OSHAWA TRIMMED UP THE PETES ONCE MORE

Defeated Solomon's Crew 5-0 in Oshawa on Saturday.

Oshawa, June 21.—Inability of the Petes to hit with men on the paths resulted in the Oshawa's shutting them out here this afternoon, the final score being 5 to 0. While the visitors failed to connect at the opportune time the locals hit when safe clouts were needed and four of their five runs were of the earned variety. Dainty, the local twirling ace, was invincible in the pinches and he made a specialty of getting out of bad holes after he was personally responsible for getting into them. He struck out seven and walked six, the Petes having no fewer than 14 men left on bases. Serth was assigned to hurling duty for Peterboro and his shoots were no mystery for the greater part of the game although he tightened up on several occasions when the locals were dangerous. Both pitchers were wild at times. Serth hitting R. Fair, Wilson and Dainty, while Dainty soaked Serth a couple of times. Singles by W. Fair and Murray and Tyson's sacrifice fly netted the locals a counter in the first frame. In the fifth they added another when R. Fair took first when he was hit and scored on Rowden's three-bagger. In the sixth Oshawa added two more, Murray getting to first on Holyman's error, second on a passed ball and scoring on Tyson's sizzler down the third base line which was good for a double. Dainty's single sent Tyson to third and he counted on Roddick's hit to right. In the seventh the locals got their final tally. Rowden got on when his grounder to Harrison took a bad hop. He was sacrificed to second by Fair and came home on Murray's single.

The teams:

Peterboro—Logan, lf; Johnston, 2b; Swanson, c; Heckman, rf; Harrison, 1b; Holyman, ss; Collins, 3b; Shaughnessy, cf; Serth, p.

Oshawa—Rowden, lf; W. Fair, rf; Murray, 3b; Tyson, c; Dainty, p; Roddick, lf; Wilson, 1b; R. Fair, cf; Morrison, ss.

Score by innings: R. H. E.

Do You Know Baseball?

By Billy Evans

Questions.

1. There are two out of three men on the bases. The count is three balls and two strikes on the batter. The next pitch is wide of the plate, making the fourth ball. While the runner from third is jogging toward the plate, the coach runs alongside him and pats him on the shoulder. The umpire called the runner out because of the actions of the coach, retiring the side. Was that the correct ruling?—H. W.

2. What is the proper ruling on the following situation? There is a runner on first. On the hit and run the batsman drives a ground ball to the first baseman, who touches the bag, retiring him. He then throws the ball to the second baseman, who touches the bag ahead of the runner. Does that retire the runner or must he be touched? If the runner, when he saw the throw beating him to second, turned and got back to first before being touched, would he be safe?—J. C.

Answers.

1. The umpire should have paid no attention to the action of the coach. The base on balls entitles the batsman to first and all runners to advance one base, scoring the runner from third. The pat on the back by the coach in no way interfered with the play, which is the thought of the rule.

2. Mere touching of the base did not retire the runner at second. When the batsman was retired, the force was removed, and the runner had to be touched. He had a perfect right to go back to first if able.

YEP, BOONE HAS BEEN A BOON TO THE RED SOX

IKE BOONE.

The most astonishing development of the major league season has been the unexpected uprising of the Boston Red Sox, a team which finished an emphatic eighth last year.

And one of the main reasons for the phenomenon is Ike Boone, a young outfielder from the Texas League. Mr. Boone has truly been a boon to Manager Fohl. His hitting has been both timely and spectacular, and his work in the field has been up to the standard in every detail.

Boston fans have lifted him to the pedestals of idolatry formerly occupied by Speaker, Hooper and Lewis when these outfielding notables cavorted at Fenway Park.

What cannot be repaired is not to be regretted. Literature is a great staff, but a sorry crutch.

It ranks right along with the stroke and the bisque.

When your opponent gives you a stroke he specified the hole at which it may be taken; when he gives you a bisque—which is another silly way of saying stroke—you elect the hole at which the handicap applies. But a woof is neither a stroke nor a bisque. It is simply a woof.

When your opponent agrees to give you a woof at, say, the third, fifth and sixteenth holes, it means that you are to have the privilege of cutting loose with a blood-freezing shriek at any one of these holes, and at a time when you calculate it will do him the worst harm.

