICES END.

At Bethel Church—Address on Worship and Consecration.

Rev. George A. MacKenzie gave a splendid and helpful address in Bethel church, on Thursday evening, his subject being "New Testament Teachings About Worship and Consecration." He took his text from Romans 12:1, "I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service."

"Spiritual worship is impossible," said Mr. MacKenzie, "unless it brings a consecrated body. There are four things that are essential to spiritual worship. We must bring an offering, we must bring the prescribed offering, we must bring an unblemished offering, and it must be a voluntary offering. Any assembly that will seize upon these things cannot but have a church and will go on and on."

"Our bodies are God's temple and when we give them over to pleasure they are blemished. 'Ye are not your own, for ye were bought with a price.' We must present our bodies to God voluntarily, not because the minister or anyone else desires it, but because God wants us to. Under grace is higher than under law, for we have the indwelling of God. The offering God asks for is ourselves, because it is His purchased possession. He asks for our body because He has our spirit, and cannot bless unless He has our body. We must have the Holy Ghost indwelling, and sacrifice keeps it like a burning bush. An abnormal, blemished body is unacceptable to God, and it is an insult to come to Him with such an offering. The Lord Jesus Christ in us is the hope of glory, therefore worship Him in spirit and in truth. It is for us to say whether He shall have it or not. Let us not delay in presenting it to Him for it is our reasonable service. His grace is sufficient to keep us steady in our purpose."

This was the last of the special services in connection with the jubilee anniversary of Bethel church, and Mr. MacKenzie left Friday afternoon with Mrs. MacKenzie for their home in Stratford.

SAID ON THE SIDE

Sixty-four new doctors have been turned out at Queen's University. Prescription chasers, please take notice.

Do not be at all surprised if you read this in the weather bulletin one of these days: "Turning colder, with snow flurries."

The Whig reader who wanted to know when he could put his overcoat away has decided to use it for a while longer.

Man named Champagne has been elected mayor of Ottawa. The "wets" should have no kick over this selection.

Man in Toronto was held up with a toy revolver and compelled to marry a girl. Thrilling story for his wife to tell in the days to come.

While we will admit this is Leap year, and that "all is fair in love and war," this hold-up wedding is going a little too far.

We are getting the cold shoulder from May all right!

Jack Frost threatens to nip the tomato plants before he takes his departure.

Man in London, Ont., turned his sock into a home bank. When arrested on a charge of vagrancy, he rolled down his sock, extracted a roll of greenbacks, paid a fine of $10 and costs and left the court dumfounded.

No doubt the weather man will make it hot for us for all the uncomplimentary remarks we have passed upon him lately.

R.C.A. Leaves Monday Evening.

Everything is a stir at the Tete de Font Barracks where preparations are being made for the departure of the R.C.A. and R.C.A. for Petawawa. The troops, comprising twenty officers and 250 men, will leave Monday at 7 p.m. and will be away about three months. The guns are now being loaded on freight cars.

A Lucky Purchase.

We were able to buy a quantity of young men's tweed suits at factory cost which we are passing on to you for $15; sizes 36 to 40.

FRONTENAC SCHOOL CLUB.

The Election of Officers Held Over Till the Fall.

A meeting of the Frontenac Home and School Club was held on Thursday night, with the president, Mrs. S. A. Salisbury, presiding.

It was decided to leave the election of officers over until the fall. Arrangements were made to hold a sports day for the children in June. A letter was received from the Board of Education, enclosing $25 to help in the purchase of a moving picture machine. A letter was also received from Mrs. Monk, acknowledging the letter of condolence sent to her regarding the death of her husband, and also a letter from Mrs. Patton, thanking the club for a donation of fruit sent to her children while ill.

At the close of the business meeting, Principal McKee showed some new pictures on the machine and they were much enjoyed.
