A Fable.
It was a dark, gloomy night, and the road was lonely.
Bang!
A tire had blown out. The heart of the man was very black, and he swore.
It was another night, more gloomy and lonely than the first.
Bang!
A tire had blown out. The heart of the same man was filled with joy and he grinned into the night. He had his girl with him.

DRY RED FLUTTERINGS

As Reported
By Jay B. Iden.

Esra Pingle, of Clover Leaf Farm, who keeps summer boarders, was leaning on the front fence talking to a new arrival the other day, when out in the meadow near the river a young man clad in a bathing suit leaped high in the air and detoured to the ground, his outstretched arms lending considerable grace to his movements.
When he touched earth again his rebound was magnificent. Then, like an excited fawn, he leaped and ran across the meadow, where he ended his exhibition with a most beautiful dive over the alder bushes into the river.
"Interpretive dancer?" asked the new boarder.
"Nops, humble bees," said Esra Pingle.

Mountain Mueh.
I love the mountains, you too, John dear,
The craggy cliffs, the streams so clear,
The sea-coast views, don't think me drifty,—
Please sign a check and send me fifty.
—J. L. Barry.

Speed.
Jones: "Did the Cop pick Smith up when he was speeding?"

Officer: "No, the Doctor picked him up after he quit speeding."
—J. Clyde Thomas.

GANANOQUE

July 10.—One of the prettiest weddings seen in Gananoque for a long time was that solemnized in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon at 3.30 by Rev. C. E. Kidd, when Hazel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gibson Haig, became the bride of Joseph Homer Shaw, Perth.

The church was beautifully decorated with daisies, ferns and wild roses. The bride, who was given away by her father, was exquisitely gowned in white plaited georgette and radium lace, her veil being caught with sweetheart rose-buds. She carried a bouquet of roses. The bridesmaids were sisters of the bride and groom, Miss Orma Haig and Miss Shaw, who wore lovely gowns of turquoise blue georgette and honey-dew georgette with large pictures hats to match. Their bouquets were sweet peas. The groomsmen were Hills Moulton, Perth, and the ushers were Messrs. Ford Haig and Allen Ewart, Perth.

During the signing of the register, the choir sang "O Perfect Love." Miss Fairbrother presided at the organ. After a dainty dejeuner at the home of the bride, the happy couple left by motor for the Adirondacks to spend their honeymoon, after which they will take up residence in Perth.

The annual meeting of the Gananoque Golf and Country Club took place Tuesday afternoon when the following officers were elected. Honorary presidents, Dr. Nichol, Mr. Sargent and T. Chambers Reid; president, W. T. Sampson; secretary, W. B. Mudge; vice-president, Dr. J. T. Rogers; Captain, L. S. Barr. The directors include A. W. Taylor, S. C. Taylor, Dr. C. H. Bird, J. H. Sampson, F. J. Skinner, George R. Webb, F. W. Bell, Lindsay Barr and D. Ford Jones. Chairmen of the various committees are: Property, S. C. Taylor; house, Dr. L. R. Stedman; greens, J. S. Hargraff; handicap, L. S. Barr; match, Garfield Hood. The secretary reported a membership of 125 playing members and 25 non-playing members.

Redmond Nalon, Rochester, N.Y., is visiting his parents on North street.

Mrs. Ronald MacDonald has returned from Montreal after a couple of months' visit there with her daughters, Misses Betty and Helen. Miss Mildred Woods of the Parliament and Bulloch staff has returned after a couple of weeks' vacation with friends in Toronto and Beaverton.

Broadcasting Market Prices Appreciated by the Farmers

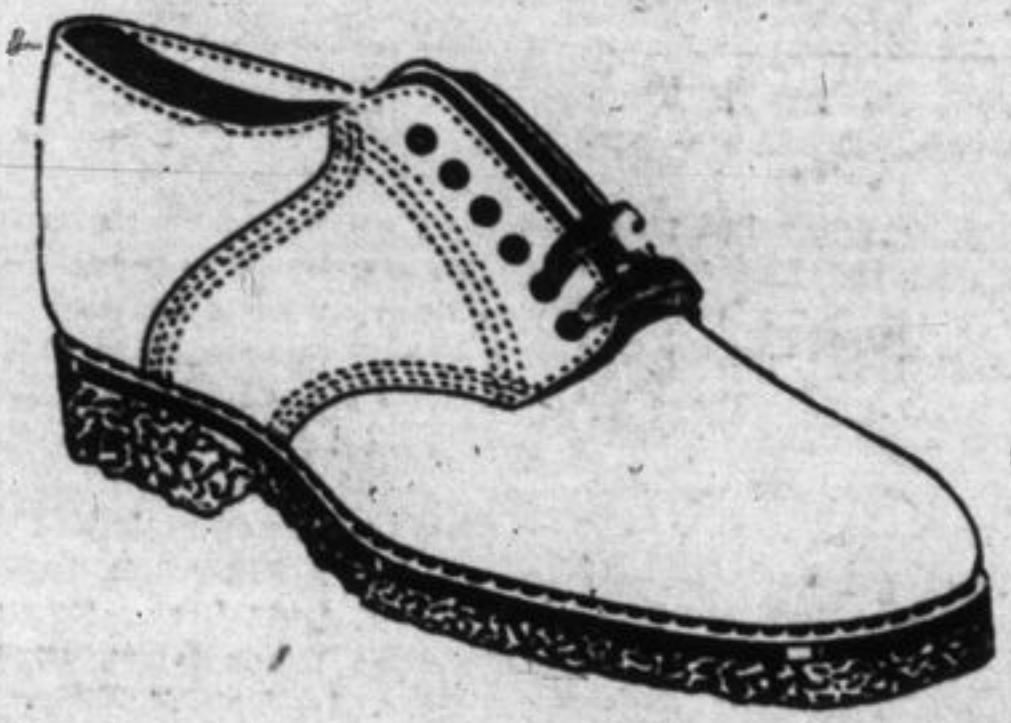

The broadcasting of the Kingston market prices by radio is being greatly appreciated by farmers throughout the district.

A farmer named Johnston, living at Moscow, reported to the Whig on Wednesday, that he had received the local market reports over the radio and that he greatly appreciated the information. Other farmers throughout the district have also received the prices over the radio.

The market reports are being broadcasted as a result of the action taken by R. J. Bushell. The latter had a conference with J. C. Stewart, of the live stock department at Ottawa, who was in the city recently, and as a result Market Clerk Wilson
