PONIES ON ROAD TO TOP OF HEAP

"Ted" Gallagher Said His Team Would Win in Belleville And They Did.

Belleville, June 18.—Showing abundance of pep and flushed with victory from their last two starts, the Limestone Crew invaded Belleville, and before one of the largest crowds that ever witnessed a game in this city, the occasion being the U. E. L. Celebration, carried off a well earned victory six to five, the win being due to hitting in the pinches.

A few preliminaries were engaged in. W. D. Robb, vice-president of the Canadian National Railway System, was an interested spectator and threw the first ball, with J. D. McMillan, of the same system in the role of hitter.

Kelly started the game but gave way to Gallagher in the sixth. As his team was leading when he went out he is credited with the win but the credit must fall to Gallagher who held the opposition after Kelly had allowed three runs with two men out in the fifth. It was not his day and from the first it was only a question of time when he would crack. "Teddy" came through and he was ably supported by his teammates, especially Compeau, the brilliant short stop. This boy is a find of the first water and has a more promising career in the profession than any other player in this league. He accepted eight chances without a miss, several of them being hard and robbed Belleville of sure hits. He covered acres of ground, three splendidly and got three safe blows in five trips to the platter. Somerville, at second, increases the defensive side of the team while on the offensive he hit a real double to the crowd.

Kingston got the jump in the first with two counters on a double, single, a stolen base and fielder's choice. Belleville forged to the front in the fifth with a trio of counters after two men were put away by a double killing on hits by Ouellet, Weir and Ross. Kingston went ahead again in the sixth when they added another brace by hits from Compeau and Batstone along with a bad fumble by Meagher. After the damage was done Ouellet knocked the next three over in succession. Kingston apparently clinched it in the eighth with another pair on two successive doubles by Batstone and Somerville but Belleville, fighting gamely, tried to even the count but fell short by one. After two were out in Belleville's half, Hagerman, Williams and Meagher singled cleanly and as the play was made on Williams at the plate Meagher went to third. Everybody was safe and gloom appeared. It was short lived however as Gallagher made A. Weir hit to Somerville to end the agony. In the ninth Gallagher was invincible and got the top half easily.

PADDOCK'S GENIUS AS ANALYZED BY THE CAMERA.

The three most important physical factors which make for success in the sprints are (1) the start, (2) the stride and (3) the finish.

No sprinter leaps away from the line faster than the gifted Californian, no sprinter has a longer or more perfectly timed stride, and none a finish more peculiarly his own. Little wonder, then, that he has made track history that promises to endure for years.

Paddock's tumultuous finishing style, wherein he literally throws his body at the tape, is frowned upon by critics. They say it is unorthodox and a hindrance to maximum speed.

Incidentally, Paddock has reconsidered a previously arranged programme and is now getting ready for participation in the Olympiad.

OSHAWA TEAM WINS AT PETERBORO 6-4

Peterboro, June 18.—Oshawa staged a rally in the ninth innings of today's game with Peterboro and scored two runs beating the Petes six to four after one of the most exciting games of the season. Both Heckman for the homesters and Dainty for Oshawa were hit hard, but there was some fast fielding behind them that kept the score down.

A wild pitch by Dainty in the eighth in trying to purposely pass Legon let the Petes tie the score, but R. Fair opened the ninth with a triple and after Morrison was thrown out Rowden doubled scoring Fair and came home himself on a passed ball and Holyman's fumble. Legon and Hall had three hits each for Peterboro and Rowden three for Oshawa.

TOMORROW NIGHT

The crowds will turn out tomorrow night for one of the biggest attractions in a long time when Belleville will meet Kingston at the Fair Grounds in a regular C.O.B.L. fixture. The Kingston team, in spite of past reverses, has its eyes on the C.O.B.L. pennant in earnest and will put forth every effort to down the Trunks here. It is a week since the local fans had a senior game and they will be on their toes to see it.

Fans are requested to keep outside the foul lines and at least one hundred feet back from the fielders in order to prevent any arguments or disputes and give the players every chance. Owners of cars park them in danger spots at their own risk. It will be a good game and will start sharp on time.

Plumbers vs. Printers. The Plumbers and Printers are scheduled to meet in a Mercantile fixture at the cricket field this evening and if the Printers can get all their stars together it should be a good contest. Plumbers have won the only Mercantile game played so far.

INTEREST IS SHOWN

In Organization of St. Lawrence Fish and Game Protective Association.

Considerable interest is being shown by citizens in the organization of the St. Lawrence River Fish and Game Protective Association. Since the announcement last week of the formation of this body, a number of citizens have sent in their dollar bills for membership. C. R. Webster, the solicitor for the association, has drawn up by-laws similar to those used by similar organizations in the province, such as the protective association of Sudbury.

The need of such an organization is pointed out by a resident who has been a follower of this kind of sport all his life and who has been in close touch with local conditions. At one time fishing about Kingston was exceptionally good and many American tourists were attracted here for that reason. The proprietor of a local hotel had a yacht and it was not an uncommon sight to see it going up the lake in the morning with half a dozen rowboats of American tourists in tow. Then licenses for hoop and gill nets were granted and the St. Lawrence's reputation for fishing accordingly diminished. The same authority claims that experience has shown it is almost an axiom here that the fewer the nets the more fish there are.

The new association is not only seeking to abolish all net licenses but to prevent illegal fishing of all kinds. The same resident tells of two local men coming across a gill net, without any name on it, at "The Specks." The net ran for two miles and contained around seventy-five large bass. A government boat found another unnamed net with fifty bass in it. Stories are also told of motorboats coming by night, presumably from the American side, to the local shores to take home cargoes of fish. The association is against all sale of game, it being pointed out that whereas a fisherman might get twenty-five cents for a bass a tourist might be attracted here by the hope of catching such a specimen. Another improvement desired by members of the association is that day fishermen here from the States should not be given fishing privileges for the season for the same fee ($5) as tourists who come here, hire local guides and enhance the tills of local hotels. In these ways tourist traffic to this centre would be encouraged.