Usually the woof is most effective on the putting green, and that's where it gets its biggest play.

CITY LEAGUE

Tomorrow evening there will be another Mercantile fixture between Taners and Civil Service. Tanners have made one appearance this year when they were defeated by Plumbers but the Civil Servants are as yet unknown to the baseball public and are expected to cut quite a dash. Printers are resting easily on their laurels awaiting their next battle.

FRANKIE GUSHO.

Milwaukee, June 23.—Milwaukee claims the youngest golf professional in America. He is Frankie Gusho, 17 years old, instructor at the Fox Point Country Club, a graduate from the caddie ranks.

Frankie is gifted with a splendid physique. He owns a fine pair of arms and shoulders and, with these, gets great distance off the tee.

Frankie is only 5 feet 6 inches tall, but midget size is no serious handicap in golf, as Cyril Walker, the new open champion, recently demonstrated at Detroit.

BY JOE WILLIAMS.

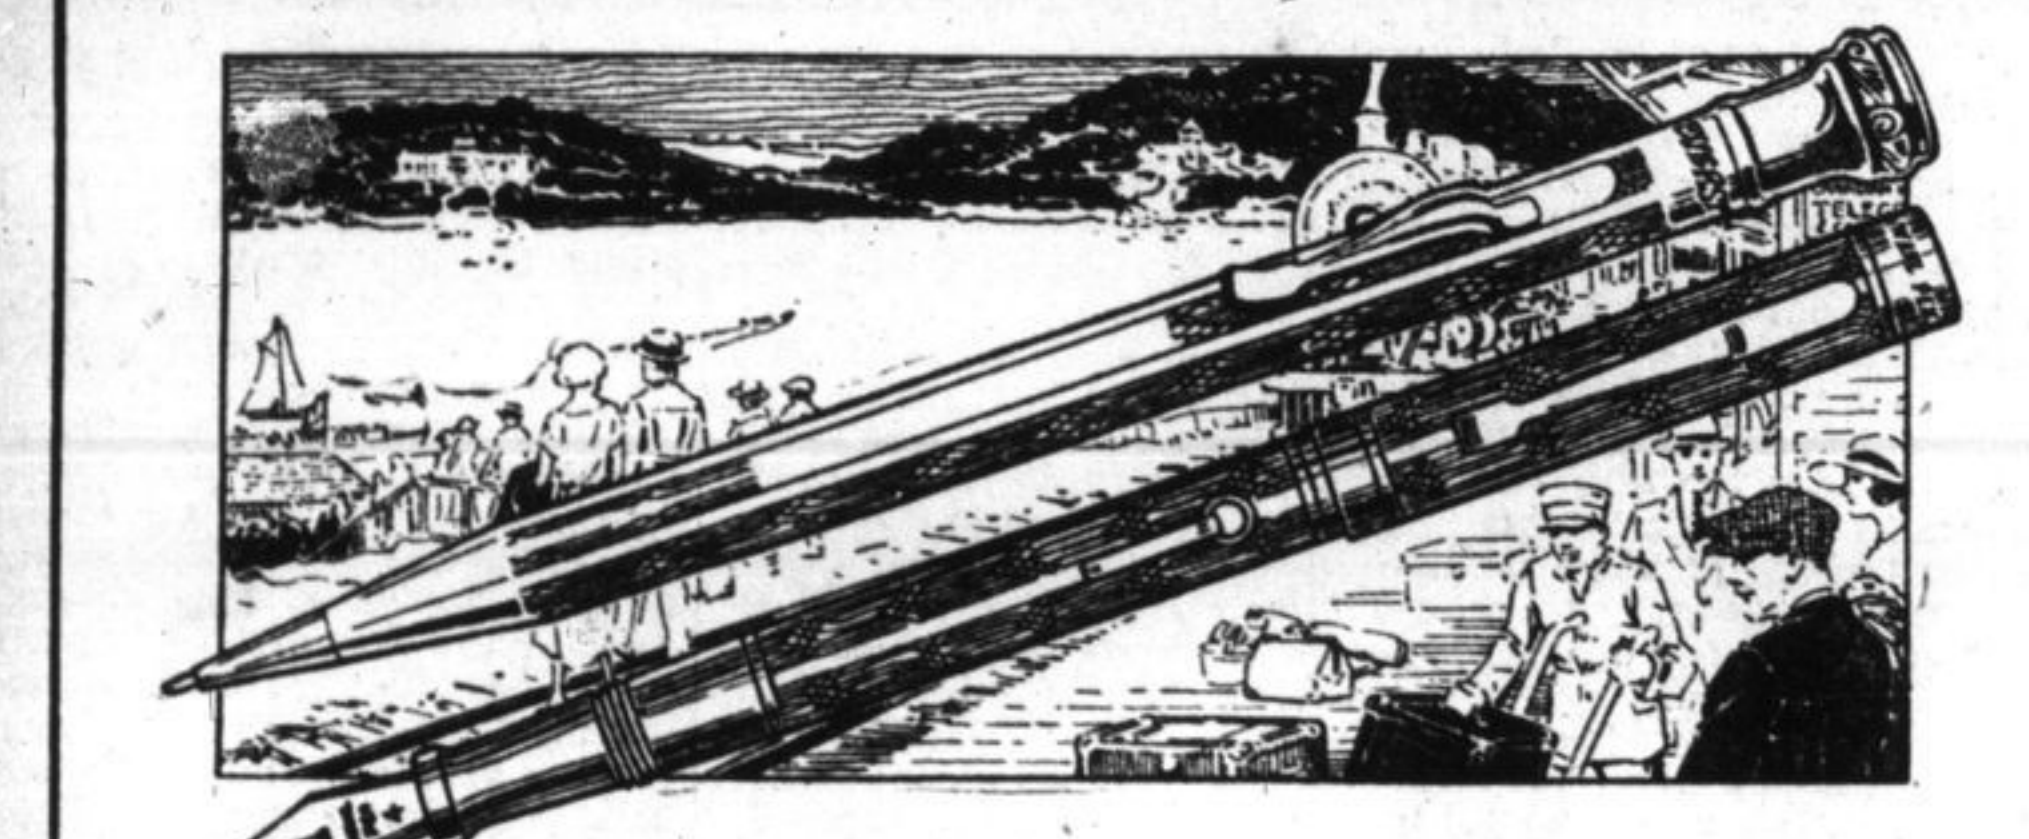

Razz and Jazz have entered the stately game of golf, supplanting, on occasions, the funeral silences which are fundamentally identified with the ancient Scottish obsession.

Where the game was formerly played at all times with the most profound dignity, and an almost religious respect for the convention, tournaments running to the freak and foolish are now common.

For instance, a "woof and riot" tournament is announced by the Shackamaxon Club at Westfield, N.J. In this tournament golfing etiquette is abandoned. All the contestants leave the tee at the same time. The high scores at each hole drop out and become gallery-lites. The customary inhibitions are not placed on the spectators. Yelling and rioting are encouraged.

