CLAIMS THAT INFERIOR LUMBER WAS USED
 In Rebuilding the Fair Grounds Sheds—The Statement of a Contractor.

A local contractor has written to the Whig in regard to the new sheds being erected at the fair grounds. In his letter he says he would like to know why the contractor did not comply with the specifications, pointing out that the specifications called for pine throughout and that the four-by-four posts are cedar, which costs much less than pine. The writer states further that the contractor was allowed to use second-hand lumber, which he claims was purchased in a junk yard at half price.

The writer also points out that eight or ten contractors figured on this job in good faith, but that the lowest tenderer was successful in securing the job and was allowed to use old lumber. The contractor securing the job was thirty or forty dollars lower than some of the other tenders, and yet he made more money than one of the other contractors would make at a higher price. The writer states that other contractors figured on this job according to specifications and he claims that they did not get a square deal.

The work was under the direction of the civic property committee, to whose attention this protest is directed.

Antidote Fined.
 A resident was fined Wednesday morning by Magistrate Bradshaw for having no tail light on his auto while going through Portmouth recently. The accused, who defended his own case, claimed it was not yet dusk. Another citizen was fined Tuesday for a similar offence.

 What the Press Agents Say About Coming Attractions

"THE FIRST YEAR."
 One of the feature productions to appear at the Grand Opera House this season will be Frank Craven's triumphant comedy of the first twelve months of married life "The First Year" which will be presented here by the Theatrical Enterprises Limited.

"The First Year" is called a comic tragedy of married life and deals with the trials and tribulations of a pair of newly-weds who find that the first year of married life is always the hardest. The cast which will present this clever comedy here is personally selected by the famous producer of clean plays, John Golden, and includes the following well-known Broadway artists: Bert Chapman, John P. Brown, Ray L. Royce, Paul McGrath, Earl McLennan, Lucille Sears, Stella Boniface, Weaver, Mary Marble and Rose Tiffany.

"The First Year" comes to the Grand for three nights commencing Thursday, Sept. 4th. A matinee will be given on Saturday afternoon.

"HER LOVE STORY" ENDS RUN.
 The final showings of the Allan Dwan Paramount production, "Her Love Story," which opened at the Capitol theatre on Monday will take place there this afternoon and evening.

Storia Swanson is the star of the picture, and Ian Keith, George Fawcett and others just as well known appear in the strong supporting cast.

The story is an adaptation of the novel and magazine serial "Her Majesty, the Queen," by Mary Roberts Rinehart and is said to be Gloria's best picture to date.

The feature attraction at the Capitol theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be "The Female," starring Betty Compton, taken from the famous story "Delta the Lion Cub" by the Cynthia Stockley. The story had a most successful run in the Cosmopolitan Magazine. Of course it's a Paramount Picture.

AT THE STRAND.
 Special scenes of the ruins of Tokio and Yokohama following the Japanese earthquake were taken by two cameramen sent to Japan for that purpose, and incorporated as atmosphere in Maurice Tourneur's "Torment," at the Strand theatre to-day.

The effects that were obtained are described as most startling. Some of the most important scenes show a band of international crooks trapped in the vault of a Yokohama bank while trying to steal a fortune in gems when the earthquake comes. In some of the players sustained minor hurts from falling debris, but none was seriously hurt. Among those who went through these strenuous scenes were Owen Moore, Joan Hensholt, Bessie Love, and Joseph Kilgour.

 Cyril O. Chamberlain, St. Thomas, Will Take Over the Duties at Once.

Cyril O. Chamberlain has been secured by the Board of Directors of the local Y.M.C.A. to head up the physical work of the association during the coming year, and is expected to take up his new duties almost immediately. Mr. Chamberlain held his St. Thomas, where he acted as assistant physical director for two years, afterwards going to Toronto for special training and more recently has been a student in the International Y.M.C.A. College at Springfield, Mass., where he has specialised in physical education. During the past summer he has been in charge of the play grounds of the Hampden County T. B. Association in Massachusetts. He has had considerable experience in conducting gymnasium classes for boys as well as for business men, and has been a leader in apparatus work for some time.

MUNDRELL AS COACH?
 Rumored That He Will Take Over Grand Trunk O.R.F.U. Team.
 Montreal, Sept. 3.—In a review of the football chances of M.A.A.A. in this morning's issue of the Montreal Gazette it was expected that something definite would be known yesterday regarding Chick Mundrell, former Queen's star; Ernie Rolph, former Varsity outside wing, and other players expected to turn out this season, but the answer was not forthcoming. Rolph is still out of the city on holiday. Mundrell has returned, and something interesting is liable to develop in Rugby circles in his case within a day or two. It is intimated that he might accept a position as coach with the Grand Trunk intermediates, Q.R.F.U. champions last season.

The Gazette also states that, owing to a large field of backfield players, Major Greenwood has given "Boo" Anderson a chance to fill his long-standing wish to try out at outside wing.

BILLIE HUGHES HERE.
 Little Trainer Enjoyed Olympic Trip Immensely.
 "Billie" Hughes, athletic trainer of Queen's University and head trainer and boxing coach of the Canadian Olympic team overseas, arrived in the city this morning from Wixart, where he went directly after his return from overseas. He is feeling fine, full of enthusiasm

The Indian railway gauge is the broadest in the world and a modern first-class compartment is the last word in comfort.

