MAXSON FOXHALL JURELL
WALLY THE MYSTIC.

He'll Answer Your Questions, Somehow.

If you're in doubt on etiquette, Or if you argue o'er a bet, If love pangs make you melancholy, Just write and tell your grief to Wally.

Still Unsettled.

Dear Wally: Tell me, it is right To kiss a gentleman good night? I'll do whichever way you say. Yours very truly, Ethel May.

Dear Ethel:

On this mooted point Authorities are out of joint. Some praise the custom, some deride; So let your conscience be your guide.

Pass the Buck.

Dear Wally: A boy friend of mine Has asked me out with him to dine. I cannot read a French menu. What shall I do? Yours, Ima Skew.

Dear Ima:

Do not worry, dear. When George, the waiter, wanders near, This on your escort you may spring: "You order for us both, Old Thing."

Making Sure.

Stella: "Anna Belle must be dreadfully in love with her husband. She phones his office at least ten times every day." Grace: "That doesn't sound like being in love, dear. I think she's suspicious." —Mrs. Sydney Kuhn.

Good Enough.

Mrs. Blackstone: "Does your husband understand you, my dear?" Mrs. Webster: "I think he begins to. He increased my allowance last week." —Frank Conrad.

If you do, I'll burn Rome, and I'm not joking, either.

Truly yours, Nero.

Dear Blackbeard: Yo Ho Ho, old timer! I haven't seen your dear old skull and crossbones for a long time, and hope that all is well with you. I have three ships now, and, by the way, I wonder if you will join me in a little venture this fall.

We've been pikers, old dark whiskers! We've been a disgrace to Davy Jones' ancient order of pirates! Here's what we are going to do in a nutshell: In the future we will lay off these merchant ships, and will make our headquarters in Havana.

I know where we can buy 6,045 cases of rum for 1,265 pieces of eight. We'll bring the stuff to the States and our fortunes will be made! What say? Drop me a line, matey. As ever, your old skipper, Captain Kidd.

Over the Phone.

She: "Dear, I am having trouble. You had better come!"

He: "What's wrong, engine trouble?"

She: "No, the horn won't blow." —Y. Linville.

She Nabbed Him.

Blubb: "Blkins used to boast that his love for pretty girls was just a passing fancy, but I hear he's married, now."

Dubb: "Yes; he lingered too long in passing the last one." —John H. Ames.

LENOX COUNTY FAIR

A BIG ATTRACTION

At Napanee Sept. 9-12—Old Boys' Reunion Will Be Feature.

Napanee, Sept. 4.—Those who are interested in the Lennox Fair and the Lennox and Addington Old Boys' Re-union, which takes place at Napanee on Sept. 9th-12th-13th, and who have not received a copy of the prize list, should secure one from the secretary before the supply is exhausted. It gives a very fair itiner-ary of what will occur at the beautiful and commodious grounds during the four days of the exhibition.

What is sure to be a great attraction to the young folks in particular will be the Happyland Midway which will arrive in its own train of twenty cars.

Tuesday, Sept. 9th, the opening day, is known as Children's day and public school pupils of the town and county will meet at the Armouries at 1 p.m., where the Boy Scouts, with their bugle band, will head the procession and march to the fair grounds and will be admitted free of charge. Each pupil is expected to carry a small flag.

The Cobourg kilties band will give a great musical treat each day and evening.

There will be horse races, baseball and lacrosse matches daily.

As is usual here in years past, the great attraction of the first evening will be the baby show and concert in the Palace. On that night will be shown here the finest babies in the world, anyway that is what the mothers say about them and they ought to know.

There will be a splendid array of exhibits in all classes, horses, cattle, sheep, pigs; all kinds and varieties of farm produce; vegetables, fruit, flowers and plants, ladies' fancy work, paintings, drawings and other works of art; and so many other things well worthy of special mention.

It is said that over seven thousand dollars will be given in prizes and in addition to that there is a long list of special prizes given by citizens and others.

The management have put forth every effort to make the 1924 fair eclipse all previous exhibitions, and one that will be a source of enjoyment to the visiting Old Boys and Girls as well as to the old folks at home.

The closing episode will be the community dance in the armouries on the night of Friday, Sept. 12th. Everybody welcome, come and have a good time.

In the butcher line there was one little bunch of steers at $6.75, and the bulk of the medium and good stuff was priced at $5.50 to $6.25. Common stuff was down to $3.75.

Good cows ranged from $3.50 to $4.25. A few good heavy bulls sold for $3.75 to $4.35 with quite a fewolognaes at $2.50 to $2.75.

The butcher cattle quality was only fair, but the prices also were about a quarter of a dollar lower.

There was a good stocker and feeder trade, with the supply consisting of Western cattle and the speculators doing most of the buying.

Stockers under 800 lbs. ranged from $2.35 to $4.25, with feeders from $3.25 to $4.

There was a strong calf trade with the price a half dollar higher. Choice sold at $10 to $11, with medium to good at $6 to $9.50. A couple of loads of grassers went at from $4 to $5.

The lamb market opened slow with the packers offering last week's closing price of $12. The salesmen held out until nearly noon, but finally accepted this price. There were a few odd sales of lambs up to $12.75.

There was a good strong sheep trade choice at $7 to $7.50. Hogs were a quarter of a dollar lower at $9.75 to $10.35 fed and $10.75 off car.

Montreal Market.

Cattle—Receipts, 1,598. The cattle market was very unsettled. A few lots of the best steers were sold for $6.50 and prices for steers ranged from this price down to $3 with the bulk of sales between $4 and $5. There was a large percentage of cows in the shipments. Good cows were $4. The majority of the cows were brought from $2.25 to $3.25.

At time of writing there was not much prospect of the cattle market being cleaned up to-day.

Calf receipts, 645. Good veal calves were in demand and brought from $7.50 to $8.50 and lots of medium quality from $6.50 to $7. Very few good veal were offered. Grass calves ranged from $3.50 to $4 with a few lots as low as $3.25.

Sheep receipts, 6,100. A number of loads of good lambs were sold for $10 with an odd sale up to $11. Common kinds were from $7 to $8.50 and the medium lots around $9.25 to $9.50.

Hog receipts, 3,530. A slightly easier feeling prevailed in the hog market. Government graded selecte hogs were bid for at $11. Sales of butcher hogs were made from $10 to $10.50. Sows ranged from $6 to $7, according to weight and finish.

Winnipeg.

Arrivals, 2,769 cattle, 225 calves, 1,158 hogs and 104 sheep.

Bidding on the cattle market was inclined to be slow, but there were indications that all butcher classes would sell about steady with last week's close. There was little trading in the stocker and feeder classes, and the general trend of prices was not apparent.

Local packers were bidding $9 for thick smooths, and good quality loads were expected to go a little higher.

The sheep and lamb market held generally steady. Best lambs, $9 to $9.50 and sheep, $4 to $5.50.
