What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

GRIPPING LOVE MELODRAMA A big cast and a big story go hand in hand in Sam Wood's latest production for Paramount, "The Next Corner," which opens at the Capitol theatre to-day.

Conway Tearle, Lon Chaney, Dorothy Mackall, Ricardo Cortez and Louise Dresser are the featured players. The story, adapted to the screen by Monte M. Katterjohn from the novel of the same name by Kate Jordan, is one with a moral for every young married couple—the lesson we derived was one of satisfaction with our lot in life and well-discretion.

Miss Mackall is the wife, Conway Tearle the man and Ricardo Cortez a sort of wolf in sheep's clothing who leaves not a stone unturned to win Miss Mackall as Elsie Maury. Lon Chaney is Don Arturo's (Ricardo Cortez) foster brother and major domo, who when Arturo is killed by an enraged Basque peasant, believes Elsie to be solely to blame and does everything in his power to disgrace her in Maury's eyes—and we might add here that he fails delightfully. Miss Dresser is a pawn in Don Arturo's hands in shaping his ends—a sort of second-fiddle.

"The Arizona Express," another of the king of melodrama's sensational stage successes, is said to be a thriller. The picture will be offered at the Capitol theatre for two days commencing Friday. Pauline Starke, Evelyn Brent and David Butler have the leading parts.
