

NEWS AND VIEWS FOR WOMEN READERS

LIFE'S SOCIAL SIDE

Editor of Women's Page, Telephone 2613. Private phone 867W.

Will the ladies who will be guests at the June ball at the Royal Military College send a short description of their gowns to the editor of the Women's Page before Saturday, June 14th.

A warm air that made the appearance of the gay frocks of early summer possible for the first time this season, fresh grass and the blue water of the lake and river gleaming in the distance, added their charms to the event which is always sure of a crowd of interested spectators.

COMING EVENTS

Notice of future events, not intended to raise money, 2c per word, minimum 50c; if paid to raise money, 4c per word, minimum $1.00.

Remember the Y.W.C.A. Tag Day, Saturday, June 7th. The "Y" stands for a happy, healthy girlhood.

Prof. and Mrs. M. B. Baker, William street, left to-day to spend some weeks in New York and Atlantic City. Mrs. McQuade, Trenton, who is visiting Mrs. C. J. Harper, Nelson street, returned home on Wednesday.

ed at luncheon at the Country Club to-day in honor of Mrs. James Cappon, who has recently returned from abroad.

Mrs. Henry Joseph, Montreal, held a reception this afternoon in honor of the delegates of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom.

Mrs. Charles Dalton, Kingston, is in Ottawa on a visit, the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Robert J. Edmunds, Marlborough avenue.

Mr. Robert Allen, Clergy street, has gone to spend a few weeks with his sister, Mrs. William Newman, and Mr. Newman at Lorneville, Ont.

AUNT HET

"I reckon all of us hanker to tempt Fate, and I won't never be satisfied until I git the courage to swat a fly on Pa's bald spot."

The Editor hears

That the Y.W.C.A. is going to appeal to the citizens of Kingston by a tag day advertised on this page in the "Coming Events" column.

That Miss Peggy Foster, now Mrs. W. R. Watkins, returned to the old fashion of having ten bridesmaids who were frocked in flower-like creations of orchid chiffon over pink made with long waists and full skirts.

That Kingston people admired the riding of the R.M.C. cadets at their mounted sports on Wednesday, just as much as did the crowds who thronged the Arena in Montreal.

The world of science is not exempt from romance for we hear that even in the midst of X-ray laboratories and the work carried on there, Cupid has penetrated, and shot his dart into the hearts of the discoverer of insulin and a bright faced girl who has been employed in the laboratory of the Toronto General Hospital.

That the doctors who will judge the babies at the big Kiwanian Carnival are brave men. Babies are all so lovely that it is next to impossible to say which is the best and quite impossible to satisfy any mother that her darling is inferior to any baby of the lot.

That the parks are looking lovely and were much admired by some of the visitors in town for the holiday. Dandelion blossoms star the grass, and the flower beds are beginning to be ornamental in their summer array.

ONTARIO DIOCESE W.A.

Holding Its Annual Meeting in Trenton—Reports of the Year's Work.

The thirty-eighth annual meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the diocese of Ontario opened in Canterbury Hall, Trenton, on Wednesday evening, the Lord Bishop of the diocese presiding.

On Thursday morning Holy Communion, at which the annual thank-offering was taken, was celebrated in St. George's church at 10 o'clock, the preacher being Rev. E. Clarke, Belleville. The members adjourned to Canterbury Hall to hear the address of welcome read by Mrs. A. L. McTear, Trenton.

On Thursday afternoon the officers' reports were read. The recording secretary reported a membership of 1,635 in the sixty-five senior branches; 256 in the fifteen girls branches; and 405 in the nineteen junior branches, a total of 2,296, not including the Little Helpers.

Miss Ethel Waldron, corresponding secretary, referred to the passing of three faithful members of the W. A., Mrs. J. O. Crisp, Kingston, Mrs. E. McCrudden, Belleville, and Mrs. McLeod Moore, who died in England at the home of her daughter.

Miss Louise Kirkpatrick, Dorcas secretary, reported total value of bales and church furnishings during the nine months from April 30th 1923 to December 31st 1923, when the financial year closed, as $1,654.99. Eighty-one bales were sent. Christmas boxes were sent to the mission schools in the west and also overseas. Forty-six outfits for Indian children were undertaken. The boot fund was entirely made up which was a great cause for rejoicing.

At the last annual meeting it was decided to end the financial year in December, so the treasurer's report, read by Miss M. Lewis, was only for nine months. Total receipts $6,072.61. The apportionment of the diocesan W. A. for the general pledge fund, $2,050, was fully met.

The report of secretary of literature, Miss Edith Pense, was read. The mission study book for this year was "Japan in Transition" and the little booklet "Our Mission Stations in Mid-Japan" was used to supplement it. Over a hundred copies of the Canadian Church Calendar for 1924 were purchased and sold. It is gratifying to report an increase in the sale of literature, especially in the number of study books sold.

