CLAIMS FOR PENSIONS OUTLAWED ON SEPT. 1
Ex-Service Men Are Reminded of the Impending Regulation.

Canadian ex-service men are reminded, in a bulletin issued by the Dominion command of the Great War Veterans' Association, that all claims for disability pensions will be outlawed after August 31st, 1924.
 The bulletin states that "every ex-service man who suffers from any disability which he believes to be related to his war service, should file his claim immediately. Such action may not lead to an early adjustment in his favor, but he will secure the basis of full consideration ultimately and protect himself in respect to any development of the disability." This warning also applies to dependents' claims, except that application may be made within three years after death or the date on which the applicant became dependent.
 The notification issued by the G.W.V.A. states further that "during recent years many disabled veterans have abandoned all hope of pensions following the receipt of a communication from the Pension Commissioners that the disability was not attributable to war service. These men are advised to again test their rights to pension."

BORDERED SILK

Here is an excellent example of how effectively bordered silk may be used. The printed design in black on the white gown affords all the trimming necessary, save the straps that break the plainness of the front. In buying a bordered material it is well to select one such as this with a design that may be cut for hangings and trimmings if necessary, as it allows greater latitude in the choice of a style. The sleeves are most attractive and are decidedly different from the average run.

DIAPHENIA
 Diaphenia like the daffodilly,
 White as the sun, fair as the lily,
 Hough ho, how I do love thee!
 I do love thee as my lamb
 Are beloved of their dams,
 How blest were I if thou wouldst prove me.
 Diaphenia like the spreading rose,
 That in thy sweets all sweets encloses,
 Fair sweet, how I do love thee!
 I do love thee as each flower
 Loves the sun's life-giving power,
 For dead, thy breath to life might move me.
 Diaphenia like to all things blessed
 When all the praises are expressed,
 Dear joy, how I do love thee!
 As the birds do love the spring,
 Or the bees their careful king,
 Then in requite, sweet virgin, love me!
 —Henry Constable
