The Eyes Grow Old

In common with the rest of the body. After a person has reached middle life he naturally experiences growing difficulty in reading and doing other close work. Glasses will correct this. If they are not secured as soon as they should be, the eyes are unduly strained. A perfect service for this defect for those needing it.

A WHIG READER WINS A PRIZE

The general manager of The Fun Shop announces that a contribution from R. A. Bell, Entertainer, a Whig reader of the Fun Shop daily column, has been accepted and that Mr. Bell has been sent a cheque. Other readers are invited to send fun contributions to the New York office.

INJUSTICE.

By John J. Bormida.

The "wise guy" steals a million bucks— Ah! He's a master mind. And through his influence, he ducks The law. No guilt they find.

The poor man steals a loaf of bread, And gets one year in jail. Although half-starved and nearly dead, His pleas most often fail.

The hallplayer steals in every game. This life is awful queer. The more he steals the more his fame; When he goes home, we cheer.

The sweetheart steals a little kiss; Asks her to be his wife. In time he weds this little miss, And the poor young chap gets life!

Our Own

HOROSCOPE Department.

Mr. Fred Neilsen. Dear Fred: "If you were born on June 3rd, your life will be under the influence of Pisces, which, translated from the Gum Arabic, means Poor Fish. That is to say, however far out of your depth you may be, you will always be in the swim. Success will ever attend you. You will always look well in light grey spats. You should, however, beware of banana peelings, blonde women, and trombone players with gold teeth. You will be married twice: once in Reno, and once in earnest.

FINAL PROOF.

By Cecil Taylor.

She loves simple, homely things: A rustic cot in some secluded place, With chores to do, and gowns devoid of lace;

She loves simple, homely things!

She loves simple, homely things: To cook, to sew, and hang clothes on a line; I'm proud—last night she promised to be mine!

She loves simple, homely things!

One of the Duties of a Young Lady Employed in a Doll Factory.

Making Eyes.

You Tell Him—We Stutter! A young girl from England was visiting her cousin Frank in America, relates Sydney B. Cameron.

One beautiful day, while hiking through the woods, they came upon a brook. With his cousin's permission Frank took off his shoes and stockings, rolled up his trousers to his knees, and then took the girl in his arms ready to cross the brook. The young lady was delighted at so extraordinary an experience.

Half-way across she burst out: "Ripping, it's positively ripping!" Frank stopped in his tracks and shouted: "What the Devil's ripping!"

Jingle-Jangles.

Any funny, nonsensical rhyme that will make Fun shop readers laugh is a Jingle-Jangle. It must be in two lines. For example:

1 After winter comes the spring; Tonsils hurt like everything.

2 Cows have horns and sheep have wool; Dentists have a lot of pull.

You will undoubtedly contribute funnier Jingle-Jangles than these. Address them separately to Jingle-Jangle Department, The Fun Shop, 110 West 40th Street, New York City.

An Important Factor. Teacher: "How old would a person be who was born in 1880?" Pupil: "man or woman?"

Settin' in the Square. Such days as this you'll find a lot of fellers in the square, Settin' on the benches and restin' themselves there, Loadin' from the toll and the labors they ain't done,

And takin' mighty keeful keer to keep out of the sun, Clawin' and acarstchin' and talkin' politics, And lowin' that this town of our'n is in an awful fix,

Some set and yawn and argy, and others no not fret,

And 'stead of doin' anything, aw, they just simply set. Judge Bragg and old Doc Emory and Cap'n Limpy Brown B'lieve upon the quiet this is a plumb dead town. But if a stranger happens by and wants to take a set, And kick a little on the town, well, you'd just better bet He dasn't knock old Pruntytown, for when he starts his say They jump him like a pack of wolves and send him on his way. And days and nights and Sundays you'll find 'em all right there, Settin' and a-argyin' out in the public square. —Tennyson J. Daft.

The New Interpretation. Heck: "Say, what does R.S.V.P. on this party invitation mean?" Peck: "Who sent it?" Heck: "Joe Boozet." Peck: "Oh, that means Rye, Scotch, Vermouth and Port." —T. E. Mahoney. (Copyright, 1924, Reproduction Forbidden.)

