THRILLS AND THUMPS FEATURE VICTORY; HUSSARS CAME FROM BEHIND TO WIN, 10-9

Brockville Eliminated in Ten-Inning Battle at Gananoque—Score 9-6 for Brockville Starting Last of Tenth—Lawless "Knocked Cold" by Brockville Player, Moore Battered by Brockville Fans.

(By Staff Reporter.)
If McLean, the Brockville second baseman, had not struck Lawless, Huskars' third baseman and knocked him cold in the first of the tenth inning at Gananoque yesterday, then Huskars would be hanging away their uniforms to-day until another season.

But that one little incident, which took over half an hour to clean up, made the local intermediates fighting mad, and, in spite of the fact that the Brockville squad led 9-6 going into the last of the tenth, Huskars scored four runs and walked off with the honors while the large crowd of Brockville rooters stood dumb with amazement.

It was a great tenth inning. At the end of the ninth the score was tied six-all. Draggett made first on Fannon's hit from deep short. Lightford singled and stole second. Draggett scored. Lightford scored when Symons laid down a bunt which was not fast enough at the plate. Symons went to second on a passed ball and was caught between second and third by Lawless when Fannon fielded Knapp's grounder and passed it to third. McLean hit what looked like a three-bagger. Knapp passed third, where the Brockville fans were right on the line four deep. About seven feet past it he fell. Some of the fans threatened Lawless, saying he had tripped Knapp, and Lawless walked towards them and then away when they quieted. There was a general mixup on that corner of the field with the Brockville fans encroaching on the diamond. McLean, running out his hit, found third occupied and started to go back to second. Lawless was walking in the same direction and did not see him coming. As he passed Lawless, McLean struck him, knocking him out. Moore rushed over to defend his team-mate and after he got a crack or two in was battered badly by the Brockville mob, suffering bad cuts about the mouth. There was a general mix-up for a few minutes and then the row stopped suddenly and big George Sullivan emerged unscathed from the centre.

Huskars were doubtful as to their course of action. From the look of the crowd, which was entirely Brockville, it seemed as if the whole team might be beaten up. However, after the injured had been attended by Billie Hughes, the game went on, both McLean and Lawless being put out for the duration. Knapp scored on Singleton's out at first and Whiting grounded to Gourdir for the third out. The score was 9-6 for Brockville. Spencer was the first man up for Huskars and the wily old player outguessed Whiting and walked. Moore singles, Spencer going to third and Moore stole second. Nicholson singled to score both players, "Nickie" going to second on the throw to the plate. Arnell drove a single which should have sent Nicholson home but he stumbled starting and only reached third. Arnell stole second. Gourdir drove out a long fly to right, Nicholson scoring on the catch. Twigg popped to Knapp. With the score tied, the ten innings, two men out, and Arnell on third, Hall came to the bat. Two high ones were called balls. Sammy fouled four throws from Whiting and on the fifth drove a beautiful single to right which scored Arnell and bust up the game. The Huskars had "got their mad up" and the New York Giants could not have stopped them. That tenth inning was the high light of the game. It was exciting throughout. Brockville had the big edge in the breaks and the lucky hits but Ned Hartrick's bunch kept working steadily. Their hits were clean-cut and their few errors on very hard plays.

As it turned out McLean's action in hitting Lawless sealed the doom of his own team. With the heaving scoring by Brockville in the first of the tenth the Huskars were pretty well down in the mouth and had little life in them but that scrap just started their blood going fast again and they were determined to win. The box score and summary tell the rest of the story of a big baseball game and a big victory.

Just as a note, it is very interesting to see that in Gananoque, with the gate split three ways and travelling expenses out, Huskars received more money than they did in the Brockville game here in Kingston when they had the whole gate saving only the O.B.A.A. share and local expenses. That's the way Kingston fans support their team.

All through the game a large crowd of Brockville rooters massed together along the third base line and "razed" Moore. They made up phrases calculated to rattle him and roared them at him. They yelled and booed and hissed him—yet he paid no attention. As he wound up large fireworks would be thrown on the third-base-line, exploding like pistol shots. Yet he accomplished three times as much as both their pitchers, scored four runs, delivered three hits in places they were needed, and stole a base for good measure. He had four assists in the field.