Fans, shaded lights, cooling arrangements, blue glass windows to let down in case the glare is too strong, Venetian blinds to supply an airy twilight, a luxurious bath-room next door, arm-chairs, tables, beds. . . . Yes, beds. In India, the traveller takes his bedding with him by train. After dinner his servant enters the carriage, makes the bed and lays out the Sahib's pyjamas and slippers.

Unless otherwise ordered, he will await the Sahib's return and help pull off his boots and clothes. Perhaps this is a relic of the old "John Company" days, when the Sahib came back of an evening carrying more than a necessary dose of brandy pawnee; at any rate the old-fashioned servant still expects to unlace his master's boots.

It is, however, unnecessary to do what one's servant expects. But to be without a servant in India would be impossible. For a ten-day trip each married couple and every two or three bachelors will find it desirable to have an attendant.

A word as to their treatment: Many of these servants are excellent and trustworthy men; but the idea of "liberty, equality, fraternity" is alien to them. The tourist who is condescending enough to show them any sort of brotherly love will be merely snubbed for his pains, for the relation of master and man have been established since immemorial time throughout the East.

The average compartment on the Indian railways is nearly twice the size of the American drawing room car. Two coaches run along its length on either side, under the windows. At the foot of each there is door-space and an armchair. Above the coaches are two more berths, to be let down at night as occasion requires.

A very large quantity of baggage is carried in every compartment, for many passengers take, in addition to wardrobe trunk, bedding, suitcase, helmet, typewriter and all sorts of odds and ends such as hosiery, golf-clubs, fishing rods and baskets. But there is room for everything and any extra baggage (a perambulator is a common sight) on the wide floor of an Indian railway compartment.

In the early morning, when the tired sun of India is fighting its way over the mists lying over the plains, your servant comes with "chota-haziri," the "little breakfast" of the East, consisting of tea and buttered toast.

Later, he returns to lay out your clothes. So do the servants of the other passengers; if there happen to be four travellers in a compartment, each with a servant and with the articles of baggage enumerated above, the routine of shaving and dressing is apt to resemble a film comedy.

One compartment on the train, or sometimes more, is reserved for ladies travelling alone. A whole compartment can always be reserved by paying for four first class seats. Considering the accommodation provided, travel is not expensive in India. A first class fare from Bombay to Delhi costs about $35.

You return to your carriage, where your bed has been laid out on one of the sofas. With a novel and a bedside light, you while away a few more hours, reading, smoking, watching the dim villages, shores of their dirt and decrepitude, and invested with a certain magic in the moonlight. Between these villages, thick with a life lived in a key so minor that the North American could hardly live a day on the month's food of an Indian peasant, slow bullock carts creep along, bound on errands to know nothing of the mystery of India steals over your drowsy senses, you switch off the lights, the fan overhead means, the coach wheels chatter of their travel and you pass into your own particular Western brand of nirvana, until, at last, day returns and a ducky figure says: "Salaam, Sahib, chotahaziri ready!"

The photographs reproduced above were taken by members of the Across India party of the "Empress of Canada" 1924 "Round the World" cruise. Next season the second "Round the World" cruise will be conducted under Canadian Pacific auspices, the famous trans-Atlantic liner "Empress of France" being scheduled to sail from New York on January 14th, returning, via the Panama, May 23rd. Shore excursions will be made from every port of call, and, among other things, all members of the cruise will be taken by train to Delhi, one of the ancient cities of the world and capital of India, and to Agre, the beautiful city of the Moguls where facilities will also be available for members of the cruise who desire to take an extension trip from Agre to Benares, and also to Calcutta, Darjeeling, Madras and Madure, rejoining the ship at Colombo.

SPORT
 With The Bowlers.
 The Queen's bowling club executive met on Tuesday regarding the rink championship. The games committee was asked to supply a list of all the results of all the rink games played during the season, when the executive will be able to decide whether Skip Givens or Skip Angrove get the Givens trophy or play off for it. It is not likely that there will be any upsetting of games as no protests in writing regarding any games have been submitted.

Kingston Represented.
 Kingston will be represented at the Globe Scotch doubles bowling tournament in Toronto on the 4th and 5th inst. by two teams, J. Singleton and J. Leckie, H. W. Newman and J. Angrove. The games start at one p.m. Thursday.

TORONTO MAN COMPLAINS
 About Being Overcharged Regarding Auto Fine at Napanee.
 A Toronto resident dropped into the Whig office Wednesday morning and told of being summoned before a Napanee magistrate for speeding. He entered a plea of guilt and was fined $10.50, or $5 for speeding and $5.50 for costs. In a casual manner he remarked that the costs exceeded the fine, and was told that $3.50 were fees of the speedable and magistrate and $2 for a stenographer. The motorist was much amused and said that, while he thought it must be all in order, etc., it was strange that no stenographer was present. At this the magistrate refunded $2 of the costs.

Although this case might have been perfectly accidental and all in order, there is a steadily growing complaint from motorists, and especially from American tourists, that speed cops and magistrates are "soaking" them. It gives the Canadian highways a bad name and will soon drive many away whose stay is profitable to this country. Many travellers from the other side have complained along this line during the summer.

True courage is shown by doing, without witness, that which a man is capable of doing before the world. The man who is most slow in promising is most sure to keep his word.

Confidence, like the spul, never returns to whence it has departed.
