MAXSON FOXHALL JUDGE

FEET OF CLAY.

By Willis M. Barnes.
 In grammar or geography
 And in arithmetic
 My little son would come to me
 When anything would stick
 Throughout his grades I helped him out
 With all his problems, till
 Within his mind there was no doubt
 I was a man of skill.

But High School's proved my Waterloo;
 With tear drops in his eyes
 He came and asked me what to do
 With 'x' and with 'y'.
 I'm really sorry for the lad.
 For now he's learned of me
 That algebra has proved his Dad
 An unknown quantity.

Knew The Symptoms.

Helen: "Oh, I think football must be a wonderfully exciting game."
 Irene: "What college team does he play on, dear?"
 —D. W. Hanks.

Looks Bad.

Her Mother: "What makes you so sure that Jack's love is growing cold, my dear?"
 Mrs. Newbride (in tears): "This morning before he left for the office, he forgot to remind me how pretty I was."
 —Mrs. Charles Reichenbaum.

After Seeing a Mystery Play.
 As a mystery play, 'twas hard to beat,
 I readily will agree:
 For how they got three dollars a seat,
 Is a mystery to me.
 —K. J. E.

This Is What Love Does.

It was one of those rare but not altogether extinct times when a man and his wife were holding a love-making conversation reminiscent of the good old days before the war.

As is usual with women when in a tender mood, the deficiencies were forgotten for the moment and she was actually speaking well of him, strange and improbably as it may seem.

"Go on," he remarked teasingly, "if I were to die tomorrow you'd marry again in no time."

She wheeled from the gas range and said in a voice trembling with emotion: "I wouldn't wipe my feet on the best man who ever lived, except you."
 And he went back to his work feeling real happy.
 —Walter M. Brown.

You Can't Please 'Em!

Stanley: "I will do anything for you that you ask."
 Marjorie: "But I want a man who has originality enough to do something without being asked."

Corns Drop Out In Hot Water

It's very easy to take out a sore corn by the "Putnam's" method. Take a special foot bath which is described in the directions. Apply a few drops of Putnam's Corn Extractor, and out comes the corn—roots and all. There is no pain, not even soreness; the thick tissue is softened, and healing "Putnam's" goes to the heart of the corn. Success guaranteed. 25c. at all dealers.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food scours, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestents are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any drug-gist a few ounces of Bismarated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bismarated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

LETTERS To The Editor

Defends Dr. Cappon.
 Odessa, Ont., Oct. 28.—(To the Editor): Your edition of to-night received here has two rebuttal letters to the excellent article of Dr. Cappon. I notice that both are from Presbyterian ministers.

In defence of Dr. Cappon's article I would like to inform them that he is correct, and if these same gentlemen had to hear day by day the unfounded statements of the ministers referred to and then see them taking "the lamb to market" in their cars they would realize that the pulpit—the supreme throne of the minister—must have tumbled into the gutter. If the country places had not been unfounded against the spread of lies, and if they were led to see that thousands of the Moderationists have tasted no more liquor than the drys, etc. (for all in the city know the real arguments), the answer would have been different. The amount for the plebiscite would not have been wasted and we would have a new law that everyone could respect—for what Kingstonian would make us doubt the fact that Mr. Nickle could not make such a law? Vincit omnia veritas.
 —JOHN M. MUNRO.

J. Fitzpatrick Appointed.
 Brockville, Oct. 30.—James Fitzpatrick of the local customs staff has received official notice, from Ottawa of his appointment as head clerk in the Brockville office, made vacant by the resignation of C. C. Lyman.

On Sunday the sudden death occurred in Toronto of John McCormack, father of Mrs. Sidney Spooner, Hastings.

"THE DUMBELLS"

COMPANY IN CITY
 Company Was Originally Organized in France During Days of the War.

"The Dumbells" concert party in Capt. Plunkett's sixth annual revue, "Ace High," which opens a three-day engagement at the Grand Opera House on Thursday evening will be warmly welcomed back to Kingston. Although this concert party has visited Kingston on many occasions since returning from overseas, the members of the company are as popular as ever and they are assured of large houses.

This company, which was originally organized in France, under the patronage of Maj.-Gen. L. J. Lipsett, C.M.G., who was killed by a sniper's bullet near the close of the war, has had a notable record, having played before royalty. Thousands of returned men, who spent the period of the war in France, can well remember while out on rest, visiting the large "Y" huts and seeing this concert party perform.

For the benefit of people who did not have the pleasure of visiting this company in France, the Whig is publishing a copy of the programme used in France, which was saved by a returned man. The programme which was used in 1917, contains the following numbers:

Part I.
 Overture—Orchestra.
 Ragging the rye—Al. Murray and chorus.
 A little black and white—Al. Plunkett.
 Little Miss Melody—Ross Hamilton.
 Conscientious objector—Ted Charters.
 A wandering minstrel—Bill Tennent.
 Some girl has got to darn his socks—Murray.
 Less than the dust—(from Indian love lyrics) Bertram Langley.
 The sport boys—Charters and Plunkett.
 Selection—Orchestra.

Part II.
 Skit—"The Batman"—Charter, Murray and Tennent.
 "Honeymoonland"—Ross Hamilton.
 "Watchman what of the night"—Tennent and Langley.
 "D.S.O. and V.A.D." (with dance)—Murray and Plunkett.
 Charters' trench sermon (Kit Inspection)—Ted Charters.
 "Have a Heart"—Tennent and Hamilton.

"The Drum"—Murray and beauty chorus.
 Finale—"The Kink"—The Dumbells.

Cast.
 A Wandering Minstrel—W. L. Tennent.
 A conscientious objector—E. G. Charters.
 The coon—A. W. Plunkett.
 The baritone—B. Langley.
 Harmony four—E. Belding, W. Ridpath, H. Brayfoot, J. McCormick.
 Little Miss Melody—R. D. Hamilton.

To a Scotch Lassie—A. G. Murray.
 Pianist—Ivor E. Ayre.
 Stage manager—E. G. Charter.
 In charge of dances—A. G. Murray.
 Properties—D. L. Mighie.
 Manager—Capt. M. W. Plunkett.
 Just six years ago, the Dumbells were travelling through France and Belgium, putting on shows and cheering the hearts of soldiers who were doing their best to end the war. When the Canadians captured Mons on November 11th, 1918, it was only the matter of a few days until the "Dumbells" arrived in that city and presented their show. The writer will never forget the afternoon and evening when the Canadian soldiers who were billeted in Mons, were allowed to take the residents of that city, who were allowing them to remain in their homes, to the performance which was presented by the Canadians.

It was a common occurrence for the soldiers to walk ten and fifteen miles for the purpose of seeing the "Dumbells." The Y.M.C.A. huts, where the company performed, were by no means in the safe area. One of the huts was located near Mount St. Eloi, which was always in reach of the German guns. Another hut was at Vimy Ridge. A returned man informed the Whig that one night he walked to Mount St. Eloi for the purpose of seeing this show. The German guns were active and blew up part of the woods very close to the "Y" hut.

After leaving the city of Mons, the company played in Brussels and during their stay in that city King Albert of Belgium and his wife, visited the performance and were loud in their praise of the splendid acting of the Canadians.

Things are getting brighter. Even the leaves are turning.
