LOCAL RUGBY TEAMS PREPARE FOR FIGHT

Queen's and R.M.C. in Opener Tomorrow—Varsity Teams Announced by Coach.

Queen's and R.M.C. seniors will be in good shape tomorrow afternoon when they trot out on the George Richardson Stadium for the opening of the local season—and exhibition match between the senior champions of Canada and the intermediate winners of the same honors.

At least we know Queen's will be in good shape from observation and we know that R.M.C. will be that way from tradition and past performance. The cadets have been working under the closest of secrecy at Point Frederick and Coach Panet will probably have some surprises to spring when he leads his team out tomorrow. They are in good condition and will make it a battle.

The Queen's squad will have all the old stars and some new ones for the observation of the fans and the afternoon's programme should be a treat.

Up at Toronto it is announced that Coach Jack Newton has selected the team to represent the Blue and White in the O.R.F.U. and the intercollegiate. They are as follows:

Intercollegiate—Backs, W. Snyder, Pequegnat and Somerville; flying wing, B. Stollery; quarter, Mills; outside, Soanes and Campbell; middle, Merritt and King; inside, H. Stollery and L. Snyder; snapback, Webber.

O.R.F.U.—Backs, Kirkpatrick, Trimble and Reid; flying wing, Fraser; quarter, Walker; snapback, Webber; inside, Dow and Stringer; middle, Master and Harris; outside, Teagle and Duncan; subs., Chaffe, McFayden, Bentley, Dundas, Currie, Plaxton and Bruce.

From the look of that list one would imagine that Newton will try out a great many of his prospective intercollegiate men in the first O. R. F. U. game to observe them under fire.

RUGBY NOTES.

David Harding and his Camp Borden intermediates gave the Argos a really fine workout the other day. When one remembers that the two Carr-Harris boys of last year's R.M.C. team are with the brilliant Harding it seems small wonder.

Yes, Smirle Lawson, Jack Maynard and Laddie Cassells are expected to play for Varsity Old Boys in the annual exhibition. If Queen's could only dig out Guy Curtis, Hughie Macdonnell and Buck Crawford or some of the other vets., then everything would be all right.

Coach Panet of the Royal Military College intermediates is rapidly rounding out another championship contender. The cadets are always the best conditioned squad in the sport and their tackling a treat to the fans.—Globe.

Dave Harding looked mighty good to the Argonaut officials yesterday. He is as fast as ever and his punting is better than before.—Globe.

The interprovincial rules state that players must reside in a city which they represent from June of the same year. It is about the only residence rule heard of in rugby football very much.

Coach Jack Newton has selected his teams for the U. of T. battles in O.R.F.U. and intercollegiate. Kirkpatrick, last year with R.M.C., has been picked for the senior O.R.F.U. backfield.

It would not be surprising if the Varsity squadron walked away with the O.R.F.U. title this year. Either poorer material than one would expect or lack of attention because of the other seniors would seem to be all that has hindered them so far.

See you at R.M.C.—Queen's match tomorrow.

Professional football is a money-making proposition, pure and simple. So is amateur football, except that it is not always pure and simple.

NEWS OF THE RESIN SNIFFERS

By a Fan.

Since Johnny Dundee forfeited the featherweight title there has been a frantic hunt by boxing fans in search of a fighter fit to claim the crown that has been worn by George Dixon, Terrible Terry McGovern, Young Corbett, Abe Attell and others. In a contest being held by the Minneapolis Boxing Blade to determine the suitable contenders for the championship the six best boys are given as Sammy Mandell of Rockford, Ill., Stewart McLean of St. Paul, Danny Kramer, Himie Klugman, Sid Terris and Johnny Leonard.

We hear that the former English champion, Joe Beckett, has expressed a desire to climb through the ropes once more. Beckett has always been considered more or less of a joke on this side of the pond, although in his time he beat Billy Wells, Tommy Burns, Frank Moran and others. Most of this contempt for Joe's ability was bred after his crushing defeats by Georges Carpentier.

Which brings to mind the fact that few boxers ever succeed in regaining their former titles. Ketchell, Gans, Matthews, Britton, Attell and Herman were successful. But—glance at the names of those who failed. A few of them are Jim Corbett, Bob Fitzsimmons, Jim Jeffries, Jess Willard, Joe Gans and Willie Ritchie.

Be it noted that only two heavyweights who have held the title since Sullivan's time are marked in any way. The two are Jess Willard and Jim Jeffries, both having tin ears. Corbett, Fitzsimmons, Johnson and Dempsey are absolutely unmarked.

