LAWN SOCIAL HELD.

At Catarauqui To Buy Gifts for Methodist Church Children.

In spite of the threatening weather and the heavy showers which came on late in the evening, the lawn social held by the Methodist church Sunday school at Catarauqui on Tuesday was a big success. Everything offered by the ladies in charge was sold, with the exception of a small quantity of ice-cream and soft drinks, and the very large crowd in attendance had an evening of enjoyment. An orchestra from the city and several lady vocalists, who kindly volunteered their services, gave a splendid musical programme which was presided over by Rev. G. A. Stisco, the pastor. The affair was held on the parsonage lawn, which had been beautifully decorated by the committee in charge. Superintendent C. J. Graham extends his thanks to all the workers, musicians and donors of gifts and supplies who helped to make the event such a success. The proceeds, which were between $60 and $70, will be devoted exclusively to gifts for the children of the church next Christmas when the annual Christmas tree is held.
