"FIRE PREVENTION" TALK TO KIWANIS

The Ontario Fire Marshal, E. P. Heaton, Gives Some Valuable Information.

E. P. Heaton, Ontario fire marshal, was the speaker at the regular noon luncheon of the Kiwanis Club in the Frontenac Hotel on Monday.

The keynote of his very interesting talk was "Fire Prevention" and he showed a zeal for his subject that at once compelled attention and admiration.

The celebrated case of Mrs. O'Leary's cow and the disastrous Chicago fire which resulted in the loss of three hundred lives and $250,000,000 worth of property was brought to mind by the speaker.

Lamb's satirical essay on the "Origin of Roast Pig"—the tale of the Chinese who accidentally found the roast carcass of a pig in a fire and kept on burning their homes and pig pens that they might enjoy the delicacy until one more bright than the rest conceived the idea of roasting the pig without destroying the home.

The cotton factory owners of New England who banded themselves together for protection against fire started the thing and it has been taken up by large organizations since that but to the general public is not nearly well enough known nor as seriously considered as it should be.

Portland, Ore., had for years the heaviest losses on the continent. Yet through the efforts of a fire chief and his men, who undertook a house-to-house campaign of fire prevention, the losses were reduced from $800,000 and eight to ten lives to less than $200,000 and no lives.

Get Behind Fire Chiefs. Mr. Heaton advised all municipalities to get behind the fire chiefs and back them. The fire chief should be given as much respect and attention, should be vested with as much dignity and responsibility, as the medical health officer for his mission is almost identical, the saving of life and property.

The fire chief is usually asked for no advice until the fire comes and then he is given abuse. If it is a small fire he is abused for using too much water—if a large one he is abused for using not enough water. He is never right, even though most of his critics know not a thing about the subject on which they are talking.

The mission of firemen is more to prevent fire than to extinguish it, and departments should be given freer scope along this line. The vote of thanks was moved by Kivanians Anglin and McCallum, and received with hearty applause.

Major-General Sir Archibald Macdonell was congratulated on his birthday and thanked his fellow-members. He was also one of the lucky prize-winners in the boost of Gene Dennee, hay, feed, coal and automobile dealer. The other winners were: E. C. Nickle, E. B. Sparks, J. M. Campbell, Ernie Smithies put on the boost with his usual "pop."

John McKay was welcomed back to the club and congratulated on his recovery. Dr. John Austin reported very favorably for the progress of the "Mikado." Ald. T. A. Kidd gave a report on the Kiwanis church service to be put on at the Wilton Methodist church next Sunday.

On motion of H. C. Nickle and B. N. Steacy fifty dollars was voted to the 4th Hussars baseball club with best wishes for the finals. Reginald Crawford had Frank Anglin, Hugh Nickle and Ernie Sparks "busted" for neglecting to put their numbers in the box. The sum of thirty dollars was voted for a worthy cause. The singing was exceptionally good and occasional sallies between members livened up the meeting.

Guests of the day were: E. P. Heaton, Toronto; Fred. O. Smythe, and C. H. Martin, Ottawa; S. G. Sutherland, St. Louis, Mo.; Mr. C. E. Austin (brother of Dr. John Austin), Calcutta, India; Capt. W. Cockade, Major W. McKanus and Ald. E. B. Chown, Kingston.
