Tricolor Squad Will Report For Practice and Get Down To Business Tomorrow.

The 1924 campaign for the Queen's University football squad, winners of the Intercollegiate, Eastern Canada and All-Canada football honors for the past two years, will open up to-day with the gathering of the clan from all the different sum mer locations of the players.

A great many of the old staff wi be missing when the gang report, one by one, at Trainer Billie Hughes' headquarters in the Gymnasium. Ken. McNeill, Jack Bond, Roy Reybell, Karl Quinn, Norman Walker, perhaps Mundell and Baldwin and other valuable members of last year's great machine have either graduated or transferred their en deavours to some other field and there will be a great many gaps to Leadley, Batstone, McLeod, Lewis, Muirhead, Delehay, Thomas, John McKelvey, Gib. McKelvey, Frank McKelvey, Grondin, Brown, Adams Airth and Anglin are some of those expected back but they form only a nucleus on which to work. Anglin is an uncertainty on account of the serious injury to his knee which kept him out nearly all last season and left him lame during the winter. Of the possible newcomers little is known. No stars of any prominence have been mentioned as headed for the Limestone City but Queen's, on account of the prestige of two Dominion titles in a row, should draw its fair share of the high class graduates from prep. and high schools.

From this end of it the intercol legiate looks to be a much better chance for a race this year than last Varsity was looked upon for a while last season as a contender but faded before the Queen's machine and dropped completely when the McGill dozen trounced the Blue and White right in Toronto. This season, with Snyder again leading them to battle and with the Plaxtons, the Stollerys Somerville, Pequegnat and other experjenced players coming back to the game strong, the Toronto team

1. Since the mistake was discovered before a ball was pitched to the succeeding batsman, umpire should declare the proper batsman out. No runs can score on any act of an improper batsman. Runners should be sent back to their original bases.

2. It is always possible to change pinch-batters as often as desired The announcing of a pinch-batter, and then the using of some player in his place, merely removes him from the game. When a pinch-pitcher sent in, he must pitch until one batter reaches first or is retired.