Imagine trying to drop a six-footer for a win with a hundred guys barking, "Hold 'em, Millsaps!" or "Smith Brothers, Rah, Rah, Rah!"

This, of course, is a plain nut event. It doesn't indicate that golf is drifting in that direction. Just the same, the wild and untamed "woof" now occupies a definite position in the system of handicapping.

organized baseball, a total of 264 hits in a series of seven games between the San Francisco and Salt Lake City clubs of the Pacific Coast league played at the local park recently, left the fans gasping.

An explanation other than the fallibility of pitchers was sought, since the batting orgy was participated in generally by players on both teams and affected virtually all the twirlers of the rival clubs. J. Cecil Alter, chief of the weather bureau here, hazarded the opinion that the high altitude of Salt Lake City, 4,200 feet, had something to do with it. The ball finds less resistance in the rarified atmosphere of the Utah metropolis than in the sea level cities along the Coast, the forecaster said, and the players are in better physical condition.

This theory gained support among sports writers who recalled the number of freak plays here supposedly due to atmospheric vagaries.

San Francisco won six out of the seven slugfests with a total of 150 hits and 100 runs. Salt Lake City chalked up 114 hits and 70 runs.

Germans Like Hockey.

Berlin, July 5.—Hockey and cricket, played by few in Germany before the war, are gaining in popularity, but tennis continues the game most in vogue. While the number of golf players has greatly increased in the last few years, the spread of this game is hampered by the lack of grounds for links. Berlin, for instance, has only two courses.
