HOW CAN POLICE PICK OUT TURKISH LADIES?

Edict That They Must Not Bathe in Ocean—A Difficult Task.

Constantinople, Aug. 20.—Turkish women must not bathe in the ocean, according to a recent edict of the local authorities, and the police have been given strict orders to see that the decree is given effect.

But this is what troubles the policemen: How can they determine her nationality when a woman has donned a bathing suit?

Non-Turkish women may bathe as before. Turkish women are more and more assuming western European habits and dress and bathing suits when worn by Turkish women look no different than when worn by a non-Turk. Is the question before the policeman, or a non-Turk to whom he will have to apologize for mistaking her nationality?

What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

"LILY OF THE DUST" AT THE CAPITOL TODAY.

It seems that in some way or other the name of Pola Negri in motion pictures is continually linked with tragedy. But "Lily of the Dust," a Dimitri Buchowsky production, her latest screen work for Paramount, like all great love stories, has a HAPPY ENDING.

"Lily of the Dust" was adapted to the screen by Paul Bern from the novel, "The Song of Songs," by Hermann Sudermann and the stage play by Edward Sheldon. Ben Lyon, Noah Beery and Raymond Griffith head the cast playing in support of the star.

The story is one of a beautiful girl who lives in a little garrison town—a girl whose beauty and fascination for men almost leads to her downfall. Pola's portrayal of the part is said to be her greatest screen work. Directed by Buchowsky who made "Men" and "Peter the Great," "Lily of the Dust" is lavishly produced, with colorful settings and invested with a cast that means perfection. There is no doubt but that this is one of the most outstanding hits of the or any season. It will be the feature attraction at the Capitol today and Thursday.

URGES EXTREME PENALTY.

For Leopold and Loeb, Murderers of Franks Boy.

Chicago, Aug. 20.—Two of the three high crimes for which Illinois provides the death penalty—murder, rape and kidnapping—were committed by Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, in a manner justifying nothing less than death on the gallows, Thomas Marshall, assistant state's attorney, told Judge John Caverly today. He urged the extreme penalty in an argument based upon the phraseology of the Illinois laws and formal charges connected with the kidnapping and murder of Robert Franks, to which the defendants have pleaded guilty.

The accused gave no visible signs that the repeated demands for the "death penalty" had been heard by them, and seemed more interested in the notes made by the counsel for the defense.

Mr. Marshall ridiculed the defense attempt to show mitigation of punishment by the testimony of mental experts. "No philosophy is an excuse for crime," he said.

ENGLISH SULTANA SOONES.

1 pound four (4 cups).
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon (scant) baking soda
2 ounces sugar (1/4 cup)
2 cup seedless raisins
Standard Oil of New Jersey
lard (1/2 cup)
1 egg
1 cup sour milk
Sift flour, baking powder and soda together and rub in the shortening then the sugar and raisins. Beat the egg slightly, add half of it to the mixture with the milk, making a dough that can be just handled. Roll or pat on the board, cut and brush over with the other half of egg. Bake in a hot oven 400 degrees for about fifteen minutes. The temperature of the oven, as well as ingredients and mixing, is very necessary to ensure success. The scones are delicious when split and served with butter, or butter and jam, or just plain.
