IN MEMORIAM.

The Late James Albert Milligan of Enterprise.

Napanee Beaver. The village of Enterprise suffered a great loss on May 29th, when an honored resident, James Albert Milligan, passed to his eternal reward.

The late Mr. Milligan was born in Moscow, on February 3rd, 1863, the son of the late Horace and Eliza Milligan.

For many years he lived in Enterprise. He was married in 1890 to Miss Alice Johnston, of Bath.

He was a faithful member of the Methodist Church and a most regular attendant upon all its services.

He was a great sufferer during the last few months of his life, but bore his suffering with great patience and Christian fortitude.

He was greatly liked by all who came in contact with him in business and social life, and his influence, always on the side of that which was good, did much to raise the moral and spiritual life of his community.

He was a member of the Independent Order of Oddfellows, under whose auspices the funeral was conducted, and was also a member of the Chosen Friends.

He leaves to mourn the loss of a kind husband and father, his widow, and one daughter, Mrs. Eric Jackson; also three brothers, Reuben, of Enterprise; Alfred, of Centreville, and Phenicis, of Gladwin, Mich., and one sister, Mrs. Miles Keech, of Vassar, Mich.

OBITUARY

The Late Miss Reta Hiscock.

After an illness of but a little more than a day, death claimed Miss Reta Hiscock, Collingwood street, on Friday afternoon.

Miss Hiscock, who was a valued teacher in Victoria public school, taught her class on Wednesday and was apparently in good health that evening.

Next morning she felt unwell and was attended by the family physician. On Friday morning an immediate operation was deemed necessary and this was performed in the General Hospital, but little hope was held out for her recovery owing to shock and at four o'clock she passed away.

Her sister, Miss Grace Hiscock, graduate nurse, had been summoned from Detroit, Mich., and was with her when she died.

The news of her passing was heard with great sorrow by her wide circle of friends, and deep sympathy is expressed for her mother, who herself has just recovered from an operation.

The late Miss Hiscock was the eldest daughter of the late Joseph Hiscock. She was an arts graduate of Queen's university and also of the faculty of education.

After teaching for a time in western Ontario, Miss Hiscock returned to Kingston and for some years taught in the Sydenham public school. Latterly she had been teaching in Victoria school, being in charge of the senior fourth class.

She had prepared her pupils for the high school entrance and her work was practically complete for the term, as her list of those who would pass the entrance without examination was finished this week.

Everything was in order, and for her "school was out." Her pupils were preparing to send flowers to her sick room in the hospital when they learned that the one they loved very dearly and who had furthered them in their education would be with them no more.

Her teacher associates too deeply mourn her passing.

In religion Miss Hiscock was a Methodist, a member of Sydenham street church. Besides her mother she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Thomas Mack (Florence), Detroit, Mich., Miss Grace Hiscock, also of Detroit, and one brother, Howard, Oshawa.

The funeral is to take place at two o'clock on Monday afternoon to Cataragui cemetery.

All is Well.
I think the gentle soul of him Goes softly in some garden place. With the old smile time may not dim Upon his face.

He who was lover of the Spring, With love that never quite forgets, Surely sees roses blossoming And violets.

Now that his day of toil is through, I love to think he sits at ease, With some old volumes that he knew Upon his knees.

Watching, perhaps, with quiet eyes, The white clouds drifting argosy; Or twilight opening flower-wise On land and sea.

He who so loved companionship I may not think walks quite alone, Falling some friendly hand to slip Within his own.

Those whom he loved aforesaid, still, I doubt not, bear him company; Yes, even laughter yet may thrill Where he may be.

A thought, a fancy—who may tell? Yet I who ever pray it so, Feel through my tears that all is well; And this I know.

That God is gentle to His guest, And, therefore, may I gladly say, "Surely the things he loved the best Are his to-day."

—Theodosia Garrison, in Boston Transcript.
