A NEW HOTEL PROPOSITION

(Continued from page 1). vestment. The city's security that he will carry his part through will be the $70,000 in furniture and equipment installed by him.

The members asked many questions and discussed the offer from every angle and it was finally concluded, with one exception, that it was the squarest and best proposition ever submitted to Kingston in the hotel line.

The one exception was Joseph Nash, who asked many questions during the evening and sought to speak on another proposition he had received. Capt. John Donnelly hotly demanded that Mr. Nash "cut it out right away." He said that the meeting was called to discuss this one proposition and he would not stand for foolish and unwarranted interruptions by Mr. Nash.

Mr. Nash yelled something about $38,000 and Capt. Donnelly was once more on his feet and hotly denounced Mr. Nash, telling him that he must "cut it out" and asking him what he had ever done for his city. Finally the excitement died down and the business went on.

About every interest in the city was represented in the crowded room and the following motion was passed after being presented by Capt. Donnelly: "That we endorse this proposition and recommend it as a very favorable one to the city council and the citizens generally."

Any question regarding this latest hotel proposition, about the best yet submitted, will be gladly answered through the columns of the Whig.

Further protests by Mr. Nash brought a story from Mr. Nickle about two weather prophets in which the one said he told the weather a week ahead and the other followed a week after. "You are like the second fellow" said Mr. Nickle. "The men concerned do things and you merely tell what you would do."

Senator Lodge Recovering. Boston, July 29.—Doctor John R. Cunningham, the surgeon who is attending Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, said after his visit this morning that the condition of his patient was "excellent for a man of his years."

Senator Lodge is recovering from the effects of an operation performed yesterday afternoon after a critical recurrence of a former ailment.

On Friday evening, at 7.30 p.m., Jerry Hudson, the world's famous "human fly," who hails from New York, will climb the front of the City buildings, opposite the railway station. (If the weather is unfavorable, the event will be postponed to Saturday night.)

Hudson has gained a great reputation for scaling buildings, doing stunts on aeroplanes and substituting for Harold Lloyd in such pictures as "Safety Last."