Miss Edith Van Straubensee read her report of the Girls' and candidates secretary, and Miss Eleanor Reynolds, Brockville, of the Little Helpers.

An address was given by Miss Rabsjott, India on "The Hope of India." The evening session will be devoted to Junior work. The Trenton Juniors giving the "Missionary Alphabet." Miss Rabsjott an address on "Some Children of Kangra" and Miss Shaw will speak on "Our Japanese Cousins."

WOMAN'S INSTITUTE.

PITTSBURG. The Pittsburg branch of the Women's Institute held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. C. Rogers on Thursday, May 29th, at which there was a goodly attendance.

Knight and Miss Posselwhite sang a very pleasing duet. The meeting then closed by singing God Save The King. Afterwards a social half hour was spent and suggestions for programme planning were taken while the hostess served refreshments.

SHE WASN'T AFRAID

What Miss Lazier Said at Washington—Her Father Approved of Trip.

A Washington paper says: Miss Gwendolyn Lazier, who arrived here Saturday after a 700 mile trip from Belleville, Ontario, paid a tribute to the New York state police when interviewed.

Armed with a Spanish shawl, evening dress, a tooth brush and revolver, she has made the entire journey on her horse "Tip." Of the 32 days she has been en route, she has spent one day each in New York, Philadelphia and Wilmington.

"Of course, I wasn't afraid," she declared yesterday. "Why should I be? I only traveled in the day time, and people along the way were lovely to me."

Her one difficulty, she said, was her inability to sleep. Asked the cause, she said, "Excitement, I guess."

Coming along the way, she has been met in practically every town by the mayor. Dances, parties and all sorts of celebrations have been held for the pretty little Kanuck visitor. She also declared she had wonderful protection given by mounted police in New York state.

Garbed in a riding habit of black wool, high boots, a derby hat; her face innocent of any make up, and her blond hair bobbed, she presents a picture of health. She hardly looks her eighteen years.

Many strange incidents fell to her lot during the long journey. "Just because I happened to be a girl, lots of people were shocked," she said. "They wanted to know what my parents said, and all sorts of things."

"I haven't any mother, and my father approved. And I got here all right. So I don't see why any one should worry."

One thing of which she is proud is that out of $150 she was given to spend on the trip, she spent only $40. Twenty dollars of this bought shoes and hose in New York. That means she has traveled over 700 miles on $20. This should be quite a blow to those who talk of the extravagance of women.

Another thing she boasts about is the condition of her horse. "Tip," she says, is a war horse who belonged to a Canadian general, and has had a great deal of experience in making long distances. Nevertheless, she thinks he will be glad to get the rest on the homeward journey. Like his mistress, he will return to Canada by rail.

A valued part of her equipment is a small book she has carried with her and which contains the names of all those she has met on the way. Prominent among the signatures is that of General Smedley Butler, whom she met in Philadelphia.

She presented a hand engraved invitation to President Coolidge at 11 Saturday morning. The invitation, which is on sheepskin, has been slightly "mused" from contact with "Tip," but it has a distinction. It was brought by courier on the longest horseback journey that has been attempted in fifty years.

While coming through Princeton the boys presented her with a crazy-cat, which General Butler named "Felix." "I'll never give it up," she says.

A strange mixture of little girl and grown-up lady, she declares she hasn't done anything out of the ordinary. In spite of the many people she has met on the way, and the tremendous ovation given her in cities all along her journey, she isn't the least bit affected.

He who thinks he can find in himself the means of doing without others is much mistaken, but he who thinks others cannot do without him is still more mistaken.

While conscience is our friend all is peace, but if once offended farewell the tranquil mind.

Courage consists not in blindly overlooking danger, but in seeing it, and conquering it.

Constipation makes bright children dull—give them relief with Kellogg's Bran

Constipation dulls the youthful mind—makes children backward in their studies—makes them listless—and can lead to serious diseases. Constipation is a dangerous disease.

You cannot afford to take chances in getting relief. You cannot afford to experiment or put off. Kellogg's Bran brings relief—permanent relief—if eaten regularly. Even in the most chronic cases of constipation it is guaranteed to bring results. If it fails, your grocer will return your money.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and crumbled, has brought relief to thousands because it is ALL bran. Remember, only ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. That is why Kellogg's Bran is recommended by doctors. It sweeps, cleans and purifies the intestine.

Have your children eat it regularly—two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. Eat it with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in the wonderful recipes on every package.

The flavor is delicious—a crisp, nut-like flavor that delights the taste. Different by far from ordinary bran, which are unpalatable.

Begin serving Kellogg's Bran, cooked and crumbled, to your children to-day. Eat it yourself. The leading hotels and clubs serve it. Made in Toronto, Canada. It is sold by all grocers.
