At Queen's University

The removal of the principal's, registrar's and other executive offices, including the college post office, from the old arts building to the new Douglas library, is expected to start on Wednesday. The ground floor of the old arts building will then be occupied by biology and the second floor by the theological college.

Classes in theology start on October 1st, to continue till March 24th, B.D., and matriculation exams start on Thursday. The annual Theological Alumni Conference will be held on November 2nd to 7th at Queen's.

A number of local students registered for arts at Queen's on Monday. There are signs of a large enrolment this winter.

21st BATTALION CLUB

Arranging For Its Sixth Re-union on Friday Next.

The local Club of the 21st Battalion is completing arrangements for the sixth annual re-union of that unit, which will be held here on Friday of this week. The conveners of the committee are as follows: Reception, W. G. McCullagh; dinner, Major R. H. Weddell; programme, Major (the Rev.) W. E. Kidd; publicity, E. Cockburn.

It is expected that one hundred and fifty ex-members of the 21st Battalion will attend this re-union. The visiting comrades will be escorted to the sergeants' mess at the armouries where they will be entertained previous to the dinner, which will be held in the Frontenac hotel. A special meeting of the local club will be held on Wednesday evening of this week to complete arrangements.

Prizes on Exhibition

Kinnear & d'Esterre have on display in their attractive show windows the many handsome prizes which will be awarded to the winners of the various sports put on daily at the Kingston Industrial Exhibition. These sports including short and long distance races, high jump, putting the shot, broad jump, tug of war, etc., and the prizes are certainly worth winning. Small cups for other branches of the fair awards are also on display, and in the centre is an interesting sketch of the old St. George's cathedral where the market square now stands.

To Visit Kingston Fair

The Watertown Marra band will make its second annual pilgrimage to Kingston on Sept. 18th. They will play at the Kingston Industrial Exposition. On that day, America day will be observed.

On Thursday a tug of war team composed of Watertown men will take part in the activities as will a wrestler who will also come to Kingston.

STOLE AUTOMOBILE; LEFT IT ON ROADWAY

Citizen Did Not Know About Theft Until Told By A Friend.

A prominent citizen has been in the habit of leaving his auto parked on the market square. On Monday a friend met him and said, "Where is your car?"

"Why, on the market square where I always leave it," replied the owner.

"Well, you guessed wrong that time," replied the friend. "I am sure that it was your car I noticed out near Lake Ontario Park."

An investigation was made and it was found that the car left near Lake Ontario Park belonged to the citizen who had parked it on the market square. Luckily the car had not been damaged. Some person or persons had evidently taken the car for some "joy riding" and did not have sufficient nerve to bring it back to its proper place.

Andrew Aylesworth Injured

It was Andrew, not Harry, Aylesworth, who was injured in the runaway on Monday noon. The accident happened on the Perth Road, about nine miles from the city, near J. Campbell's farm. He suffered a dislocated shoulder but the X-ray showed no bones broken. Dr. Volume reduced the dislocation at the General hospital. Mr. Aylesworth lives on Ellis street, city.

Action Being Taken

Action is being taken in regard to the fight at Desert Lake on Sunday, which sent A. VanLoven to the General Hospital with bad chest bruises. The altercation occurred with his brother, who is now out on bail and was to have appeared before Magistrate Bradshaw on Tuesday morning had the injured man been able to appear. The worse injury was done by a stone which hit Mr. VanLoven between the shoulders.

Owners of Fred Patch

A despatch in the Whig on Monday concerning the races at Cape Vincent, N.Y., Fair stated that W. A. Curtis of Kingston was the owner of Fred Patch, the winner of the 215 class. This was an error as Rupert Aylesworth and G. W. Whittaker are the owners, so the Whig was informed on Tuesday.

"Buy tooth brushes." Gibson's. Rev. A. H. Moore, M. A., rector of St. Johns, Que., since 1911, has been appointed President of the University of King's College, Halifax, N.S.
