NATIONS WILL RISE THROUGH KNOWLEDGE

Canada Must Do More Along Lines of Research, Says Dr. Tory, Edmonton.

Nations of the future will rise to the top through knowledge. If Canada is to hold her own she must do more along the lines of research and the training of the brains of her youth, the best to be had. So argued H. M. Tory, D.Sc., LL.D., F.R.S.C.

Dr. Tory's story of scientific progress was interesting and as wonderful as a fairy tale. Somewhere, in an attic perhaps, an idea is born in the mind of a man, which grows and grows till it turns world affairs upside down.

This must be changed, Canada has the brains within its own borders and they must be freed for such work. Since the war, nations have realized the importance of this work and the nation that is going to lead is going to lead through knowledge.

LETTERS To The Editor

An Appreciation.

Portsmouth, May 26.—(To the Editor): Would you kindly allow me the use of the columns in your valuable paper to pass a few comments in regard to the mishap which occurred at the Strand theatre on the night of the 24th?

Again thanking you, I remain, yours truly, WILLIAM H. DAVIES, Mowat Sanatorium.

OPEN SUMMER CAMP FOR THE AMERICANS

Rochester Man Has Purchased Property at Bass Lake, Near Brewer's Mills.

Otto R. Rohr, of the Stecher Lithographing Company, Rochester, N.Y., has purchased the farm of Dennis Murphy, at Brewer's Mills and is negotiating for the purchase of Archibald McKendry's farm close by, and will open a summer camp for Americans.

It is the intention to stock the lake with fish. The lake is of clear water, fed by springs, and it is stated that in some places it is two hundred feet deep.

Houses of the sectional type are to be erected. Two have already arrived and are being erected.

Found the Lost Child.

Eganville was excited on Saturday through the disappearance of little Frances Prendergast, the two and a half years old daughter of Joseph Prendergast. The villagers searched for twelve hours and had about given up hope when she was found by Robert McCabe, a neighbor of Mr. Prendergast, lying in a Pappy bush on her hands and face, fast asleep. She was very hungry, having had nothing to eat since morning, but was otherwise little the worse for her experience.

COMMERCE AND MISSIONS.

The Letter Both Helped and Hindered by Trade.

The Christian Endeavor Society of Bethel Congregational church held a very interesting meeting on Monday evening, which was in charge of the missionary committee.

The topic for discussion was "Has Commerce Hindered or Helped Missions" and was discussed from both sides. Miss Lauretta Veale dealt with commerce as a hindrance to missions, and told of the bringing in of liquor and opium to degrade and debauch the natives. This in a great way undoes the good work done by the missionaries.

Miss Ella Porter told of how commerce had helped missions, how the bringing in of agricultural implements had helped their toil and better results from their fields.
