COMMITTED FOR TRIAL
Evidence in the Morris Case is Completed Before Magistrate Bradshaw.

Mrs. Inez Morris, whose preliminary hearing commenced before Magistrate Bradshaw Monday morning, was committed for trial on the second charge against her under section 273 of the Criminal Code, concealing the dead body of a child with intent to conceal the fact of childbirth. Regarding commitment on the first charge under section 271, neglecting to secure reasonable assistance in childbirth, the magistrate reserved his decision till 2 p.m. Tuesday.

On Monday afternoon the evidence was taken of Dr. C. H. Elliott, Dr. S. J. Keyes, Gunner E. Gearing and Albert Chevalier.

Dr. C. H. Elliott, who examined the accused on June 21st and treated her after her arrest, described the poor condition of her health, paleness and high pulse. The birth might have taken place three or four days previous to his examination, June 16th, possibly. He would judge it was the first child. In an average case illness would extend over two to twenty-four hours before birth. All evidence pointed to a natural birth. A doctor should be in attendance a couple of hours before birth.

Cross-examined by Mr. Day, Dr. Elliott said one could not say if there had been a doctor in attendance from her condition.

Re-examined by Mr. Hickey, Dr. Elliott said it was customary to call a doctor a little time after illness appeared. Had she been treated by a doctor the doctor would have made her stay in bed.

Dr. S. J. Keyes, who was called on June 21st by the coroner to examine the baby found in the water, said there was no evidence of drowning. Hemorrhage appeared to be the cause of death. One could not say if the umbilical cord had been broken or cut. It was unusually long, as if severed near its placental attachment. It would have been tied if a doctor had been in attendance. It was a healthy, normal, full-term baby. When he examined it, the baby might be one to seven days old. Under the circumstances the baby would die in two to seven minutes. There were no signs of decay on the body and it must have been in the water less than a week, though it might have been three or four days. It could have been born and died on the 16th, if properly kept from heat, flies, etc.

To Mr. Day Dr. Keyes said the condition of the cord might be caused by precipitate birth coming without warning or the mother being on her feet. The infant weighed eight or nine pounds, a normal weight.

To Mr. Hickey again, Dr. Keyes said precipitate birth would be one to three hours.

Gunner E. Gearing, who found the body of the infant on the evening of June 20th, was examined on both charges against the accused. A sheet near the Country Club, four to five feet from the shore, attracted his attention, and ten inches from the sheet was the body, on its back on top of the water. A stone was tied to the sheet with parcel twine. It would weigh seven to eight pounds.

Albert Chevalier, who is attached to the R.M.C., saw the child on the shore on June 20th. He said he had known the accused for three years. He had seen her near the spot where the child was found that morning. She was wearing the same clothes as in court. He was near the riding establishment when he saw her come up from near where the body was found. She was alone. She walked in a peculiar way. It was 7.30 or eight o'clock on the morning of June 20th. He passed her on the bridge as he went to Kingston after rations. He said "How do you do" and she nodded her head.

This ended the evidence on the first charge.
Mr. Day moved for dismissal of the charge on the grounds that there was no case showing wrongful intent coupled with neglect as required in Section 271. He put in no defence at this stage. The magistrate reserved decision on this motion till Tuesday.

The second charge was then read to Mrs. Morris, to which she pleaded not guilty. Mr. Hickey agreed to submit the previous evidence and Mr. Day agreed to waive his right of cross-examination. Mr. Day's motion that there was not sufficient evidence to warrant commitment on this charge was not allowed by Magistrate Bradshaw. Mr. Day said he would not submit any defence at this stage and the accused was committed for trial.

Invited for the week-end
—by Long Distance

If was Thursday afternoon in the country. Hospitable Mrs. Martin seemed disappointed. The week had slipped away before she knew it. No one had been invited for the week-end and there wasn't time in which to write.

One couldn't help feeling sorry for Mrs. Martin.

And then she thought of the telephone — Long Distance! What an inspiration!

In twenty minutes she knew the Smarts would come — delighted to — and what train they would be on. Splendid! — and she had ordered some extra supplies from her grocer in town to be shipped by express that night!

What a pleasant week-end she will have — thanks to Long Distance!
