At Mountain Grove.

Mountain Grove, Sept. 22.—George Baker is threshing in this vicinity. Kingston Exhibition was well attended from here this week. The Maple Leaf school, with Miss Resor, as teacher, went on Friday and took part in the parade and succeeded in carrying off one of the prizes. Through the kindness of R. Bushell, manager of the fair, the children were given treats and free rides in the midway.

Needless to say it was a wonderful day for the children and the only regretful remark heard was to the effect that it would be a whole year before they could attend another fair like that.

The stork flew over the village this week and left a baby boy at J. Cox's. Wedding bells are ringing. Clare Price, one of our most popular young men, is being united in matrimony today to one of Middleville's fair daughters, Miss Kathryn Taylor, who was formerly a teacher in this vicinity. Congratulations. Mr. and Mrs. J. Price, Roger and Miss Eloise, are attending the wedding.

H. Thompson spent the week-end at his home here. Miss Resor spent Sunday with Miss Knox at J. Price's. Mrs. W. Flynn, Smith's Falls, at G. Flynn's.

Bunker's Hill News.

Bunker's Hill, Sept. 24.—The death occurred of the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hamilton. The funeral took place to Verona, the Free Methodist minister preaching the sermon. The district had quite a heavy rainfall on Monday. It will be a great help as the wells are getting dry.

Dip your knife into boiling water before you attempt to cut very rich cream cheese and there will be no crumbling.

A FINE OLD COUPLE.

One Aged Man Sings as He Drives To Cheese Factory.

Harlowe, Sept. 23.—Two old and respected residents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Whiteman, he being eighty-five and she eighty-three, living on the farm that he cleared up and doing their own work. Mr. Whiteman has drawn his own milk to the factory up till the factory burned, and would be the first man on the route, generally singing or humming some tune, as he would be driving along.

Those who have threshed through our neighborhood report a good return of grain. Potatoes and garden vegetables are in abundance. Mr. Sea, Arden, purchased a drove of cattle and calves through here for shipment last week. Mrs. Robert Frankville, last week, by the serious Cuddy visited with friends at Ardoch, on Sunday.

Carl Miller, Miss Hazel Black and Miss Irine spent Sunday with Miss Kathleen and Lilla Gray. Mr. McCune, from Calgary, and Mrs. Daek, Brockville, are visiting at Thomas Thompson's. Mr. and Mrs. W. Scott are planning a trip to Huntsville in the near future. Mr. and Mrs. J. Huffman were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. Whiteman, on Sunday.

Guests Still Remaining.

Charleston, Sept. 22.—There are twenty-two guests still at Cedar Park and more expected. Mr. and Mrs. Morris Slack and little son and Mr. and Mrs. Heaslip, Wilstead, were recent visitors at Harry Webster's. Miss Sarah Hudson was called to Mrs. Frankville, last week, by the serious illness of her nephew, Master Carl McKenney. Albert Morris received slight injuries when his buggy and Hilbert Spence's car collided. Mrs. Rowsome has disposed of her cottages, one to her daughter, Mrs. R. Hemton and one to her son, Ernie Rowsome.

R. Hanton, Frankville, was a visitor to the lake on Sunday. Silo Billing has commenced among the farmers. A great many from this section attended Kingston fair.

Were Quietly Married.

Cole Lake, Sept. 23.—Born to Mr. and Mrs. William Shillington, a son, on Aug. 19th. Mr. and Mrs. J. Peters, Wilton, spent Sunday at William Shillington's. R. Butterill, Perth, spent Sunday at Thomas Butterill's. Mrs. E. and T. Butterill, who spent a few days with Mrs. Manders, Perth, arrived home Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. R. Jackson and children spent Sunday in Watertown, N.Y.

A. Jackson has returned to his home in Newton Falls, N.Y. Mrs. C. M. Kennedy spent the week-end in Verona. Mr. and Mrs. Elias Martin at T. Duffy's, Smith's Falls.

A number from here attended the Kingston fair. Mr. and Mrs. Ross Martin spent Sunday at Verona. Miss Mary A. Clow, Cole Lake, and Edward Hicks, Echo Lake, were quietly married on Sept. 17th at Sydenham. Much happiness is expressed for the young couple.
