KINGSTON FIRST STOP FOR NEW YORK COMEDY

"The First Year"—Unique Prize Competition in Connection With It.

Kingston will be the first Canadian city in the coming theatrical season to see "The First Year," that screaming New York comedy which will come direct from New York City to the Grand Opera House for three days, Sept. 4th, 5th and 6th. From Kingston the play goes to Montreal where it will play at His Majesty's theatre.

"The First Year" is a whirlwind comedy which portrays the jokes and trials and tribulations of the first year of wedded bliss. It is presented by a splendid company and is one of those super-comedies which produce laughter from beginning to end without the slightest trace of suggestiveness or anything to shock the finest sensibilities. John L. Holden has a reputation for producing clever plays and this is one of his best.

But the prize stunt is the thing this time. In co-operation with the management of the Grand Opera House, the British Whig will give away five pairs of the best seats in the house for the performance of "The First Year" to young married couples. The first five couples, nearest to one year married, to present themselves at the British Whig office on Tuesday morning next, will be the lucky winners. Both bride and groom must be present and the nearness of the time they have been married to one full year will be a deciding factor. Everybody has a chance. No newspaper employees are allowed to compete.

As a special prize, any one of the winning couples presenting a sworn affidavit that they have not quarrelled during the time of their married life will be awarded box seats for "The First Year." If more than one couple should present an affidavit other points will be considered in making the decision.

Come on, brides and grooms, get in the race.

INSPECTOR ARRESTED FOR POSTAL ROBBERY

William F. Fahy, With Record of Notable Catches, Called "Brains of Plot."

Chicago, Aug. 28.—Postoffice Inspector William F. Fahy—often described as the best known and shrewdest sleuth in the whole government service—was arrested yesterday by United States Deputy Marshal Hal Carr on charges of being the "brains" of the $3,000,000 mail robbery at Roundout, Ill., on the night of June 12th.

"Bill" Fahy, the inspector who sent Big Tim Murphy and his pals to federal prison for the Dearborn station $380,000 robbery three years ago, was taken after a veritable convulsion of star sleuths of the eastern postal divisions had come to Chicago to assist Chief Postal Inspector A. E. Germer to identify the owner of the master hand that had appeared in every phase of the government's untiring day and night search for the "inside man."

According to Chief Postal Inspector C. H. Claranah of the New York district, who has been directing a constant surveillance of Fahy ever since a few days after the robbery, the famous detective has been followed to numerous "meets" with criminals with whom he is charged with conspiring.

Held in $50,000 Bail. Fahy was arrested in his private office at the federal building. He was immediately taken before United States Commissioner Henry C. Heiler, who fixed his bonds at $50,000, and ordered him locked up in the Kane county jail. He was taken to Geneva by Deputy Marshal William J. Roberts after making a brief statement in which he charged his arrest was due to a frame up of criminal and professional enemies. He will be arraigned on September 6th.

The warrants under which Fahy was arrested were issued on complaint of Chief Claranah and J. S. Lemen of Baltimore. It was said action was taken on evidence uncovered by themselves and Inspector G. B. Atter of Washington, Thomas Milligan of Toledo, Harry E. Nicholoy of Syracuse, N.Y., John W. Hartwell of Albany, N.Y., and C. A. Battles of New York city. It is said that the records of these men as mail robber catchers is overshadowed by that of but one man—Bill Fahy.

Accused of Conspiracy. The specific charge against Fahy is violation of section 37 of the criminal code, which has to do with conspiracy. The language of the warrant, upon which he was arrested charges as follows:

"Violation of Section 37, by unlawfully, wilfully and feloniously conspiring, combining, confederating and agreeing together with Max Greenberg and Sam Grant, (fugitive gunmen and thieves previously named as ringleaders of the Roundout robbery) et al to commit an offense against the United States and that to effect the object of same, did take from the custody, control and possession of one L. M. Phillips, then and there an employee, to wit: A postoffice employee, 10 bags of registered mail matter, then and there in the lawful custody, control and possession of said L. M. Phillips as mail clerk aforesaid."

According to inspectors who have been working on the case, it is believed that Fahy knows the whereabouts of a considerable part of the $2,000,000 loot, although they admit they have thus far been unable to recover any of the amount.

ADmits TIPPING OFF

"FENCE" IN THE CASE

Postal Inspector Fahy Denies, However, Being Involved in the Holdup.

Chicago, Aug. 28.—Postal Inspector Fahy, held in connection with the two million Roundout, Ill., mail train robbery, confessed to Charles H. Schlan today that he tipped off Jimmie Murray, alleged fence, concerning the activities of secret service men in their investigation of the robbery.

Postal Inspector Claranah declared, however, that evidence pointed clearly to Fahy's implication and that he would go before the federal grand jury within a few days to ask indictment. No other postal inspectors were involved, he said.

Fahy said, according to officials, that he received inside information that secret service men were going to attempt purchase of bonds from Murray and inasmuch as he was working in the case himself he was seeking individual honors.

He denied emphatically that he was involved in the actual hold-up and characterized his arrest as a "frame-up."

William Goodman, Sr., a well-known and respected resident of North Fredericksburgh, passed away on Saturday at the advanced age of eighty-four years. He leaves three sons and one daughter, William Goodman, Jr., on the home-stead; Harry Goodman, Woodstock; John G. Goodman, Lethbridge, Alta., and Mrs. McQuade, Picton.