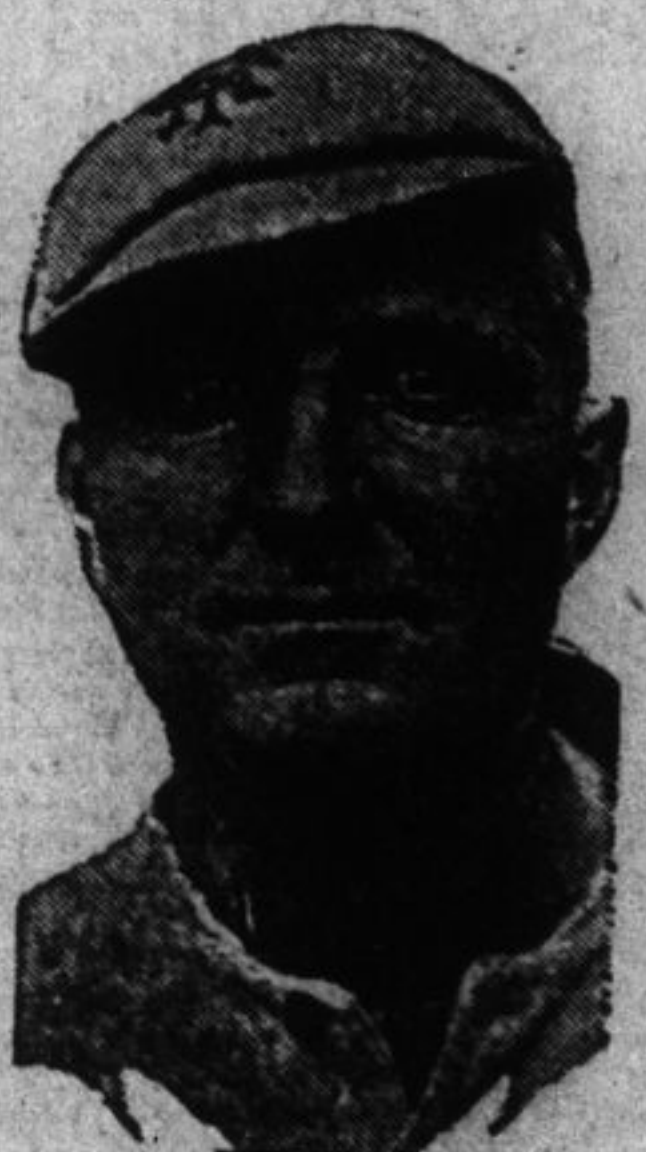

JUST ONE SERIES.

As an evidence of how hopeless the case of the 4th Hussars would have been for the series against C.G.E. without the timely financial assistance of several fans comes this short statement of the actual money handled:

Expenses to Peterboro.....	$142.85
Advertising in Kingston.....	5.00
Tickets at Kingston.....	3.00
Umpires at Kingston.....	54.00
Other expenses.....	3.50
	$209.35

Received at Kingston game.....	31.75
Deficit.....	177.60
	$209.35

Which all goes to show that running an intermediate team through the O.B.A.A. playoffs is no joke at all.

all. The Hussars were kindly assisted on their trip to Peterboro and if they are to play the final will again need assistance.

PIGSKIN PRIMER

Please explain pivoting in relation to the player carrying the ball? Only a limited number of players become adept at pivoting. The ball carrier pivots one leg away from the would-be tackler, throwing the leg next the tackler back and around in the opposite direction. When the player completes the turn he is over-balanced which forces him to plunge forward and away from the grasp of his opponent.

This feature of play calls for much practice. When properly learned it is a great defense against the tackler.

REASONS FOUND WHY JAPAN FAILED IN OLYMPIC GAMES.

Tokio, Sept. 2.—Japanese newspapers express disappointment at the showing of the empire's athletes at the Paris Olympiad. "It was not much to boast of," says the Oasala Mainichi.

The fault is found in part, this newspaper continues, in Japanese houses, customs and food, which all together tend to produce men of slighter physique than is the rule in western countries. "Our people should live, eat, work and rest according to principles which promote health and strength."

Queen's To Win Again.

An optimistic citizen pulls Queen's for the intercollegiate championship. No other college can equal Queen's both for coach and backline. Batstone and Leadley can put it over all other teams for headwork and clever play. Coach Hughes has more new and tricky plays in his bonnet than other coaches could think out in a year. The citizen said the real and alert contest would be when the Queen's boys run up against the Hamilton Tigers. Then there will be some game!

Those who claim that China has no national sport evidently do not classify civil war as an outdoor recreation.

Connie Mack has gone back to his old system of using sandlotters—a system by which he hopes to finish an even better last than in the past.

If the major league races get any more complicated, it may be necessary to call on Abe Attell to straighten the situation out.

Even though he has a new one, Jack Dempsey does not make a habit of going around sticking his nose in other people's affairs.

WOMAN SOUGHT TO ENCOURAGE TEAM BY CURSING POPE. Dublin, Sept. 20.—In Northern Ireland the rigid fine for the use of party expressions is 40 shillings and costs. Cursing the Pope comes under the head of party expressions. At Lurgan a woman charged with
