'FIRE PREVENTION' TALK TO KIWANIAN

The Ontario Fire Marshal, E. P. Heaton, Gives Some Valuable Information.

E. P. Heaton, Ontario fire marshal, was the speaker at the regular noon luncheon of the Kiwanis Club in the Frontenac Hotel on Monday.

The keynote of his very interesting talk was "Fire Prevention" and he showed a zeal for his subject that at once compelled attention and admiration.

The celebrated case of Mrs. O'Leary's cow and the disastrous Chicago fire which resulted in the loss of three hundred lives and $250,000,000 worth of property was brought to mind by the speaker. It had been a great shock to the American continent—yet each year the people of North America were seemingly undisturbed by the fact that $500,000,000 in property and 15,000 lives are lost through fire.

People sit up and take notice of the cost of the war and the destruction wrought by it because it is brought home to them through the income tax and touches their pockets. It thus impresses them. Yet the people of Ontario are yearly paying $15,000,000, and it does not bother them because they are not called upon directly to pay for it, even though they pay it indirectly in their purchase of food, clothing and other necessary articles.

Lamb's satirical essay on the "Origin of Roast Pig"—the tale of the Chinese who accidentally found the roast carcasses of a pig in a fire and kept on burning their homes and pig pens that they might enjoy the delicacy until one more bright than the rest conceived the idea of roasting the pig without destroying the house—is the idea behind the genesis of fire prevention.

The cotton factory owners of New England who banded themselves together for protection against fire started the thing and it has been taken up by large organizations since that but to the general public is not nearly well enough known nor as seriously considered as it should be.

Portland, Ore., had for years the heaviest losses on the continent. Yet through the efforts of a fire chief and his men, who undertook a house-to-house campaign of fire prevention, the losses were reduced from $800,000 and eight to ten lives to less than $200,000 and no lives.

Get Behind Fire Chiefs. Mr. Heaton advised all municipalities to get behind the fire chiefs and back them. The fire chief should be given as much respect and attention, should be vested with as much dignity and responsibility, as the medical health officer for his mission is almost identical, the saving of life and property.

The fire chief is usually asked for no advice until the fire comes and then he is given abuse. If it is a small fire he is abused for using too much water—if a large one he is abused for using not enough water. He is never right, even though most of his critics know not a thing about the subject on which they are talking. The mission of firemen is more to prevent fire than to extinguish it, and departments should be given freer scope along this line.

The vote of thanks was moved by Kiwanians Anglin and McCallum, and received with hearty applause. Major-General Sir Archibald Macdonell was congratulated on his birthday and thanked his fellow-members. He was also one of the lucky prize-winners in the boost of Gene Dennee, hay, feed, coal and automobile dealer. The other winners were: H. C. Nickle, E. B. Sparks, J. M. Campbell, Ernie Smithies put on the boost with his usual "pep."

John McKay was welcomed back to the club and congratulated on his recovery. Dr. John Austin reported very favorably for the progress of the "Mikado." Ald. T. A. Kidd gave a report on the Kiwanis church service to be put on at the Wilton Methodist church next Sunday.

On motion of H. C. Nickle and E. N. Steacy fifty dollars was voted to the 4th Hussars baseball club with best wishes for the finals. Reginald Crawford had Frank Anglin, Hugh Nickle and Ernie Sparks fined for neglecting to put their numbers in the box. The sum of thirty dollars was voted for a worthy cause. The singing was exceptionally good and occasional salutes between members livened up the meeting.

Guests of the day were: E. P. Heaton, Toronto; Fred. O. Smythe, and C. H. Martin, Ottawa; S. G. Sutherland, St. Louis, Mo.; Mr. C. E. Austin (brother of Dr. John Austin), Calcutta, India; Capt. W. Cocksade, Major W. McKean and Ald. E. B. Chown, Kingston.

Are You On The Voters List? Don't miss your chance if you are qualified to vote. Just Wednesday and Thursday afternoon and evening, to make sure of it. Phone 66 for any information. Government control is a total failure. Vote for the O.T.A. and protect the home.

Why some people don't get on is because they are always falling off in application. Harriet Hubbard Ayer powder, Gibson's.

To Receive Specialized Instruction in Child Hygiene Field. As announced by the Whig last week, Miss S. M. Carr-Harris, of the Ontario Provincial Board of Health, has been awarded a Laura Spelman Rockefeller Memorial scholarship that entitles her to a year's study in the United States. She will study in the child hygiene field.

Few Canadian women have had such wide experience in social welfare activities as Miss Carr-Harris. Her work has been in Canada, England, United States, Labrador, Egypt, India, France, West Indies and Cuba. During the war, she was a nursing sister in France and England and was later attached to the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment in Ottawa. Since 1920, she has done organization and demonstration work for the Provincial Board of Health in rural districts in Ontario.

Miss Carr-Harris was born in Ottawa and received her education largely in Kingston and Toronto. She attended Queen's University for two years and took special courses at the University of Toronto. She was selected by the Canadian National Committee for Mental Hygiene for a Laura Spelman Rockefeller Memorial scholarship because of her unusual qualifications for parent training work and because of her particular interest in the mental hygiene of childhood.

Princess Street Methodist League. The League of Princess Street Methodist church accorded Rev. Mr. Raney a hearty welcome on his visit to give them an address last evening on the subject, "The Responsibilities of Young People to the Church." The chairman, Mr. E. Parkhouse, expressed to Mr. Raney the league's appreciation. The recreation period preceded the devotional part of the service, and the scriptural contents, etc., were engaged in with zest. A fine spirit of devoted interest pertains to the league and a promising programme service as well as worship is forthcoming under the president, Earl Bruce.

Frank Roshell, 14, is missing from his luxurious home in New York City. Police found that he had become acquainted with a vagabond called "Hunchback" Reilly and they say, "He's just tired of being bailed. He's gone out to see the world, just as any kid might do." And his mother cries, "My baby, oh my baby." She refuses to believe that he has run away with a vagabond. "My baby an associate of a cheap hunchback? Never!" she exclaims. "These persons are not in his class."
