The Eyes Grow Old

In common with the rest of the body. After a person has reached middle life he naturally experiences growing difficulty in reading and doing other close work. Glasses will correct this. If they are not secured as soon as they should be, the eyes are unduly strained. A perfect service for this defect for those needing it.

ROTARY CLUB HELD COMMUNITY SERVICE

Unique Event in the Methodist Church at Wilton on Sunday.

The community service held in the Methodist church, at Wilton, on Sunday afternoon, under the auspices of the Kingston Rotary club, was marked by a very large attendance. The church was filled to overflowing and the pastor, Rev. Mr. Dixon, remarked that it was the largest gathering ever held in the edifice. The service was unique, in that it was conducted by the Rotarians and the Rotary Annas. Rotarian Rev. J. S. Lafair preached the sermon, while Rotarians and Rotary Annas formed the choir. The service was of a most inspiring nature.

Rev. S. Dixon offered the opening prayer and the community singing was led by Rotarian Jack Elder. Mrs. A. N. Lyster presided at the piano for the entire service. The Rotarian choir rendered two beautiful anthems, "Jerusalem" and "Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus," and the musical part of the programme included a duet by Mrs. R. G. Andrews and Rotarian H. T. Singleton, a vocal solo by Mrs. Frederick Taylor and a violin solo by G. Radcliffe.

Rev. Mr. Lafair selected for his text Matthew, 13th chapter, 55th verse: "Is not this the carpenter's son? Is not his mother called Mary? And his brethren James and Joseph and Simon and Judas? Also Acts, 10th chapter, 28th verse: "And he said unto them, ye know how that it is an unlawful thing for a man that is a Jew to keep company, or come unto one of another nation; but God hath shewed me that I should not call any man common or unclean."

Rev. Mr. Lafair spoke of the important place taken in the world by the commonplace people. They were doing the best things in life. They were classed among the home-makers and were the people who were fighting the bravest battles. It was often the case that a man born with greatness would fall down afterwards.

The speaker's message was a most inspiring one and held the intense interest of the large gathering throughout. A. N. Lyster, president of the Kingston Rotary club, read the scriptural lessons.

The congregation extended a hearty vote of thanks to the members of the Rotary Club for conducting the service, which was attended by quite a large number of Kingston folk, apart from the Rotary Club.

Each morning on my desk I find,
My mail in neat array,
And each and every time my mind
Says, "Well, what's new to-day?"
Some fascinating thing I see
In every envelope:
A fortune, hap'ly, waits for me,
At least that's what I hope.

This one for instance, seems to be Addressed by some fair dame,
Who, having cast her eyes on me,
Now burns with love's bright flame.
But when the contents I explore,
All set to find a thrill, The billet-doux I'm looking for Turns out to be a bill.

Some envelopes quite regal are As if sent by a king,
And then disclose a circular
For bricks or some such thing.
But what completes my total wreck
And leaves me all forlorn
Is, when I think I've got a check,
To read: "You're overdrawn."

Good Idea.
Blake: "Since my wife learned Mah Jong she's developed a craze for doing everything Chinese." Drake: "I wish my wife would learn that game. Then maybe she'd wash my shirts."
—Paul S. Powers.

Sweet Sorrow.
"Look in my eyes, dear man," I cried,
"Look in my eyes and see The secret, lying buried inside;
Read it and tell it to me."
He looked in my eyes, that best of men,
O moment I fain would have missed,
He looked in my eyes, and charged me ten,
For he was my ocellist.

Dr. Walter E. Traprock, the noted traveller, caught a heavy cold over the week-end, and was unable to finish his reply to Seth Woskin's letter. He promises to have some kind of an answer next week.

VANISHING CREAM

Intuition!
Little Mary did not like to wash her face.
Her mother tried to coax her on by explaining that ladies were coming and would kiss her if she look clean.
Later, seeing her father washing his face, Mary said: "Daddy, I know why you're washing!"
—Mrs. Lily Karesh.

