THE W. A. TRIENNIAL MEETING IN HAMILTON

When the triennial meeting of the Dominion board of management of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Missionary Society of the Church of England opens in All Saints' church, on September 30, several very important resolutions will be introduced. Among these will be the suggestion that the sum of $10,000, as proposed by the finance committee, be added to the W.A. budget for 1925. This will cover the salaries of four additional prairie deaconesses, the purchase of a W.A. motor mission van, equipment, maintenance and salary for driver of same, and a grant of $5,000 for itinerating, to be divided among the missionary dioceses needing such help. This resolution will be presented on behalf of the Montreal Diocesan Board. Because of the present membership, and the high per capita giving, it is felt that it might not be possible for some of the diocesan boards to assume the increased appropriation for pledges that have been proposed, and the Montreal board are, therefore, asking that each diocesan board be asked to co-operate heartily in a W. A. Forward movement for increased membership and giving in order to be able to support this needed enlargement of the work.

The Toronto Diocesan board is presenting a resolution, asking that the constitution and by-laws be amended by changing the words "the Juniors' and Little Helpers' department," wherever they may occur, to "the Children's department," and that the secretary in charge of the department be called secretary of the Children's department. The Toronto board is also suggesting that only those branches which are composed of teen-age girls be listed as girls' branches, and so reported to the Dominion Girls' secretary.

Mrs. Havelock Price, Kingston, president of the diocese of Ontario, Miss F. Hentig, recording secretary, Mrs. J. Lyons, Picton, Mrs. A. H. McFarr, Trenton, and Mrs. Judson, Watchorn, Merrickville, will be among those present from Ontario dioceses.

Dishes in This Week's Menus.

Celery Bouillon: Buy a three-pound knuckle of veal. Cut this in small pieces, bone, and put it into a soup kettle with two quarts of cold water, one-half teaspoon of peppercorns, a tiny piece of bay leaf, one minced raw onion, and the outer stalks of one bunch of celery minced, and let it come slowly to a boil, then simmer for four hours. Add salt (about two teaspoons) after it has cooked for two hours. Replenish water as it evaporates, so as to keep the same amount of liquid. Strain when done and let stand till fat can be removed, then clear by adding the crushed shells of three eggs and heat to boiling point, stirring constantly (as the soup heats the fine particles floating in the soup. Let boil vigorously for five minutes, add a little cold water, let cool slightly, then skim and strain through cheesecloth. (This is the method of clearing any soup stock.) Reheat and add one cupful of diced and cooked celery to each serving.

Pineapple-Tomato Salad: This makes an especially dainty salad. The ingredients are six slices of ripe tomato, one cup of diced canned pineapple, one cup of diced raw celery, a little minced parsley, and Mayonnaise dressing. Arrange each portion separately on salad plates, first putting a slice of tomato on a bed of crisp lettuce, then topping the tomato slice with a little pineapple and celery mixed together with Mayonnaise dressing. Top with an extra dab of the dressing and serve chilled. This recipe makes six individual portions.

Orange-Rice Pudding: Scald a few pieces of plain orange peel with three cups of sweet milk and one-half cup of boiled rice. Then remove the peel from the milk, discarding it, and add to the milk two egg-yolks which have been beaten with a pinch of salt and one-half cup of granulated sugar. Cook over hot water till thickened, stirring constantly, then remove from range, cool, and chill. Just before you serve it, fold into it the stiffly whipped whites of two eggs sweetened with two tablepoons of confectioner's sugar and flavored with one teaspoon of orange juice.

That few people grumbled at being asked to buy a tag for the Kingston Tuberculosis Association. A sanatorium where people, who have fallen victims to the dreaded "White Plague," can be given the treatment which may restore them to health and in any case prevent them communicating the disease to others, supplies a long felt want in Kingston, and should receive the support of the entire community.