Those Brockville fellows might have been interested to know that Moore is called "Doctor" at Rockwood Hospital for the insane where he is an interne and that, with his experiences there, they need to start a war to get him rattled.

TOMORROW

The 4th Huskars, having eliminated Brockville from the running in the intermediate O.B.A.A. will now finish up their series with Wolfe Island and this gives the Islanders another chance at the laurels and a better one. The boys from over the water, if they can put it over the Kingston crew, will find themselves in the finals without meeting any more tough opponents. But it is doubtful if they can trim the local rns.

William Wiley, eastern O.B.A.A. man, who umpired the game in Gananoque yesterday, gave further notice to remember the game with Wolfe Island on Thursday. When told that the Fair Grounds was occupied he said the game could be played on the cricket field. Asked as to whether it was a sudden death game or a new series Mr. Wiley said: "It is just going on with your former home-and-home series. The Huskars victory against Wolfe Island stands."

The fans should therefore have a good bang-up battle served up to them at the cricket field to-morrow evening. There is no means of charging admission at the cricket field but the usual sale of tickets will take place as voluntary contribution and a generous response will be looked for. The public may be interested in knowing that, exclusive of Tuesday's game in Gananoque, the Huskars are at a total loss of about fifty dollars on their playoff games to date.

BOOST FOR "OARP"

Kingston, Sept. 15.—(Sporting Editor): Georges Carpentier has had more admirers than any ring champion that ever lived, and perhaps it is equally true to say that no champion has had more detractors.

The captious critics particularly enjoyed themselves when Carpentier lost to Gene Tunney recently, and they began to circulate all sorts of stories about the Frenchman to prove that he never was a real champion.

Some foreign liar—no softer term can be used—took this opportunity to send over a false report telling of how Mons. Georges was kicked by a garage attendant soon after returning to France. (Note: The fight is supposed to have taken place in the dead of night with no witnesses. How did the writer get the story, then?) The Whig published this false account in the Monday issue for this week, and in answer I would like to relate a tale myself—a true one, this time.

The scene was in Paris, in the Faubourg Montmartre, which was full at the time of a crowd such as one will only find in that thoroughfare. A pale-faced, red-lipped girl sauntered along; a man followed her, seized her by the wrist, and swung her round. There was a blow, a scream, and the girl fell down. A handsome, tall, blue-eyed boy pushed his way through the crowd, his right arm swung, and the bully crashed to the pavement. Georges Carpentier did not do all his fighting in the ring!

Now, this is only one of a great many interesting stories told of Carpentier, and I am hoping this will appear in print so that the sporting public will see another side to Georges Carpentier besides the one that the sport writers (or rather, the majority of them) are portraying of him.

—A CARPENTIER ADMIRER.

We sorta feel that way about it also. You see, Carpentier has been hitting the Americans where it hurt most, in the purse. They love to have outsiders fight for nothing so long as their own boxers pull down the big pots but Georges is a bit of a business man as well as having a distinguished war service. But please don't be so hasty about "false" accounts unless you can produce the proof.—Ed.

BROCKVILLE AGAIN.

Once more the Brockville fans have done something which gives their city a bad name all over the province. In yesterday's game at Gananoque they showed the poorest kind of sportsmanship and, with the same old "bravery" of a hundred against one, beat up the Huskars pitcher, Moore. They were suspended from the O.B.A. for five years for such tactics in hockey and warned again but recently. If they cannot play the game better than that way, far better to stay out of it.

For the sake of the main body of the Brockville players we are sorry. With a few exceptions they seemed fine players and good sports. That, of course, does not apply to McLean, the second baseman. But it must be a great consolation to that second baseman and those rowdies in the crowd to know that their action, and that alone, defeated their team and put them out of the running.

And to the Huskars we can only say they brought credit to the old Gananoque City by their determination and great fight against odds that were heavy.

Flesh-colored chiffon evening gowns with self-colored ostrich and marabou bands are seen in many versions at the most exclusive dancing places.

Nothing but the right can ever be expedient, since that can never be true expediency which would sacrifice a greater good to a lesser.

The bold and sufficient pursue their game with more passion, endeavor and application, and therefore often succeed.

They that govern most make least noise. Knowledge is the antidote to fear.
