Memorial Clock For Lanark.
After months of working and planning, the Lanark village memorial association has definitely decided on a memorial for the fallen soldiers of the war of 1914-18. It will be in the form of a town clock placed in the bell tower. The clock will be a four-dial, with hour and half hour strike, using the big bell for the strike. As the clock comes from Boston, Mass., and heavy duty would be charged the memorial association took the matter up with the customs department and were successful in having the clock come duty free by order-in-council for memorial purposes. It is expected the clock will be shipped by October 15th and at the present time arrangements are being planned for a big memorial service in Lanark village on Armistice Day. The names of the deceased soldiers will be placed on a tablet which will be erected in some suitable public place where it will be readily viewed by the travelling public.

Make It a Real One.
A farmer brought some produce to town and sold it. Thought he, "I will surprise my wife." He bought a suit of clothes, a hat and a pair of shoes and put them under the back seat. On the way home he stopped at the river, took off all his old clothes and threw them in. Then he looked under the seat for the new outfit. They were gone. Finally he got into the buggy and said: "Gidap, Mand—we'll surprise her anyhow."

Heroism feels and never reasons, and therefore is always right.