Humility.
The other day,
I had lunch
With a fellow who contributes
To this column.
He had bought a copy
Of this newspaper
Before entering the restaurant.
After we were seated,
He turned to this very page,
Scanned The Fun Shop hurriedly, Tore out his contribution,
And threw the rest of the paper
Away.

It so happens
His contribution was entitled:
"Modesty."
—Mervin L. Lane.

Jingle-Jangles.

Any funny, nonsensical rhyme that will make Fun shop readers laugh is a Jingle-Jangle. It must be in two lines.
For example:
1
After winter comes the spring;
Tonsils hurt like everything.
2 Cows have horns and sheep
have wool;
Dentists have a lot of pull.
You will undoubtedly contribute funnier Jingle-Jangles than these. Address them separately to Jingle-Jangle Department, The Fun Shop, 110 West 40th street, New York City.

There would be fewer heartaches in those Southern log cabins if only half of the Mammy song singers would send home a five spot now and then.

Send the "Lion" to his "Den." A hungry husband is hard to please.
If his steak is raw, it makes him burn; and if it's burnt, it makes him roar.

Piano "The People's Orchestra." Rubinstein once said: "I prefer the piano to any other instrument because it is a musical entity. So I speak of the piano as being the people's orchestra."

There is more truth in Rubin-stein's words than is perhaps apparent on the surface. Because the piano is a musical entity and is complete without the aid of any other musical instrument, is the reason why many thousands of boys and girls in Canada are playing and learning to play this king of instruments.

Violins, flutes, clarinets, cornets, and various other instruments one might name, are all delightful to listen to, and all have important missions to fill in the realm of music, but none of these instruments without some accompaniment is capable of giving listeners the maximum of pleasure.

The piano needs no assistance from other instruments. It can occupy the platform alone. It offers one the main features of the pipe organ, with its capacities of harmony as well as melody; and because the tone is created by percussion, it embraces such effects as those of the harp, the guitar, the drum, as well as the major elements of the orchestra.

That is why Chopin, the great composer, gave his all to the piano. That is why the piano is considered the basic musical instrument to-day.

What could we do without this grand and noble instrument?

The Adirondacks contain more than 100 scenic lakes.

FAME FOR STIRLING.

Brought By Donald Ross, Kingston Boy, Aged Fifteen.
A correspondent in the Peterboro Examiner from Stirling writes: Donald Ross, the high school student who has brought fame to that institution as well as to the village, by receiving third prize for an essay on forest conservation in the competition conducted by a Toronto newspaper with the sanction of the government, wears his new honors with becoming modesty. Donald is only fifteen years old, but in the third form at the high school. When the competition was announced he prepared his essay without taking his teacher, schoolmaster or friends into his confidence, so that his success created general surprise. If he had failed to secure a place among the winners no one here would have known that he had entered the lists.

Donald is the son of General A. E.
Ross, Kingston, and since the death of his mother about eight years ago, has been residing here with his grandmother, Mrs. S. H. Parker, and his maternal aunt, Miss Emma Parker. He has been a student in the high school for the past three years, showing special aptness in literature and history. To write an essay that won a prize among over 300 submitted required in addition to ability to express himself correctly in the

Dissolve Your Corns In Hot Water

This is the best and surest way to get rid of corns and callouses. Perfectly clean and painless, always successful, too, if you do it in this way: Cover over the corn or callous with a few drops of Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor. Do this morning and night. Take a hot bath and the thing is done. Simple! Of course it is. Successful. Yes, it always is.
Costs but little. Use Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor, and you're sure to get rid of corns, foot lumps and sore callouses. Sold by all druggists.

English language, a technical knowledge of the subject, a know- ledge remarkable in one so young.

Principal Halpenny of the Stirling high school, speaks in terms of praise of Donald, both personally and as a student. His natural ability makes it an easy matter for him to keep up with his studies. The young fellow is also interested in athletics, and is one of the best players in the high school baseball team, which is a member of the town league.
