WHY THE WEATHER?

DR. CHARLES F. BROOKS
Secretary, American Meteorological Society, Tulsa, Okla.

Hurricanes Late.
A Jamaica saying runs:
June too soon,
July stand by,
August look out you must,
September remember,
October all over.

August and September are usually the height of the West Indian hurricane season. June, however, is not invariably too soon for these storms, and they are not always all over by October.

This year, like last, the hurricane season was late in arriving. The first tropical storms of importance in 1923 did not occur till late in September, and though there were a few in the following several weeks, none reached the American coasts with hurricane strength. Up to the middle of August, 1924, there had been no marked tropical cyclone shown this summer on American weather maps. August 17th the first one appeared, but so far off the north Atlantic coast as not to affect the shore. The next day a tropical disturbance of moderate intensity was noted over the ocean north of Porto Rico. It took a northwesterly course for three days, then, practically stopped, its centre apparently just north of the Bahamas, for three days more, and, finally, Aug. 25th, took a sudden spurt north-northeastwards up our Atlantic coast.

Our late start of tropical disturbances seems to have been associated, as it was last year, with atmospheric pressures above normal in the tropical North Atlantic. The cause of any such high pressures is a matter for conjecture, as is also the relation of high pressure to the lack of hurricanes. However, some observations of surface temperatures in the Gulf of Mexico up to the middle of July this summer showed the water to be cooler than usual, a circumstance that would favor cooler, drier, and, therefore, denser air, and higher pressure—all adverse to storm formation.

LUMBERJACKS' WAGES.

Higher This Winter in Quebec Than in Ontario.

Quebec, Sept. 8.—While there has been a fair demand for lumberjacks in the last week, wages offered in Ontario this season as compared with last season have taken a slide down from $45 to $60, to $26 to $30 per month.

Work in the lumber camps of the Abitibi and Northern Quebec is still available, and the wages paid are higher than those of Ontario, running as high as $45 and $55 per month, which is a reduction from the offers last year.

THE NEWS AT OMPAH.

A Dance Was Much Enjoyed by Young People.

Ompah, Sept. 8.—Mr. and Mrs. J. Prosser and children, Edith, Ernest, and Doris, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Williams and son Frederick who have been visiting at John Woods, have returned to their homes in Montreal. Miss Millie Breen and Clayton Cox, Detroit, are visiting at their respective homes here.

The Misses Myrtle and Hilda Johnston, Toronto, are now at home. Miss Lilly McDougall, Ompah, Mr. and Mrs. William Sproule and son, Carman, Lavan, and Mrs. B. McDougall and son, Kenneth, also of Lavan, were visitors at Michael Horner's.

John and Everton Fluke were driving cattle in this vicinity to-day. The schools have re-opened again with Miss G. Anderson at Ompah village school and Miss V. Latour at Mud Lake school. Mrs. C. Dunham and son, Mons, are visiting at Perth and Smith's Falls.

The dance held in the hall last Monday night was enjoyed by the young people of this vicinity. The weather has been very cold lately.

PROBS:—Wednesday, fair and quite cool; probably frost in northern districts at night.