Readers are requested to contribute. All humor: epigrams for humorous mottoes, jokes, anecdotes, poetry, burlesques, satires, and bright sayings of children, must be original and unpublished. Accepted material will be paid for at $1.00 to $1.50 per line for poetry according to the character and value of the contribution, as determined by the Editor of "The Fun Shop." All manuscripts must be written on one side of the paper only, should bear name of this newspaper, and should be addressed to Fun Shop Headquarters, 110 West 40th Street, New York City. Unaccepted contributions cannot be returned.

OBITUARY

Mary E. Lambert. At her home, 141 Hickson avenue, Kingston Junction, at 3.30 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon, occurred the death of Mary E. Lambert, eldest daughter of Anselm (Samuel) Lambert and Mary Ann Cramer. Deceased had been in poor health for some time.

Miss Lambert was born in Kingston and always resided at her late residence on Hickson avenue. She leaves one sister, Margaret M., of Kingston, and three brothers, Samuel J., of Toronto, Michael B., of Kingston and Louis A., of Rome, N.Y. Deceased was a devout member of St. Mary's Cathedral and of the League of the Sacred Heart. Her many friends and acquaintances will grieve to learn of her death. Rev. Father J. Coyle officiated at the mass and the pallbearers were: Messrs. M. Lambert, L. Lambert, S. Lambert and J. Taylor.

The I. Roman firm had charge of the funeral arrangements.

Goes to Ottawa.

The Ottawa Citizen states that Thomas A. S. McKee, who has resigned as principal of Frontenac public school, has been appointed to the teaching staff at the Kent street school at Ottawa, and will take over his new duties at the opening of the fall term.

GANANOQUE

May 29.—Rev. Mr. Mick has a new Franklin car and W. E. Rees a Willys-Knight.

W. O. Jones leaves today for Oshawa where he will be a guest at a house party at R. S. McLaughlin's in honor of the principals in the Watkins-Foster wedding which takes place in Toronto Monday next. Mr. Jones is to be one of the ushers at this wedding.

Mrs. Frank Keyes and son, Gerald, have returned home after a motor trip to Watertown, Rome and other points in New York state.

Miss Anne Olsen, Kingston, is the guest of Mrs. Edward McMaster. In the approach and putting competition last Wednesday afternoon, the first round ended in a tie for Edward Taylor, J. H. Sampson and Ivor Stevens, each with a nine. The play-off, as previously announced, was won by Edward Taylor, his score being ten and the other two eleven each.

The Methodist conference opens here next Monday. Miss M. Hanley, Kingston, is the guest of her brother, Rev. A. J. Hanley.

The old building two doors west of King street school is being torn down, and will be replaced by a garage which will be under the proprietorship of A. T. Sheets. It is also understood that the other old buildings adjoining will be converted into stores or dwellings that will be a pride to the main thoroughfare.

Bill Easter, Tom Sawyer, P. Holmes, Doug. Morrison and R. Jackson, Brockville, were in town Wednesday evening for the Canoe Club dance. Kingston sent even a larger number than usual, many automobiles and the bus arriving with capacity numbers.

Death removed one of the Leeds county centenarians yesterday in the person of Johnson Redmond, who has spent his whole life in this county and for the past few years has been a resident of the town. He was an interesting and prominent figure on the streets and very popular with young and old, possessing that geniality which symbolized good old Santa Claus in the minds of the little tots.

Miss Edith Louch, R.N., New York City, is home on a visit to her parents.

Mrs. Fred Mirandi and son, Gordon, Brockville, are visiting friends in town.

Mrs. Antsdel, who has been the guest of Mrs. Ward Vallean for the past several weeks, returned to her home in Ottawa yesterday.

Miss Audrey Rees has returned home after a couple of weeks' visit with her sister, Mrs. Ira Kipp, Orange, N.J.

Mrs. W. H. McKanday left yesterday to visit friends in Watertown, and Lowellville, N.Y.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson and baby, Kingston, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson, Victoria avenue.

Dr. and Mrs. Sinclair, Mrs. Byron Boyce and Mrs. George Little motored to Brockville yesterday.

Dr. and Mrs. Stedman, Miss Lydia Abbott and Dr. Fraser returned from Toronto yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stunden, Winnipeg, who have spent the winter in the south, arrived in town yesterday and will spend the summer here with Misses M. and S. Stunden.

In the approach and putting competition among the ladies yesterday afternoon for the Mrs. C. H. Bird prize, Mrs. F. W. Bell won in a score of ten.

Loftus H. Reid, Toronto, elected grand master of Grand Black Chapter of British North America.
