HUSSARS THE VICTORS IN FRIDAY'S CONTEST

Defeated Wolfe Island 10-2 In First of Second Round Series In Intermediate O.B.A.A.

The 4th Hussars, winners of the Kingston city league senior series, defeated Wolfe Island, conquerors of the Frontenac League and the Lennox and Addington League, 10-2, in the first game of the second round series in the intermediate O.B.A.A. playoffs at Wolfe Island on Friday.

From the first the visitors led and bad errors and the absence of their first-string pitcher held back the Islanders much more than they should have been. Sammy Hogan's boys had fourteen misplays during the match, many of them costly and, on the other hand, the stout-hearted and strong-armed "Bob" Kyle had not the skill to turn back the Hussars and they collected fifteen hits from his delivery, one of them for three bags and three others for two.

It was almost such another day as the first Tamworth game saw. A drizzling rain beat over the field now and then but it failed to stop the proceedings and, unlike the Tamworth fixture, ended in sunshine.

Moore did the twirling for Hussars but was not his usual self. He faltered badly at times and had the Islanders been up to form they might have made him step to win. The soldiers, tallied in all but three innings, starting with two in the first. Wolfe Island, though they got many runners on the paths, scored only with their two in the fourth and at other times were left on.

The second game is in Kingston on Tuesday next and should be a much better battle as both teams will play in top form on the better diamond.

Sixers Are Off

Unless one side or the other cracks under the strain, the Peterboro fans should this afternoon witness one of the finest baseball battles of the season when the Lakeviews and the Kingston Circle-Six meet up there in their second battle. They went twelve innings here on Wednesday and must play here again and the Kingston fans, at least, think they can do better in Peterboro.

The youngsters got away at six o'clock this morning. If they come through the day with just the usual expenses they will have an empty treasury as the gate on Wednesday hardly paid the advertising and other expenses. They deserve much better support and should get in when they meet the Lakeviews here again.

THIRTY-TWO FIGHTS DURING FIVE YEARS

Is Luis Firpo's Record in the Ring—Fights Thursday Next If Not Deported.

New York, Sept. 6.—Luis Angel Firpo, who meets Harry Wills at Boyles Thirty Acres, September 11th, remains the enigma of the prize ring although he is a veteran of 32 battles during the five years of his career.

When the giant Argentine enters the ring to fight Wills for the right to challenge Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight championship of the world, his course of action will be hidden behind an inscrutable mask. His chances of victory will rest upon the use he makes of a tremendous right hand and powerful body.

Violating orthodox methods of training, ignoring ring technique and scorning scientific boxing, Firpo, once a stevedore on the docks at Buenos Aires, employed the elemental equipment of a fighting heart, a rugged body and a powerful right hand, to battle his way through waves of criticism and knock the marvel of modern heavyweight champions—Dempsey—out of a ring a year ago.

A rugged body motivated by a single-track mind, a stubborn will and fearless courage, earned for Firpo the name of "Wild Bull of the Pampus" during his rise to fame which constitutes one of the picturesque romances of the prize ring.

Born October 29th, 1895, in Argentina, of an Italian father and a Spanish mother, Luis grew up as a bootblack, an odd job man and graduated to the manly occupation of stevedore. Labor was irksome—observers claim that Luis still shirks heavy work during his training periods—and in 1917, two months after he witnessed his first prize fight, Firpo entered the ring and was knocked out in the first round by Angel Rodriguez, now retired.

The setback only angered the future Wild Bull who bowled over a score of amateurs before his first professional fight in September, 1919, with an American, William Daly. Firpo won by a knockout in seven rounds and had added 11 other knockout victims to his record when he first came to this country in 1922. Firpo was met by no bands or public acclaim when he first arrived here. Landing unostentatiously, he trained in cellars, fought off hunger but never thought of abandoning the career which he had chosen. When an opening came he knocked out Sailor Maxted, Italian Jack Herman and Joe McCann before returning to Argentina, where he won his first big purse in beating Jim Tracy, an Australian.

Since that time Firpo has been in the public eye. He came to this country early in 1922 and knocked out Bill Brennan, Jack McAuliffe and halted a come-back by Jess Willard. Before each fight his equipment was ridiculed, and it was freely predicted that Dempsey would easily conquer the crude workman from Argentina. But the champion was knocked down twice and hurled out of the ring before he beat the Wild Bull to the canvas for the seventh time, to win by a knockout in two rounds in the most spectacular prize fight in history.

Firpo grew in business sagacity as he advanced in power. His manager has his own affairs, combs the country in barnstorming stunts and his financial bouts with Tex Rickard and other promoters have attracted almost as much attention as his fights in the ring.

In the midst of negotiations for a return match with Dempsey, the "Wild Bull" suddenly announced that he was through with prize fighting; but when Rickard offered more attractive inducements, he changed his decision. In his own country he has been regarded as a national hero because of the attention he attracted to the South American continent. He is now implicated with immigration authorities here in a legal battle which has a woman in the background.

Firpo won 24 of his 32 battles by knockouts, and seven by decisions. His knockout by Dempsey was the only reverse of his professional career. The coming bout with Wills is considered by the impatient "Wild Bull" as a mere preliminary to another championship affair with Dempsey.

NO FAVORITES FOR ST. LEGER CLASSIC

Winners of Season's Big Events Seldom Successful on Doncaster Town Moor.

London, Sept. 6.—Doncaster, home of horse racing for nearly two and a quarter centuries, where for almost 150 years the St. Leger, the oldest of the five classic races for three-year-olds which feature the flat-racing season in England has been run annually with but few interruptions, will be the racing centre of the country next week, with the St. Leger Stakes being run on Wednesday. With the running of the St. Leger all the classics for the year will have been decided, those run previously being the Two Thousand and One Thousand Guineas at Newmarket in May, and the Derby and Oaks at Epsom in June.

Although the glamor and popularity that surrounds the running of the Derby over the Epsom Downs is not so marked at Town Moor, the St. Leger is generally considered a better test of the thoroughbred than the chief Epsom classic, or that at Newmarket. The Town Moor course is one mile, six furlongs and 132 yards, compared with the Derby course of one mile and a half, or the Two Thousand Guineas course of one mile, and is admittedly a better course than that at Epsom. Coming as it does in September, the "mares' month" when the fillies are presumably at their best, and the more slowly developed colts are nearing the top of their form, the winners of the earlier classics meet their most serious opposition at Doncaster, with the result that in many cases they go down to defeat Papyrus, winner of the Derby last year, was Saratoga Springs, N.Y., Aug. 5.—American Flag ran away for a big field of juveniles in his first start, Maid-at-Arms out-hoofed a dozen highly prized two-year-olds in a driving finish and By Hisself was first across the wire in near record time. Subsequently By Hisself was beaten, but an unfair impot was largely responsible for the defeat. Horsesmen are watching the progress of the three youngsters with keen interest. Will one of them prove another Man o' War?
