SUED FOR $15,000.

But Hamilton Auto Party Was Given Only $1,600.

On Oct. 15th, while a party of Hamilton folk were returning by automobile to their home from Kingston, where they had been visiting, a barrier across the road between Oshawa and Whitby ditched the car and two of the party were severely injured. Mrs. Elizabeth Stinson brought action against Johnston Bros., Limited, of Brantford, contractors, who were working on the road, for $12,000 damages. Her leg was broken above and below the knee. Her daughter, Mrs. Mabel Lalonde, who owned the car and was driving, sued for $1,000 for injury to the car. Marion Lalonde, five-year-old daughter of Mrs. Lalonde, sued for $2,000 damages for a broken ankle.

On the verdict of the jury, who found that the contractors were negligent in not placing a red light on the barrier, and who found that Mrs. Lalonde might have avoided the accident by putting on her brakes when she was dazzled by the searchlights of an approaching car, Justice Kelly have given judgment awarding Mrs. Stinson $1,500, and awarding $100 damages to Marion, the latter sum to be paid into court and to be paid to her when she reaches the age of twenty-one years. The claim of Mrs. Lalonde is dismissed, and she is directed to pay one-half of the cost of the defence.
