He Liked Her color Scheme.
Finian: "What is your favorite color."
Hattie: "My girl's eyes."
—Mrs. Mark Pollock.

Wanted Her to Go Higher.
George (facetiously): "Annabelle sings in A flat."
Gregory: "Why doesn't she hire a hall!"
—Gertrude Marie Heller.

His Opinion.
"It says here in the paper," remarked Mrs. Johnson in the midst of her reading, "that crime cost the people of the United States four billion dollars last year."
"Well, I b'dogged if I b'lieve it was—yaw-w-w!—worth it!" after a considerable pause replied Gap Johnson, of Rumpus Ridge.

An Everyday Affair.
He was trying out his high-speed car and had his best girl beside him. Never a thought did he give to the pedestrians, for his thoughts were all on her.

There was a dangerous curve ahead, but he paid no attention to it.

The only dangerous curve he was watching was beside him on the seat.

He put his arm around it. Then came the crash.

No Further Necessity.
Maxine: "I've given up that expensive brand of perfume I've been using, dear!"
Judith: "So Jack proposed at last, did he?"
—Edith Rose Margoles.

Hall, Hall, The Gang's—
A rather elderly high school teacher was talking to one of her classes about century plants. She asked whether any of the students had ever seen a century plant in bloom. None had.

"Then I've been a great deal more fortunate than all of you," she smiled. "I've seen a century plant bloom twice."

Whereupon the class wit inquired: "Was it the same plant?"
—E. L. Penry.

The Old Order Changed.
"My, my!" said Henpeck, "I just can't cure my wife of dropping her ashes on the floor."

One Way.
Marshall: "The country's coal supply is not inexhaustible and will have to be conserved."
Maxson: "Many of the dealers are looking after that by giving short weight."
—Mrs. W. F. Schumann.

Specifically.
Alice: "Gladys clings to her youth."
Virginia: "What's his name?"
—Isabella H. McHugh.

Hel—p! Hel—p!
Ever tell ya about the egg that challenged the tomato to a race down hill?"
"Of course the egg was beaten!"
"No, the egg won. You see, the tomato was green, and of course it couldn't ketchup."
"Uh Huh!"
"But the tomato said it wasn't a fair race, because he claimed the egg was foul, and it stands to reason a fowl can run faster."
"Yeh. A fowl can run faster than a tomato-can."
"The poor tomato felt rotten just the same."
—J. P. R.

The Truthful Liar.
Ellen (doubtfully): "Am I the only girl you ever loved?"
Ralph (reassuringly): "My dear, you are one in a hundred—need I say more?"

GANANOQUE

Oct. 21.—A very pretty autumn wedding was solemnized at Christ Church last evening when Lenora, younger daughter of Mr. E. B. Jackson, Princess street, became the bride of Floyd Burnie of the Bank of Montreal, Toronto. The bride wore a tailored suit of navy with small black tailored hat and grey squirrel neck-piece. Her bouquet was My of the valley and Opheia roses. They were unattended. The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond bar pin set in platinum. The honeymoon will be spent in Detroit, after which they will take up residence in the Edgewood Apartments, Toronto. Both bride and groom are very well known and popular in Gananoque and vicinity. Miss Jackson has been on the staff of the Bank of Montreal for the past few years, and for the past couple of years has been teller. The groom also was on the same staff for a couple of years, as accountant, and the best wishes of a large circle of friends follow them to their new home.

Ford McCarty, Potsdam, N.Y., was in Gananoque on Saturday. Donald Lalonde has returned from Schenectady, N.Y., after spending the past few weeks there with friends. Miss Rhea Haynes has returned from visiting friends in Ottawa. Miss Violet Amo, Kingston, is visiting her parents, Charles street. Bruce Hall, Ottawa, spent the week here with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson, who were called to Ottawa on account of the serious condition of their son Graham have returned home. Graham is recuperating nicely.

Mrs. James Mullin, Brimston, is in town for the Jackson-Burnie wedding.

There was a very large and enthusiastic gathering at Delaney's theatre, Sunday evening to hear Mrs. Gordon of Kingston and Irwin Hilliard, K.C., of Morrisburg speak in favor of the O.T.A.

Miss Dorothy Brown of the staff of St. Lawrence State Hospital, Ogdensburg, N.Y., spent the week-end here with her parents. Brook street.

Gerald Keyes, Queen's Kingston, spent the week-end with his parents in town.

Busy at Jones' Falls.
Jones' Falls, Oct. 18.—Owing to the nice weather people are taking advantage of it and are digging their potatoes which prove a large crop. A Sly has moved in his new residence, purchased from T. Glover. The people are very glad to know Mrs. A. Gamble is better again. Communion service was held in California on Sunday last. Mr. and Mrs. E. Andrews and family spent Sunday at John McGuire's. Edwin White at A. Gamble's; Mrs. William McKenney and son at P. Kennedy's. Miss Hilda Jordan attended the teachers' convention last week. The hum of the threshing machine is heard in this neighborhood. C. Hutchings and William Hutchings are hauling gravel.

Rum boat blew up off the Atlantic coast and didn't hurt half as many as if it had landed.

Trouble with second-hand information is it usually has been misused.

The fall of something in China is always considered imminent.

CONCERT AT NAPANEE.

Andrew Ford Had A Thumb Almost Severed.
Napanee, Oct. 21.—The Young People's Union of Trinity Methodist church have arranged to give a series of high-class entertainments during the fall and winter months, and are securing talented artists, and are securing talented artists. The first of the series was given in Trinity church hall last night by The Blanchards before a large and appreciative audience. The Blanchards are a clever and versatile couple.

Andrew Ford, South Napanee, who works for Boyle & Son, yesterday was the victim of an accident by which one of his thumbs was nearly severed from the hand. Medical attention was promptly secured.

The funeral services for the late F. F. Miller, C.E., will take place at the Church of St. Mary Magdalene this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

A Unique Contest.
Twenty words or less—and you get $500. That means $25 or more a word. Even the most famous authors can't command that price! But someone in Canada is going to get it!

A Title Writing Contest is now announced in the newspapers. The first prize is $500, the second prize $200 and the third $100. In addition, there are eight consolation prizes of 25 each. A picture is run in Congoleum advertising without a title and the best titles submitted win the money.

The picture tells an interesting story. One can imagine dozens of things that one of the three persons might be saying. There is the young man who has evidently come to call. His raincoat and umbrella are dripping water all over the hall rug. In fact, the older woman in the picture is holding his umbrella without seeming to care where the water runs. The young lady of the house is descending the stairway.

Which one of the people is doing the talking? What is being said? Or can you think up a phrase or sentence that sums up the situation? It is clear as can be that the rug on the floor is waterproof. That gives one lead for a title.

All you have to do to enter this contest with its thousand dollars for prizes is to get an entry blank at the nearest Congoleum dealer's. It might be well to have a short talk with him about the features of this kind of floor-covering so that you will have your selling points in line.

Titles must be submitted between the dates of October 20th and November 3rd. Wide-awake dealers in Congoleum are taking advantage of the interest this title writing contest is sure to arouse and are having special sales during the weeks of October 20th and November 1st.

The title may be written in French or English, in slogan form, as dialogue, or a few words of description. But it must not be longer than twenty words. It may be as much shorter as you can make it.
